SWAYNE'S DEFENSE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Judge Swayne's counsel declared the acceptance of private car on the Jackson Key West railway was without authority to the company, and accepted as a courtesy. He lived in the judicial district because to secure a suitable residence. The imprisonment of E. L. was not due to malice, but to the highest sense of justice and duty. House managers are given until February 4 to file a replication or pleading. All pleadings to February 9, and the trial to February 10.

INDEX OF THE PRESS.

Newspaper Publication Revoked in San Francisco. For three years' suspension, the Index of the Press, a monthly magazine upon the daily newspaper, was under rather original cover and most entertaining contents. It was to bear the same relation to the Review of Reviews and the magazine. In this respect it is unique among the periodicals of the time, and is cleverly and ably devised. The immense amount of the principal newspaper of the world and selecting the most absorbing material is done with a skill which is much training and no little grasp. Editor of the publication, Arthur Street, is its original founder, and came back to it after a brilliant career which he occupied the high position of managing editor of Collier's and afterward was the first chief of the Associated Syndicates. The sponsors are a group of Western publishers and means and enterprise, who under the name of the California syndicate.

ALASKAN BUSINESS INCREASE.

Receipts at Customs Offices Show Growing Trade.

D. H. Jarvis, collector of customs of Alaska, has completed his report of the shipping business of that territory during the past year, says the Seattle Star. The report shows an increase in domestic products received of $2,052,792, and an increase of foreign imports of $395,797, a total of $2,448,589, or an increase in total receipts over last year of more than 29 per cent.

Fairbanks Shows Imports of $318,722.

"Fairbanks shows imports of $318,722," says Mr. Jarvis, "which is evidently misleading, as a great portion of the imports of St. Michael are eventually sent to Fairbanks. The latter place received large shipments of supplies from Dawson, which amount to foreign shipments. Close to $700,000 was received in Fairbanks from this source.

The principal town in Southeastern Alaska shows a decided increase.

and the small places a decrease, indicating a more settled state of business and that the towns are becoming the depots of supplies for the outlying country."

James Withrow and Irving King, both of Adams, are in town today. For some time past the former has been renting the latter's wheat farm near Adams, but in a short time will leave for Colfax, where he will farm 900 acres recently purchased by Louis Anderson, of this city.

FIVE MILD CASES OF SCARLET FEVER

An epidemic of scarlet fever has broken out in Pendleton and up to this afternoon five cases have so far been reported. While the most of these cases are of a mild form, considerable uneasiness has been aroused and every precaution is being taken to prevent a spread of the malady. All the cases are under strict quarantine. The following are the cases so far reported: V. Stroble's boy, 725 Johnson street. Mild case. S. C. Wilson's girl, West Alta street. Severe case. Thomas Crowner's girl, south end of town. Mild case. Mrs. Linn Sturgis' boy, Water street. Mild case. Mabel Bentley, 408 Jefferson street. Fully developed case. The first case to be reported was that of the Crowner girl on January 29. One case was reported yesterday and the remainder today. Dr. D. J. McFaul is in attendance upon all the cases except that of Mabel Bentley. On being seen this afternoon he said: "The disease seems to be breaking out quite generally all over town. While the cases are all well defined scarlet fever cases, only one that I am attending is very seriously ill. This one is the Wilson girl. The rest of them are of a rather mild form." Dr. Smith and Dick have been in attendance upon Mabel Bentley, whose case also seems to be rather serious.

TO STEAL STATE LANDS.

Plot Thought to Have Been Discovered in Salem in Which Puter Was Interested.

Salem, Feb. 4.—What is thought to have been a bold attempt to steal state lands in Klamath county, was discovered by Clark Brown, of the state land office yesterday evening. W. C. Randle, who applied for state lands in Klamath county, confessed that he had been hired by S. A. D. Puter to file on the land, and later implicated eight others in a confession before Governor Chamberlain. Puter claims the transaction was regular as the entrymen were to retain part of the land. An investigation has been ordered.

Two Idaho Men Asphyxiated.

Portland, Feb. 4.—Walter W. Riggs and Albert Overman, of Welsler, blew out the gas in a lodging house last night and were found dead in their beds this morning. The accident is supposed to have happened through the ignorance of the young men of the gas fixtures. Riggs is the son of Henry Riggs, an old pioneer of Baker county.

TWO KILLED, TWENTY HURT

BOILER EXPLODES AND ENGINE TOPPLES OVER.

