

A New Recipe for Making Coffee

Four cold water on "Mother's Pride," or any other good coffee and soak it three or four hours in the cold water; then put on the fire, and just let it come to a boil.

It is claimed that one-half an egg makes it clear, and that it takes less coffee by this method than any other. Try it and see what a good cup of coffee it makes.

JUDGE BEAN IS DEAN

OLDEST IN PRACTICE
AT THE PENDLETON BAR.

He Established an Office in the Place in 1881—Judge Ellis Was the First Resident Attorney to Be Admitted to Practice, But Not Among the Earliest in Pendleton—Judge Fitz Gerald and R. J. Slater Opened Law Offices Here Many Years Ago.

Who is the dean of the Pendleton bar? This is a matter that has been discussed somewhat of late, especially among the legal fraternity in the city. At the death of the late Judge Balleray, there passed away the oldest Pendleton practitioner, as well as one of the best legal minds of the city. To ascertain upon whom the honored mantle has fallen, the writer yesterday consulted with numerous attorneys upon the subject. It was found to be the general sentiment that the title of dean belongs to the one who has been practicing continuously in this city the greatest number of years.

Reckoned upon the above basis, the honor falls to County Judge Henry J. Bean, who has been practicing law continuously in this city for 24 years, having begun in the early part of 1881. R. J. Slater was admitted to the bar in 1880, but has not practiced here continuously, so is thereby said to be ineligible. Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald was also an early practitioner in Pendleton, having arrived here in the fall of 1881, but like Mr. Slater, has not practiced continuously.

In priority of admission to the bar, Circuit Judge W. R. Ellis has first place, he having been admitted to practice before the supreme court of Iowa in 1874. The judge moved to Heppner in 1885, and has been a practicing attorney all of the time since with the exception of the six years during which he was a member of congress and the time he has been upon the bench.

Following closely after Judge Bean are three more who began professional work here during the '80s. First among these comes Judge James A. Fee, who arrived in 1884, and really had his first legal practice here. Charles H. Carter has been an attorney at this place for the past 19 years, having commenced in 1886. In 1889 T. G. Halley came here and has been practicing continuously during the 16 years since his arrival in Pendleton.

In 1891 Judge S. A. Lowell arrived here, and in the same year A. D. Stillman was admitted to the bar and began practicing. Both of these gentlemen engaged in newspaper work here before taking up the law. Lowell being with the Tribune, and Stillman with the East Oregonian.

Colonel J. H. Raley was admitted to the bar in 1893, and S. A. Newberry began along about that time. W. M. Pierce was admitted in 1895, after having served as county clerk and school superintendent, and John H. Lawrey commenced the year following. J. T. Hinkle began practicing here in 1897.

Of the later arrivals, H. E. Collier came in 1899, John McCourt in 1900, the latter practicing alone for a short time before forming the partnership with the late Judge Balleray. J. B. Perry has been here since 1901, and J. P. Winters since 1902. The three youngest members of the Pendleton bar, Dan P. Smythe, Roy Raley and Ben K. Davis, have all begun within the last two years. The very latest arrival is District Attorney G. W. Phelps, who has just come from Heppner and has not yet established an office down town.

CLAIMS DESERTION AND ABUSE.

Allegation Made by Plaintiff in Divorce Suit.

Suit for divorce was filed this morning by Attorney Perry in behalf of Ada V. Stewart, who desires separation from Carl G. Stewart. The complaint states that the two were married on April 30, 1903, and that they have no children. Also that about November, 1903, the defendant began a course of drunkenness, abuse and vile language. The statement is also made that he failed to support his wife though he was earning good wages as a plumber all the time. The complaint further alleges that the defendant left the plaintiff during February of this year, and the latter has not seen him since.

Water Works for Kendrick.

A definite step towards improving the town with a system of water works and sewerage took place last night, when the city council by a unanimous vote passed the ordinance calling for the election on April 4 to vote on bonding the town for $12,000 for a waterworks and sewerage system. The issue, if voted, will provide for expending $8500 for water works and $3500 for sewerage.—Kendrick Gazette.

Public Auction.

W. F. Cargill will hold a public auction at the John King place, North Cold Springs, Monday, March 20, when he will offer at public auction all his personal property, consisting of 14 head of horses, 12 head of mules and 8 cows, also all his farm machinery and various articles used on the farm.

STANDARD ELECTS OFFICERS.

Pendleton Man Chosen for Secretary at Yesterday's Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the directors of the Standard Mining company was held in the parlor of the Hotel St. George and the following officers elected: President, J. D. Foss of Chicago; vice-president, Zoth Houser; secretary, Duke Bates of Chicago.

In the evening the Eastern members of the board left for Chicago, going by way of Baker City and Sumpter.

Monster Steam Plow.

