O. R. & N. OFFICIALS HERE.

Two Private Cars in Pendleton This Morning for the Washington Division.

Private car No. 01, passed through this morning over the Spokane branch of the O. R. & N., the following officials being in the party: P. C. Stohr, assistant traveling director, of Chicago, General Freight Agent R. B. Miller, of Portland; Assistant Superintendent D. W. Campbell, of Starbuck; Robert Burns, general agent at Walla Walla, and C. F. Overbaugh, traveling freight and passenger agent, Portland.

Private car No. 02 remained over in this city today, and will carry members of the party back to Portland, after the tour of the Washington branch.

The officials are making a tour of inspection of the system, before the spring shipments of stock, wool and other products begin, and hope to meet as many of the business men and shippers as possible in their visit. The O. R. & N. system expects one of the heaviest movements of freight and passengers this year, ever made over any Pacific coast road, and everything is being made ready for the business.

STATE EVANGELISTS COMING.

The Revs. Barber at the Congregational Church.

J. M. Barber and wife, of Forest Grove, are coming to lend their services at the Congregational meetings, which will be continued indefinitely, as the interest and attendance have been increasing rapidly. The Barbers have been doing general evangelistic work, both singing and preaching, throughout the state, and come here in the stead of Rev. Clapp, who was announced some time ago. They are accomplished musicians and beautiful singers. Mrs. Barber is the only ordained minister of the Congregational church in Oregon.

The Barbers are old friends in the East of Rev. Egerton, who vouches for their capabilities and pleasing personality.

LONG TRIP FOR AN INSPECTOR.

F. H. Parr Will Travel Four Hundred Miles in Interior.

Frank H. Parr, United States postal inspector for the Spokane division, left yesterday on a tour of inspection of the interior counties.

From here he goes to Baker City and Ontario. From the latter place to Vale and Burns by stage. His course is then through the John Day valley, where he visits the towns of Canyon City, John Day, Dayville, Mitchell and Spray. From thence

"TWO LITTLE WAIFS."

Some Good Acting and Carries Excellent Scenery.

The presentation of "Two Little Waifs" at the Fraser theater Saturday and Sunday nights, drew good audiences, and was very favorably received. The two little children were the stars of the company, and their acting was cute, fresh and natural. Especially was this true of their playing in the first two acts. Later on the play became heavier and mirth gave way to pathos.

The scenery carried by the "Two Little Waifs" company was better than is usually brought here by such companies. Several of the scenes were very realistic. Among these were one of a moonrise and a scene showing the snow falling in a street.

Congregational Church.

Our meetings are growing in power and interest, and we will have with us for about two weeks, beginning Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Barber, of Forest Grove, to assist in the revival work. That will mean four singing evangelists at work together in one meeting. The meetings will continue for some time yet, and many are seeking the way to Christ. The public is cordially invited to these meetings. Every evening at 7:30 a warm church, good singing and plain preaching. T. R. E.

Remodeling Plans.

Plans for connecting the second floor of the Masonic building with the Brownfield-Matlock building are being worked out by Architect Howard. To connect M. A. Rader's present salesroom with the Brownfield-Matlock building will require the building of a stairway in the rear. Also plans are being drawn for the brick workshop.

Join Carpenters' Union.

At the last meeting of the Carpenters' Union, William Burch and Fred Cheshire, both of Kallepell, Idaho, were admitted by card. Frank Butler also transferred his membership from Walla Walla to this place.

HAILEY IS HOPEFUL WERE 50 TEACHERS

ALMOST CERTAIN OF AN IRRIGATION LAW.

The Cole Bill Came Very Near Being Hung Up for All Time in the Senate Committee—Owners of Southern Oregon Water Rights Have Lobbied Against the Bill—There is Danger in Lukewarmness by Some Friendly Members.

T. G. Hailey, secretary of the state irrigation commission, who has conducted the fight for the Cole Irrigation bill, before the legislative committee, returned home this morning feeling almost certain that the bill will be reported to the legislature, and voted upon, perhaps today.

The fight to get the bill out of the hands of the senate committee on irrigation, has been a bitter one, and Mr. Hailey feels that the friends of the measure have made a successful struggle. The house committee on irrigation has been favorable to the bill, with the exception of Sitz, of Harney county, who objected to that feature of the bill which provided for the examination of private works by the state engineer, and also to that feature which provided for the determination of present private rights. His objections have been answered, and it is said that he is now in favor of the bill.

The strongest objection to the bill has come from Southern Oregon, where large concerns own all the water that would be available for irrigation purposes, and therefore object to any law which would interfere with their large private rights, no matter how well calculated the law may be to distributing water to actual settlers, nor how greatly it would conduce to the settlement of the idle lands of the state.

One thing that is needed now more than any other aid to the bill, in Mr. Hailey's opinion, is a frank, fearless, outspoken support from every member from the arid counties. The people of the state look to those members for support for the measure, and while there is some unflinching support among those members, there is also a lukewarm feeling among several delegations which should give place to hearty, outspoken support.