Train From Opposite Direction Strikes the Wreck and Eight Pullman Cars Are Derailed—Trammen Only Are Killed—Accident Occurs on the New York Central, a Short Distance West of Utica, N. Y., in the Middle of the Night.

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Two were killed and a score seriously injured in a wreck on the New York Central at 2 this morning, three miles west of this city.

The boiler of the engine of the west-bound passenger from Boston to New York exploded. The engine toppled over on the east-bound truck just as a Buffalo special was approaching from the west at a high speed. The train of eight Pullman cars was derailed, rolling over a slight embankment and all the passengers were hurled from their berths. Dead: John Brenne, fireman; John Allen, engineer of the west-bound. The injured passengers were removed to this city.

BREAKERS TO BE REBUILT.

Famous Coast Resort to Be Reconstructed on Larger Scale.

The new Breakers hotel, now under construction at Long Beach, will have nearly double the floor space of the old hotel that burned, says the Oregon Daily Journal. The new structure is four stories, fronting 112 feet on the ocean, with two wings back, each 80 feet long and 30 feet wide. The hotel is constructed of elastic pulp plaster, and regarded as nearly fireproof.

Miss Thompson of Salem.

Last evening School Clerk John Halley, Jr., received a telegram from Senator C. J. Smith, stating that he had secured Miss Marie Thompson of Salem, to teach the grade in the Pendleton school from which Miss White resigned. However, the new teacher will be unable to enter upon her duties until the 15th of this month, and it will be necessary for the school board to secure someone to teach her grade during the coming week.

WESTON NORMAL IS VERY SECURE

President French Brings That Assurance From the Legislature.

ALL EASTERN OREGON IS UNITED IN ITS SUPPORT.

Little Doubt But That the Drain Normal Will Be Abandoned—Last Year the Drain School Graduated Two and Cost $25,000—Oregon is Very Laggard in the Support of Her Normal Colleges, Compared With California and Washington—$50,000 for Weston.

Last evening President French of the Weston Normal school, returned from Salem, where he has been for several days past, and stopped in the city over night. He was seen at the rooms of the Commercial Association in the evening, and asked as to the probable outcome of the normal school legislation.

"To attempt to say just what is going to be done," said he, "would be prophecy. However, it is now practically certain that no action will be taken against any of the schools except the one at Drain, and it is also almost certain that the one there will be abolished. I understand that a bill will be presented in the house tomorrow providing for the discontinuance of the Drain school."

According to President French, a very interesting struggle was waged for several days in the legislature between the friends and forces of the various normal schools. The presidents of all four schools were there, and their work was mainly with the joint committee of ways and means composed of 10 members. One of the strongest arguments used on the side of the schools was the comparison of the expenses and work of the normal schools of Washington and California to those of Oregon. The facts that were presented in this connection were very telling, for they showed Oregon far in the rear as far as legislative aid is concerned. Last year $210,000 was given the Bellingham school alone by the Washington institutions. In the face of these facts the claim that too much money was being expended on the state normal schools had but little weight.

The Eastern Oregon members of the legislature stand strongly against any legislation antagonistic to the Weston school, and those from Southern Oregon are equally zealous for the one at Ashland. This, together with the fact that both institutions are doing good work, will probably insure their future safety. However, the school at Drain is neither a Southern Oregon nor a Valley school, and consequently has but little backing. Also the fact that last year it had but two graduates but an expense of $25,000, worked greatly against it. President French is of the opinion that Weston will be given all that has been asked in the way of an appropriation, which is $25,000 for maintenance, and an equal amount for the erection of a new dormitory.

NO MONUMENT FOR GALE.

One of Oregon's Pioneers Sleeps in Eagle Valley.

It has been decided, after consultation with the State Historical society, to drop until after the fair a movement inaugurated to procure an appropriation from the legislature for a monument to Joseph Gale, whose grave is in Eagle Valley, this county. Until quite recently it was generally thought that Joseph Gale was the first provisional governor of Oregon. Investigation has disproven this claim, although in a sense Mr. Gale was one of the first governors of the state, he was one of the executive committee of three chosen at a meeting of settlers held at Champeog, May 2, 1843, to govern the state. The other two members were Alanson Beers and David Hill. Joseph Gale was accorded the title of governor by his friends and neighbors.

Rebellion in Argentina.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 4.—Reports are received this morning that insurrection has broken out in the interior. Military steps are being taken at once to prevent its spread. Later.—The insurgents attacked several police posts and arsenals, but were repulsed everywhere. It is now reported that two regiments of regular infantry have mutinied and are marching on the capital. The republic has been placed under martial law for 30 days.
