SAVED THE HORSES

BOY FOURTEEN YEARS OLD CUT 22 HEAD LOOSE

With Great Difficulty the Other Buildings on the Place Were Saved from the Fire, Which Burned Muller's Barn—Will Rebuild in the Spring—Great Danger Demonstrated of the Proximity of Farm Buildings.

Louis Muller, whose large barn burned a few evenings ago five miles west of Helix, was in town yesterday purchasing a large quantity of goods to replace in part the chattels lost in the fire. Among other things he bought several sets of harness, a shop mill, forks, saddles and wagons.

While Mr. Muller carried $2,500 insurance, it was carried collectively on a large quantity of property, so that he will realize but $400 on the loss, which was not less than $5,000. The details of the cause of the fire are simple. The hired man accidentally struck the lantern with a pitchfork, throwing the burning oil into the hay, and the stiff wind did the rest, although all the men on the place—eight or ten, including Mr. Muller—did all in their power to save the property.

There were 24 head of horses in the barn, and Mr. Muller avers that the rescue of 22 of the animals (but two were lost) must be credited to a 14-year-old son, whose self-possession exceeded that of all the others present. The boy, unaided, cut 22 horses loose and would have tried to cut the two remaining horses loose, but was prevented by his father and others. All were hard at work from the beginning of the fire, but the boy's presence of mind, energy and good judgment were remarkable.

Had not the wind gone down, the Muller residence and all of the granaries and smaller buildings on the place would have burned. The dwelling and machine sheds were smoldering in spite of all the water that could be brought and handled, when the wind suddenly veered.

Mr. Muller will next spring build a $2,000 barn, but it will stand some distance further from the residence than the old barn. It will be of frame, 36x88 feet ground plan, two stories in height and have a full basement. He has four men at work now building temporary buildings, among them a shed for 24 horses.

Mr. Muller says that the fire has taught him two important lessons. The first is the great danger of having farm buildings built too closely together, so when one burns the others are endangered by the proximity. The other is the great danger in accumulations of manure and trash which might be kept veiled away and thus lessen the danger of the fire spreading.

"TAME BILL" NOW.

A Night in the City Jail Made Wild Bill Repentant.

An Indian, uncouth and with a headache, sits in the little city jail today and ponders on the fitness of his name. Wild Bill is the title he has always borne when among his fellows, and even the whites know him by that fighting sobriquet. But yesterday Bill and Frank Parr, another Umatilla, tanked up on the forbidden fluid and this morning found themselves behind the bars of the city prison.

"Me Tame Bill now," replied the sick savage when arraigned before the recorder, but Judge Fitz Gerald was not real certain that the Indian had forgotten all his wild traits, and he gave him three days in which to undergo reformation. Parr will keep him company.

TWO DELIVERY WAGONS.

Standard Grocery System Will Use Its Own Vehicles.

The Standard Grocery company, in order to give its patrons better service and care for its rapidly increasing trade, which has grown wonderfully since moving to the new building, has put on its own delivery system and has ordered through Temple & Wilcox two fine modern style delivery wagons which will be here in a short time.

Pending the arrival of the new wagons arrangements have been made to use some other wagons.

By having its own individual system of delivery the Standard Grocery Co. is enabled to give more prompt service and better serve the interests of its growing patronage.

MINSTREL PERFORMANCE.

Will Be Given by the Eagles November 29, Conducted by Bogert.

Jay Bogert, who has gained no little renown locally as a minstrel man, will direct a performance to be given under the auspices of the Eagles on the night of November 29. Mr. Bogert recently carried through to success a minstrel performance for the degree of Pocahontas, I. O. E. M. Details for the coming show have not yet been perfected. There are a number of talented singers and dancers in the local cadre of the Eagles, who will be pressed into service at the coming entertainment.

HARVEY SMITH JAILED.

Accused of Burlarizing A. J. Creswell's Home.

Harvey Smith is in the county jail, charged with larceny from a dwelling. He was arrested at Arlington and returned to this city last night by Sheriff T. D. Taylor. Smith is accused of entering the home of A. J. Creswell, of this city, and taking a number of articles of wearing apparel.

It is alleged the accused man had on a suit of the stolen clothing when arrested. Several other pieces of the missing clothing were found in an Arlington second hand store. The prisoner declares he secured the clothing from two men whom he met on the Columbia river. The burglary occurred about ten days ago, but the fact was not known by Creswell until a week later.

"PULASKI" RECORD IS BAD.

Palmist Now in Oregon Penitentiary Has Had an Unsavory Career.

