JAMES J. HILL ON LABOR.

Railway Magazine Says United States Must Solve Big Problems.

"I don't believe in viewing conditions through the colored glasses of either optimism or pessimism," said James J. Hill, of the Great Northern railway, to a representative of "Success Magazine." "I believe in examining them without prejudice, in order to form conclusions that approximate the truth. For instance, I don't try to palliate the fact that in this country we have some big and threatening problems to solve.

"One of them is the labor question. The present standard of wages is artificial. It must be reduced if this country is to compete with others in the markets of the world. Our foreign trade in manufactured products, instead of increasing with the increased production, is falling off.

"Consider the single but important item of steel. A very few years ago we were told that our steel was commanding the world's markets. Nobody dares tell us that now. Even natives of our country, in the Philippines, have recently been sending big orders for steel to Germany. Why? Simply because they can get it cheaper there.

"As it is in steel, so it is in many other products. Germany is making great strides ahead of us. She is, in fact, leading the world, and promises to increase her lead. Her mechanics work cheaply, and spend 66 hours a week in their factories, whereas ours spend but 44. Moreover, they are better workmen.

"We cannot hope to compete with her in foreign trade until we reduce the cost of our manufactured products and improve their quality. Even England, suffering from industrial paralysis because of the power of the trades unions and other influences, is moving faster than we are. The simple truth is that we are being badly beaten in the race for the markets of the world."

A man may be sure that he is growing old when he begins wondering if he looks his age.

Representative Dobbin Secures the Passage of a Needed Law.

Following is a copy of house bill No. 294, introduced by Representative Dobbin of Walla Walla and Union counties. It is now a law of Oregon, having been filed by the governor within the required time:

A bill or act entitled, An act for prevention of the spread of wild oats, thistle, weeds and obnoxious grasses along the right of way of irrigating and mill ditches.

Be it enacted by the people of the state of Oregon:

Section 1. That from and after the passage of this act all companies, corporations and private individuals owning or controlling irrigating or mill ditches shall keep the right of way of said companies, corporations, or private individuals along said ditches, clean and free from wild oats, mustard, thistles or any obnoxious grasses whatsoever.

Sec. 2. Any company, corporation or private individual violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than $25 nor more than $150 together with the costs and disbursements of the action and such fine and costs shall be collected as any judgment in a civil action at law.

Sec. 3. Courts of the Justice of the peace shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit courts of this state in the trial of all proceedings under this act.

An application to organize a National bank at Fairbanks, Alaska, has been approved. The proposed capital is $50,000.

HERE'S WHAT'S WANTED.

A Citizen of Pendleton Supplies the Information.

Over half the complaints of mankind originate with the kidneys. A slight touch of backache at first. Twinges and shooting pains in the joints follow. They must be checked, they lead to graver complications.

Plasters are tried and liniments for the back.

So-called kidney cures which do not cure.

The long-looked for result seems unattainable.

If you suffer, do you want relief? Follow the plan adopted by this Pendleton citizen:

Mrs. L. Hodson, of 717 Aura street, says, "While my kidneys have never caused me any trouble which made itself apparent in the kidneys themselves nor in the secretions, I have been bothered more or less by an aching across the small of my back, then down and through my kidneys. When I caught cold it hurt me across my loins and made me feel lame and sore. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Brock & McComas drug store and used them. While I did not take them according to directions, being a poor hand to dose myself with medicines at all, they benefited me in every way, making my back stronger and toning up my whole system."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
