SOCIETY EVENTS

Valentine Party.

The hospitality of the Brock home has long been established, and this season's entertainments have only enhanced the former reputation. The last of a series of parties given this season was tendered the young people on St. Valentine's evening, when progressive hearts was played, and the prizes were awarded to Miss Stott and Miss Marguerite Leasure, among the ladies, for the least number of hearts, and to Mr. Mark Moorhouse and Richard Mayberry, among the gentlemen. After the game, refreshments were served. The guests were: Misses Jessie Hartman, Bertha Matlock, Bessie Switzer, Stella Alexander, Neva Lane, Ethel Johnson, Eva Froome, Ida Thompson, Effie Jean Frazier, Harriet Thompson, Sadie Baum, Edna Thompson, Bertha Alexander, Guy Campbell, Freda Roesch, Mamie Stott, Marguerite Leasure, of Portland, and Miss Fay Bartholomew, of Heppner; Messrs. John Lambrith, Harry Thompson, George Eyre, Roy Ritter, E. P. Dodd, Fred Schmeer, Fred Lampkin, Dan Smythe, Richard Mayberry, Charles Sampson, Mark Moorhouse, Frank Mitchell, William Keller, Charley Myers, Harry Messenger, Sol Baum, Win Stewart and Ben Burroughs.

Anniversary Party.

One of the most pleasant affairs given this winter, of a social nature, was the party on Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clopton, when they celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary by inviting about 40 of their friends to spend the evening at cards. The spacious rooms were attractively decorated with potted plants, red carnations and ferns, making an attractive setting for the many beautiful evening gowns worn by the guests. A spirited contest of the game "500," was indulged in until after 11 o'clock. Mrs. Bertha Guernsey and George Hartman, Jr., were the victors of the evening and the recipients of very handsome prizes. Delightful refreshments were served, after which dancing was indulged in until the "wee sma" hours, when the guests departed, wishing that all wedding anniversaries could be spent in such a delightful manner.

The invited guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Leon Cohen, George Hartman, Sr., C. E. Roosevelt, John Vert, W. E. Brock, Thomas Warner, Dixon Jones, E. A. Vaughan, J. H. Robinson, W. J. Furnish, W. L. Thompson, J. R. Dickson, E. P. Marshall, T. G. Halley, George Hartman, Jr., Mrs. Bertha Guernsey, Miss Effie Jean Frazier and Miss Neva Lane; Messrs. E. H. Clarke, Fred Waite and Mark Moorhouse.

Handkerchief Shower.

St. Valentine's day was celebrated in many ways by various parties and clubs, but none more fittingly than the large party and handkerchief shower tendered Miss Alexander by Mrs. Max Baer at her home Tuesday afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated with red hearts of various sizes, which adorned the walls and hung pendant from the arches. Twelve of the bride-elect's friends were invited to play "500," and prizes that were in keeping with the day were won by Miss Harriet Thompson for the highest score, and Miss Alexander for the lowest. At the table where dainty refreshments were served, a novel arrangement was placed above the seat of honor, which was occupied by Miss Alexander, in the shape of a basket made of three hearts. In this were placed the handkerchiefs brought by the guests. When the ribbon was drawn from the lower part of the hearts it allowed the dainty kerchiefs to shower in profusion upon the bride-elect. The invited guests were as follows: Misses Ida and Harriet Thompson, Ethel Johnson, Bertha Alexander, Sadie Baum, Bessie Switzer, Miss Roberts, Mesdames Lee Held, George Hartman, Jr., Harry Rees, W. L. Thompson. Mrs. Baer was assisted in the entertainment of her guests by Mrs. J. H. Robinson.

In Honor of Miss Bickers.

Miss Hazel Bickers was the honored guest at a "500" party and miscellaneous shower, given Friday afternoon by Miss Nellie McMullen and Mrs. Dean Tatum, at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Lee Teutsch, on West Court street. The first prize was won by Miss Emma Sawtelle and the second prize by Miss Gay Campbell. Miss Bickers was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents. The guests present were, Misses Jessie Hartman, Edna Thompson, Bertha Alexander, Rena Ferguson, Ethel Hayes, Minnie Jones, Edna Crawford, Bessie and Gay Campbell, Ethel Johnson, Sadie Parkes and Miss Campbell, Mesdames Lawrence Frazier, Fred Earl and W. H. Harrison.

Dinner Party.