The Salem Statesman, in speaking of the attempt made to secure the pardon of "Count" Pulaski, the palmist who duped a number of victims in Pendleton a year ago and who was sent to the penitentiary from Portland for robbery, says:

"Lincoln Working, county attorney for Lewis and Clark county, Mont., writes Governor Chamberlain, giving him in the letter some of the history of Paul A. Tomscheck, alias Count Pulaski, now confined in the Oregon state penitentiary under a three years sentence from Multnomah county for larceny.

"Mr. Working says that he is led to write the letter by a visit from Pulaski's wife, in which she appealed to him to intercede with the governor of Oregon for the purpose of securing a pardon for her husband.

"This the attorney refused to do, stating that he thought Pulaski was where he should be. He says that the count was at one time salesman and window trimmer in a store there and that he had access to every part of the store, and while in this employment he accumulated something from every part of the store. He was arrested there and tried for grand larceny, but the jury acquitted him on the sympathetic act being played. Later the house began a civil action against him and recovered most of the stolen goods.

"It seems that Governor Chamberlain also thought Tomscheck was in the right place, for he refused to pardon him."

GUARDIAN'S REPORT.

Walter T. McDaniel on the Records As a Thrifty Young Man.

"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success," as a famous newspaper advertiser has said, is evidently Walter T. McDaniel's plan to win wealth. Walter is a minor and he resides at Weston. Unique is the report submitted to the county court by his guardian, but it is to the point. The guardian's report is as follows:

"Weston Umatilla county State of Oregon to the county Court of Umatilla County State of Oregon S S In account with Walter T McDaniel a minor Heir I have received money to the amount of six hundred fifty dollars belonging to Walter which he Heired from his Grandfather Griffiths Estate which a mount I have paid out for horse harness wagons & plows at his request So he could go to farming for him self And he has made verry good use of his teams and time and has added several hundred dollars to his capitol up to this time and is still striving for mor."

FIRE COMPANY NOMINATES.

Hose Company No. 4, of the West End, First to Name Candidates for the Coming Election.

Hose company No. 4, of the west end of town, last night held a nominating convention for the purpose of naming candidates for the different offices in the fire department of the city, to be voted for at the regular election on the first Monday in December.

W. R. Withee was nominated for chief, J. T. Brown for first assistant chief, and Ed Stansberry for second assistant chief.

Company nominations were made as follows: Lee D. Drake, foreman; Ed Stansberry, first assistant foreman; Fred Koepfen, second assistant foreman, and Ed C. Annibal, secretary-treasurer.

A committee of three was appointed to wait on the fire committee of the city council to ask that the bell in the west end be raised up above surrounding buildings, so it can be heard further than at present. The bell is surrounded by high dwellings, until it cannot be heard far enough to arouse the people, in case of a fire, it is declared by the boys.

EMBALMERS' EXAMINATION.

Ten Applicants Will Present Themselves November 14.

Dr. C. J. Smith, as a member of the state board of medical examiners, will hold an examination of embalmers in this city November 14. All embalmers in Eastern Oregon who have not previously been examined will appear before Dr. Smith on that date. About 10 will take the examination. It is not necessary that undertakers be licensed in order to practice their profession, but they must pass the examinations in order to ship bodies.

According to the regulations of the National Baggage-men's Association, after July 1, 1905, the members will refuse to accept bodies for shipment except from regularly licensed embalmers.

COMING UP FAST.

Ground in Fine Condition on the Reservation.

"Wheat that is being seeded on the reservation, seems to come up almost as fast as it is sown, so excellent is the condition of the ground," said Arthur L. Knight, manager of the Balfour Guthrie Warehouse Company, in this city, to the East Oregonian today.

Mr. Knight has just returned from a tour of the wheat belt, and finds seeding in progress everywhere. In the vicinity of Helix and Fulton, the ground is very dry, very little of the late rains having reached those districts, but farmers feel that the wheat will not sprout until a rain comes and are seeding as rapidly as possible. West of the city, seeding is also in progress and the ground is in better condition. On the reservation the ground is in the most perfect condition for seeding, and farmers are taking advantage of the situation to start the work. Reservation wheat is coming up evenly and presents a beautiful appearance now.

Mr. Knight finds that the acreage of fall wheat to be seeded this year will be about the same as last year.

Wiedemanns to Return.

The Wiedemann company, which has made such a success in the west for the past three years, will return to the Fraser theater for five nights and a Saturday matinee, commencing Wednesday, November 9, giving a change of bill each night. Among the plays to be produced here are the great sensational Russian drama, "Michael Strogoff," "The Silver King," a four-act comedy drama of the west, "Hazel Kirke," "Tennessee's Partner," "The Old Lime Kiln," and "My Uncle From New York," the side-splitting farce-comedy which made such a hit when the company produced it here on their last engagement. This is one of the strongest popular priced attractions playing the west, carrying a company of 25 people, with a band and orchestra.