Mr. Hailey has been at Salem for a week, arguing for this bill, explaining its details to inquiring members, and brushing away frivolous objections interposed by representatives of private companies which are on the ground knocking against it. He has found most of the members willing to listen to the advice of the reclamation department, in saying that Oregon must have a more modern law, before she can expect government irrigation. The matter will come to a final test today, or tomorrow.

INTEREST STEADILY GROWING.

The revival meetings at the First Christian church are continuing with great interest and splendid success—65 added thus far, 16 yesterday.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Dorris delivered his famous lecture, "Man Before Man; Man Before God." Those who heard him pronounced the lecture one of the best ever heard in Pendleton. A splendid audience heard the great sermon last night on "What Does It Mean?"

The meetings will continue through this week, every evening at 7:30. Subject tonight, "God's Power Shown Through Simple Instrumentalities." The public cordially invited to attend. N. H. B.

Views of the Lewis and Clark Fair.

The O. R. & N. company has just sent out a beautiful print, giving a view of the entire grounds and buildings of the Lewis and Clark fair, in colors. The picture is valuable as a work of art, from a printer's standpoint, and gives the exact situation of the various buildings and features of the fair. It is a mark of usual enterprise on part of the company and will be highly appreciated by its friends.

Engines Sent to Union Pacific.

Since the rush of freight over, the O. R. & N. has somewhat subsided since the holidays, five Union Pacific engines which were borrowed for the La Grande division, have been sent back to that system. The O. R. & N. is now using about 25 engines out of La Grande, double the number in use two years ago. Within the past year about 10 new compounds have been added to the service.

To Bridge the Snake.

Plans are being enacted whereby the successful spanning of the Snake with a wagon bridge is contemplated. In fact considerable money is now held in readiness for subscription. The expert who viewed the site informs us that the estimated cost of the structure will be about $16,000. The location of the bridge will be at the point now occupied by the Emission ferry.—Nysma Progress.

Residence Contract Let.

Saturday evening the bids for building Henry Seales' house were opened in the office of Architect F. A. Swingle. The contract was awarded to the firm of Yates & Elstrom. Separate bids were made for various classes of work, and the total cost will be about $2500.

In Business at Condon.

Frank Robinson has returned from Condon, where he has made arrangements to open a billiard room and amusement parlors. He speaks highly of Condon as a business town, and in a short time will move his family there.

INSTITUTE LARGELY ATTENDED AT WESTON.

An Interesting Program Was Carried Out Ably and With Spirit—Papers and Discussions by Some of the Ablest Teachers in the Inland Empire—Exhibit Committee Concludes That All Material Should Be on Hand by April 1.

The local teachers' institute, held at Weston, was attended by about 50 teachers from the schools of Weston, Athena, Adams and tributary districts. Also, a number of educators were present from Pendleton and Milton, having gone to Weston for the purpose of attending the meeting of the exhibit committee. The institute was a very successful one, for which considerable credit is given Superintendent Welles, who arranged the program.

City Superintendent E. B. Conklin, of Pendleton, spoke of the work before the county exhibit committee, and urged all teachers of the county to give their assistance to the work of preparing the collection.

During the program musical selections were rendered by a male chorus composed of students of the normal school, a vocal duet by Messrs. Conklin and Eyre, a piano solo by Miss Stevens, and a vocal solo by Miss Proctor.

Exhibit Committee Meets.

At the meeting of the county school exhibit committee, arrangements were made for preparing an exhibit of the work of the Umatilla county schools for the Lewis and Clark fair. The following members of the committee were present: F. K. Welles, E. B. Conklin, G. W. Eyre, E. H. Anderson, W. H. Bleakney, L. W. Keeler, D. L. Gubser, T. C. Salt, Louis C. Perry, George Marquis and Kyle McDonald. Several of the above number were there in lieu of others who had been appointed, but could not attend.

It was decided to have the entire collection for the exhibit sent in to the county superintendent by April 1. A special committee will then be selected to collect and properly classify the exhibit. At the meeting Saturday 12,000 sheets of exhibit paper were given out. This paper is supplied by the fair management, and will be used for displaying the greater part of the school exhibit.

J. M. CHURCH DEAD.

Pioneer Banker of La Grande Died of Injuries Received by Falling Under a Train.

J. M. Church, the pioneer banker of La Grande, died in St. Vincent's hospital at Portland, Saturday night, from injuries received the day before, while attempting to board a train for Salem. He slipped and fell on the ends of the ties, breaking his jaw bone and otherwise injuring him.

He was a prominent republican and was a man of the highest integrity and honor, and was a leader in business, charity and politics in Union county. He was a Knight Templar and stood high in all the Masonic circles. Pendleton Commandery held a meeting this afternoon and decided to attend the funeral, which will be held at La Grande tomorrow afternoon, with a large representation.

Mr. Church, in company with Captain William Martin and E. D. Stillman, father of A. D. and H. J. Stillman, of this city, came from California together in 1861, and located at the new mining camp of Granite. Mr. Stillman is the only one of the trio now living. He resides in Wells-ville, N. Y.