A. Kunkel exhibited a monster steam plow on the streets today. The machine comprises eight 14-inch plows pulled by a 50-horse power Geiser engine. It plows an acre in traveling 155 rods, and travels at the rate of two and a quarter miles per hour. It is the largest plow outfit ever brought to the county and it is thought will be adopted on the large farms in the Athena and Helix wheat belt because of the economy in its use.

County Named for Benton.

A new county named Benton, after Old Tom Benton, who put through congress the bill that sent General Fremont to exploring the present state of Washington in the forties, has been created out of the eastern parts of Yakima and Klickitat counties with the county seat at Prosser. The new county will constitute the fifty-eighth representative district and form part of the fifteenth senate district, and of the judicial district now composed of Yakima, Klickitat and Franklin counties.—Walla Walla Union.

Bentley Case Dismissed.

When J. K. Bentley appeared in the police court to answer to the charge of having violated the quarantine which he was accused of a week or two ago, no witnesses appeared against him, and the case was dropped.

GRIP CONVALESCENCE

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

CHECK FORGING AS A JOKE.

A. D. T. Boys Have Joke Turned on Them by Sheriff's Office.

Check forging has been found so easy in Pendleton that the A. D. T. boys yesterday concluded to try their hands at the game, and did so with success. However, they went into the matter for amusement, and wisely did not attempt to reap any financial gain.

A check on the First National bank was drawn by one of the boys in favor of one of the other boys for the sum of 49 cents. This was placed in a conspicuous place on the pavement and soon attracted the eyes of Frank Clopton and a companion who were passing. The paper was picked up and was being carefully scrutinized when the laughter of the boys inside told them it was a joke. Later on the check was picked up, and being found to be no good was turned into the sheriff's office.

When the youthful drawer of the check received a query over the 'phone from the sheriff, his face sobered considerably, but he managed to explain to the official that the thing was a joke and that no criminal act was intended.

THE TENNIS CLUB ELECTION.

The Sport Will Be Instituted in a Very Short Time.

At the meeting of the Tennis club held last night in the Commercial rooms, officers were elected for the ensuing year, and it was decided to put the grounds in shape for playing at once.

The meeting was called to order by President Earnest Younger, and the following were elected to fill the offices during the coming season: C. B. Sampson, president; Harry Thompson, vice president; Cecil Wade, secretary; Roy Ritner, treasurer; Dan P. Smythe, manager; Mark Moorhouse, assistant manager.

By the rules of the organization the membership is limited to 36, and as some of the players have left the city since last season, new members will be accepted until the limit is again reached. The managers will commence the work of placing the three courts in order, and playing will now soon commence.

FARMERS HOLD INSTITUTE.

Baker County People Take Advantage of New Law.

The interest being manifested in the farmers' institute which is to be held in Haines on next Friday and Saturday would indicate that the success of the meeting is assured, says the Baker City Democrat.

These gatherings of farmers have become of much educational value to the tillers of the soil, and better results are being obtained by those who make practical use of the ideas and knowledge procured from those who have devoted their time and attention to the study of the different methods relating to the various branches of this industry.

The coming institute will be attended and conducted by representatives of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, and the farmers and dairymen are expected to take part in the discussions, wherein many ideas on various subjects will be compared and valuable points brought out.

The first session will be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. A feature of the evening session will be stereopticon illustrated lectures.

MUST IMPORT WHEAT.

Supply of American Millers Is Now Very Low.

The following remarkable statement regarding the available supply of milling wheat in the United States is from the New York Herald:

Probably the most important flour milling establishment in the United States, the Pillsbury-Washburn company, of Minneapolis, has practically announced its intention to the grain and flour trade of the world that it will this year be forced to import wheat for flour milling purposes. One of its most important mills is to be placed under the supervision of a government customs officer and it is the intention of the company to "bond" this plant and a big elevator. The significance of this step is grasped only when it is considered that this large flour milling establishment practically admits that the United States, so long regarded as the "bread basket of the world," cannot this year furnish its own millers with supplies of hard wheat for flouring purposes.

This fact has gradually become known in the almost complete cessation of exports of wheat and flour, as shown by the weekly statistics of the leading export points. In Wall street observers have continually pointed out the diminishing volume of exports of wheat and flour during the last few years. This year, when the spring wheat crop was suffering from excessive moisture, and finally when smut and rust developed, playing havoc with the crop, it was predicted that the country would be unable to export any quantity of wheat and flour. The wheat markets in New York and Chicago reflected the scarcity of grade wheat, and prices continued to advance to a point where the wheat markets of the United States became the dearest in the world.

No one believed, however, that a condition would arise where American millers would be forced to import wheat. No doubt now exists, whatever, on that subject.

On Sunday, February 26, nearly 8000 people passed through the turnstiles of the Lewis and Clark Centennial exposition, and devoted the entire day to examining the exteriors of the exhibits palaces or basking in the sunshine.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, one's youthful appearance.

It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair. The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitutes—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 30c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
