BEAUTIFUL NEW HOME,

Sullivan & Bond Move Into the New Schmidt Building-Larger Room for Increased Stock.

Sullivan & Bond are now located in their new quarters in the new Schmidt block where they are ready for business.

The new room is large and convenient, having all the modern improve-ments. It will be steam heated and lighted by incandescents around the entire room with a large arc in the center. During the day the store is well lighted and siry, prism lights being used to distribute light to all parts of the store.

In the new home Sullivan & Bond are better able to display their stock of clothing and shoes and furnishings goods and will also have space for the large stock of spring goods which has commenced to arrive.

The rapidity with which the moving was done is in keeping with the progressive policy of the store. Saturday the store was transacting business in the Matlock-Brownfield build-ing until closing time and Monday morning found them selling goods in the new Schmidt building with the store in good order.

The great tentacles, which are lined with double rows of suckers, are larger than a man's arm at the biceps, and doubt-less had great strength, says the Ore-gon Daily Journal.

Mr. Guistin, who is familiar with the habits and records of the octopus, says that this specimen is undoubtedly the largest ever captured in the Pacific Northwest. It was taken near Everett, Wash., by four fishermen, who had it. It became entangled in their seine, and when brought to the surface, began to use its tentacles, and striving hard to draw the men from their boat. By all of them working together, and be-cause the monster was befouled by the seine, it was finally landed in the boat and dispatched. The conflict was sickening to all four, as the vile odors and clammy, filthy touch of the devilfish were almost intolerable. Mr. Guistin has sold the thing to a California man, who is going to have it preserved and exhibit it in museums. When its capture became known, there was some bidding for the body, as it is generally conceded to be the largest taken on the north
