WOMEN ARE SCARCE.

Point Raised by a Man Who Has Traveled All Over the West, That There Are Fewer Women in Proportion to Men in Pendleton Than in Any Western City—Has Not Been Here Long, and the Discrepancy Was Very Noticeable.

Are there fewer females in Pendleton in proportion to the population than in other cities of the Pacific coast? This question was asked this morning by a newcomer, who has traveled extensively in the West. To the large majority of residents of this city, perhaps, the thought has never been raised.

The one who asked the question was standing on the main thoroughfare of the town at an hour when persons were hurrying to their work. There were dozens of men in sight and scores passed, yet at no time were there more than six women in sight at any one time.

"In Portland, in the Sound cities, or in San Francisco," said the observing man, "there are generally as many women and girls in sight on the streets as men and boys. The offices, the factories and the stores employ almost as many females as males, and in the morning, at the lunch hour and early in the evening the crowds are made up with as many women as men. In the afternoons, as a rule, there are generally more women in sight than men, but not so in Pendleton. It may be that the persons on the streets are farmers come to town to trade while their wives remain at home, and it may be that Pendleton women are given more to remaining indoors than coming up town.

"I have been here less than a month, and the absence of women was one of the first things I noticed. Perhaps were I to remain here throughout the year I would find that I am mistaken."

BROOKLYN OBJECTS.

Many Tunnel Franchises for Jersey City Promoters, to the Neglect of the Island City's Interests—Work on the Williamsburg Bridge Languishes, While the Brooklyn Tunnel is Snubbed.

Brooklyn is not at all pleased with the alacrity with which franchises have been granted to the companies that are building trolley tunnels under the Hudson river. The fear is expressed that Brooklyn will suffer from the transit facilities that are being provided so generously between Manhattan and the North Jersey towns.

The Tammany administration is charged with discriminating against Brooklyn, and hints that "undue influence" is being exercised by the Jersey people. Brooklyn wants to know if there is a conspiracy to hold up the City of Homes for the benefit of the state of New Jersey and its railroads. It is charged that while everything the promoters of the tunnels to Jersey have asked has been granted, the Tammany city authorities have failed to make provisions for proper connections at both the Manhattan and Brooklyn terminals of the Williamsburg bridge. Although both piers of the new Manhattan bridge have been completed for more than a year, not a blow has been struck towards its completion. The Brooklyn pier has been completed for more than two years and land acquired for an approach, yet not a stone has been turned toward providing an approach. The plans for a second Brooklyn tunnel, which might be used in connection with the trolley or elevated roads, have been abandoned. The Brooklyn tunnel now building, originally intended to be four tracks, was changed so as to provide for two tracks only, this under the Van Wyck administration.

Tammany, it is charged, is thus punishing Brooklyn for opposing the wigwam politically, while the Jersey traction interests and people in the trunk railroad, who are behind the North river tunnel projects, are granted favors galore.

VATICAN TREASURES FOR FAIR.

Valuable Acquisition of Papal Relics Secured for Lewis and Clark Centennial.

Portland, Jan. 4.—The fine arts exhibit at the Lewis and Clark centennial will receive an almost priceless addition in the shape of a collection of Vatican treasures from Rome. The cardinal secretary of state has given permission to Rev. J. T. McNally, special commissioner to Rome, to transfer the sacred treasures, which were exhibited at St. Louis and supplement the collection by additions imported from Rome. The exhibit embraces manuscripts, paintings and mosaics, Byzantine work from the Apse of the Basilica of St. John Lateran, and some objects of art never before shown.

At least four very valuable pieces of mosaic may come, which will be highly prized by art lovers visiting the exposition. These are copies of Raphael's Madonna Della Seggiola, in mosaic; of the Madonna of Barbiolo, both originals in the Pitti palace at Florence, Italy; of the Arch of Titus; and a tavola di lavoro, or a small table showing the method of working the mosaics. Seven pieces of Byzantine work from celebrated architecture are also expected, as well as a very fine death mask and hand of Pope Leo XIII.

HELIX HAPPENINGS

THE SPECIAL SCHOOL MEETING VOTED A TAX.

Helix, Jan. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. John King of Riverville, Wash., returned home after spending the holidays with their children at this place. On Christmas day a family dinner was given by Mrs. Frank Cargill in their honor, and on New Years Mrs. Ira Julian entertained the King family.

At a special school meeting held last Monday a seven mill tax was levied here.

Mr. William Knight and bride, who was formerly Miss Stella White-man of this place, but more recently of Olympia, Wash., have returned from their wedding trip and are nicely domiciled at their home on the Knight ranch west of town.

ADDITION TO ZOO.

Grizzly Mother Gives Birth to a Monster Cub.

Born, to the wife of Monarch, the park grizzly, a cub. Mother and child are doing well and the father is biting off chunks of the cage in his glee, says the San Francisco Call. The little stranger evidently pleases both parents, for Mr. and Mrs. Monarch were holding a small admiration society near him last night.

They held a late session, discussing plans for the youngster's future. Outsiders were not wanted, as park attaches discovered when they tried to enter the cage with little comforts for yesterday's arrival. Pa Monarch evidently objects to his offspring being fed on condensed milk or any patent preparations.

A cub born in the cage last year died a few days after its birth. That one, however, was a sickly looking specimen, while the more recent arrival is a husky miniature of its parent. Perhaps that is why the parent is so pleased over the event.

IMPORTANCE OF THE FOREST.

Lumber Interests Have Floor at First Session.

Washington, Jan. 4.—There was a largely increased attendance at today's session of the American Forest Congress. The subject of consideration at the morning session was the lumber industry in its relation to the forests. Prominent lumbermen, editors of lumber trade journals, representatives of woodworking industries and those having extensive practical experience in forestry presented papers. The discussions were confined to questions of practical and economical importance.

This afternoon the congress discussed the importance of public forest lands to mining. The use of the forests in mining and the application and influence of present land laws were among the topics considered.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Coming.

The Watsonville, Cal., Register has the following to say of Warren & Day's Uncle Tom's Cabin which comes to the Frazer Monday, January 9: "Uncle Tom again, and better than ever. At any rate that seemed the sentiment of the crowd that poured out of the theater late last night at the close of another performance of that sterling drama by Warren & Day's big New York company. Mrs. Harriett Beecher Stowe has bequeathed to the American people a legacy of literary art whose popularity time has only served to increase, and it can be truthfully said that in following out the true spirit of the work, Messrs. Warren & Day have made an effort that is deserving of the best success."

"For Mother's Sake."

Marie Heath, who will be seen in a new story of New England life, "For Mother's Sake," is a wee bit of a mite, only weighing about 100 pounds. In her present character of Jo Pemberton she shows new versatility, that surpasses her most ardent admirers, who never gave her credit for the amount of pathos in her voice. The company is a particularly strong one and is scheduled to appear at the Frazer January 11.

The Topeka Commercial Club, of Dighton, Kan., recently adopted resolutions congratulating the people of Portland on the Lewis and Clark centennial, and favoring participation on a large scale by the people of Kansas.
