

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Irrigation in Baker County.
quietly and without the blowing of the wind. Fuchs and his associates during the past year or two have engaged and acquired title to something like 2000 acres of sagebrush land situated about 20 miles east of Baker in the Balm creek country, which the time they took it up it was not worth 10 cents an acre, but will soon be worth hundreds of dollars an acre. Mr. Fuchs discovered a natural reservoir site where it was possible to dig a dam at a slight expense to dam the water in sufficient quantity to irrigate the lands of acres below. Four miles of ditches have already been completed and more ditching will be done this year. A 60-foot dam will furnish water enough for 100 acres of tracts of land the size of the Mr. Fuchs has entered.—Baker Democrat.

Sheep Scab Reported.
Inspector Parker for Baker county, was in the city yesterday on his way to Highland to investigate a case of scab in sheep remarked by the Democrat that when the bill passed by the legislature in 1912 he would be found on deck, to report every home band and foreign bands of sheep grazing in county and Assessor Fleetwood, happened to pass said he would be in the heels of Parker. Those who have examined it believe that the new law will be found to be of benefit to all when put in active operation, although many objections have been made to it in various quarters.—Baker City Democrat.

Hard May Go East.
There is a probability that Rev. H. H. Bard will resign as rector of the Episcopal church at Walla Walla and sever his connection with the school. Rev. Bard is not satisfied with the condition of the school and his going hinges on the action by Bishop Wells as regards the advancement of the institution. Rev. Bard is ambitious and cannot leave he will probably accept an assistant rector at All Saints, New York. He is also offered the pulpit in the Advent church, San Francisco. One of the most important opportunities, however, is the Episcopal church at Dresden, Germany.

Lumber to Idaho.
Scherrer arrived in Baker yesterday from Sumpter, where he had been contracting for a quantity of lumber to be shipped to Idaho.

ped to Minidoka, Idaho, where he has established a large lumber yard for the purpose of furnishing the United States government with material in the construction of the new irrigation dams being erected in that vicinity. Mr. Scherer's contract will give quite an impetus to the lumber business in Eastern Oregon as he will handle supplies not only for the government but for the general public, and the government work alone will require large quantities of the best material.—Baker City Democrat.

New Assayer at Boise.
Joseph Pinkham, who was recently appointed assayer in charge of the Boise assay office, received official notification this morning of his appointment and the bond to be filled out. Mr. Pinkham signed the necessary documents at once and returned them to Washington on the afternoon train. He expects that he will be approved so that he can assume the duties of his office on March 1.—Boise Capital News.

Case of Game Warden.
It is reported on good authority some miscreants killed four elk and left their carcasses on the snow in Grant county recently. The discovery was made that the hunters took only the elk teeth. The whole carcasses were left to rot. This is wasteful and disgraceful abuse of the game laws and criminal sacrifice of this noble animal.—Baker City Democrat.

Mills Will Start Soon.
The Oregon Lumber Company officials are very busy getting out their grade stock for Eastern shipments and general stock shipments to the middle west. Manager Geddes expects to start the big mill again within the next 30 days and commence cutting new stock for the season of 1935.—Baker City Democrat.

New National Bank.
Haines is soon to have a First National bank and within the next 60 days. Unless something unforeseen will occur a brick and stone building will be erected on the Ellerton corner and our city will enjoy the same advantages in that respect as are enjoyed by larger cities.—Haines Record.

Trust Company Absorbed.
The business of the German Trust company of this city is in process of transfer to the First National Bank and will be completed by March 1. The company was organized about a year ago with $25,000 of subscribed capital for the purpose of engaging in banking, loans and cognate business.—Lewiston Tribune.

able storm-bound stuff getting in. There was some shipping and a little export demand. Eastern markets were in good shape. Buffalo paying $9.40 for lambs.
A band of 83-pound Nebraska fed Mexican yearlings made $7.35, the high point of the year. Yearlings were scarce and steady.
All sheep sold steady. There was a wide range in ewes, however, owing to difference in quality. Bulk of good western wethers sold at $5.90 to $6.10 and bulk of good ewes at $5.50 to $5.60, although choice heavy native ewes were quotable at $6 and even more, $6.25 having been paid Saturday. A big string of St. Paul fed Washington ewes averaging 127 pounds made $5.90.
Late lamb trade was not nearly as good as at the start.

Washington.
"My father," said Wellington's son, "deemed Washington the purest and noblest character of modern time—possibly of all time—and, considering the raw troops with which he had to oppose the trained and veteran soldiers of England, also a great general."
Another interesting statement which the second duke made to General Wilson, who writes to the Cornhill, was that when his father was assigned to the command of an expedition to be sent out against the city of Washington and New Orleans in 1814 he declined the command chiefly on the ground that he would not fight against Washington's countrymen. And when his government asked for the names of three officers from whom a commander could be selected Wellington wrote, "Sir Edward Pakenham, Sir Edward Pakenham, Sir Edward Pakenham," and so poor Sir Edward, his brother-in-law, was sent to New Orleans to meet his death in the most disastrous defeat ever sustained by a British army.—St. James' Gazette.

Roman Gormands.
The wealthy gormands of Rome cherished a strong partiality for song birds. Both Horace and Martial refer with approval to roast thrush, and Ovid recommends "a crown of thrushes" as a lover's present to his mistress. Thrushes' breasts were one of the ingredients of the celebrated Apician dish, "Patina apician," which also included beccaficos, mushrooms, sow's udder, fish and chickens, rivaling the heterogeneous contents of a gypsy's "pot au feu."
Horace relates that the sons of Actus, to stimulate their appetite for dinner, lunched on "nightingales of monstrous price," and Varro tells us of the aviary of Lucullus, which was also a "salle a manger," so that the epicure gratified his ears and his palate simultaneously, feasting upon the delicate warblers whose congeners, unconscious of their coming doom, were discouraging meanwhile the most exquisite music.

OSTEOPATHY.
Ques. Do Osteonaths believe in the germ theory of disease?
Ans. Yes.
Ques. Then why do they say diseases are caused by slight displacement of bones, etc.? Explain.
Ans. The body in perfect health, is proof against germs. The blood is the best germicide and the only one that can operate within the body. When the bony or muscular obstructions cut off the healthy blood supply to any organ, the germ acting on that particular organ gets a foothold and propagates. The bony or muscular obstruction is the predisposing cause, the germ the active cause.
How then fight the germ?
The idea that a medicine is introduced to kill the germ is erroneous and is claimed by no physician. The blood is the only germicide that can act within the body, therefore remove the bony and muscular obstruction and permit the blood to do its work. This is what the Osteopath does in treating germ diseases. And it explains why the Osteopath can abort typhoid fever, pneumonia, la grippe, etc., while the medical doctors say they must run their course.