Judge Ellis and wife entertained a number of friends at dinner last Sunday evening, in honor of Mrs. E. R. Swinburne and daughter, Miss Fay Bartholomew, of Heppner, who are their guests. Those present besides the members of the family, were, Misses Stella Alexander, Harriet Thompson, Messrs. Dan P. Smythe, Fred W. Lampkin, E. P. Dodd, Dr. McNabb and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Halley.

Entertained the Rebeccas.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

The life of food is the fat within it—the more fat the more real benefit from the food; that is why cod liver oil is a powerful builder of flesh.

Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil solves the problem of how to take cod liver oil. That is one reason why doctors have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion for all wasting diseases, coughs, colds and bronchitis for almost thirty years.

JUDGE JOHN J. BALLERAY DEAD

DEMISE CAUSED BY VARIOUS DISEASES.

Was a Highly Educated and an Able Man, and a Citizen of Oregon Since 1881—An Active Politician, But Had Held Office But Once—Was a Bachelor, But Leaves Relatives in the East.

Last evening at 6 o'clock Judge John J. Balleray died at St. Anthony's hospital after an illness of two days. Death was caused by a complication of troubles brought on by alcoholism. Relatives in New York have been communicated with to ascertain their wishes in regard to the funeral arrangements.

John J. Balleray was a native of Paterson, N. J., and at his death was 54 years of age. His early life was spent in that city, and his education partly secured from the schools there. Later he attended the college of St. Laurent at Montreal, Canada, for several years, and in 1874 he graduated from the law course of the Columbia university of New York city.

Judge Balleray came to Oregon in 1881, and for a time practiced his profession in Portland. He then moved to Baker City where he remained two years and the rest of his life was passed in Pendleton. His first practice in this city was as a member of the firm of Turner, Bailey & Balleray. Later this firm became Bailey & Balleray, and then Bailey, Balleray & Redfield, the latter being C. E. Redfield of Heppner. From 1897 until 1899 a partnership existed between Judge Balleray and T. G. Halley, under the name of Balleray & Halley. In 1903 the firm of Balleray & McCourt was formed and existed until dissolved by the death of the senior partner last night.

In 1882 Judge Balleray was appointed circuit judge for this district as then composed. This position he held during one term of four years. In politics Judge Balleray was a republican, and while he took an active interest in political affairs, he held few public offices.

The only known relatives of the dead man are a brother, George H. Balleray, and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Peigram, both of whom reside in New York city. The former is a practicing physician and is also a graduate of Columbia university. The judge was never married. He was a member of the Portland lodge of Elks No. 142, and should his funeral be held there it is probable the local lodge will have charge of the services.

As a lawyer Judge Balleray was recognized all over the state as a man of exceptional ability, and he participated in many hard-fought legal battles before the supreme court as well as in the circuit court. During his long practice he acquired an extensive library, and in this are many works not of a legal nature. One of his books, a life of Napoleon, bears the autograph of James K. Polk. The judge was a scholarly man, being versed in Latin, Greek, French and German. French was spoken by him with the fluency of a Parisian. In the text-books used at Montreal his name is written Jean J. Balleray.

Funeral Tomorrow.

This morning a message was received from the brother of Judge Balleray requesting that the body be sent there for burial. Accordingly, arrangements have been made by the local lodge of Elks to carry out their wishes. At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the Elks are to meet at their hall for the purpose of attending the funeral services, which will be held in the Episcopal church at 4:30. From the church the body will be taken to the depot and placed on the east-bound passenger train passing through at 5:30.

FOUCHE READING NETTED $50.

Other Entertainments Will Be Given for the Gymnasium Fund.

The dramatic recital and musical entertainment given last night for the benefit of the Commercial association gymnasium was not as well attended as the promoters of the affair would like to have seen it. However, about $50 was netted as a result of the evening's work, and this amount will be placed in the gymnasium fund.

The program opened with remarks by T. G. Halley, who explained the object for which the program was being given, and announced the future entertainments to be given for the same purpose. One of these is a lecture by Elbert Hubbard, the famous editor of the Philistine. Glittering promises were also made by the speaker of a local talent exhibition to be held provided the next entertainment is well attended.

"The Merchant of Venice" was rendered by Mr. Fouche instead of "As You Like It," and the program as arranged was otherwise altered slightly. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. J. Ross Dickson, Miss Rena Ferguson and C. R. Wade, and a violin solo by Roy Wilkins. All the numbers were enthusiastically received.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide.
