FROOME LIVERY MOVED.

Pioneer Liveryman Will Hereafter Occupy the Depot Stables.
George Froome, the pioneer liveryman, is moving his stock, livery property and offices, to the Depot stables, where he will hereafter conduct his business. Mr. Froome has been doing business in small quarters on Cottonwood street since vacating the barn on the site of the new Smith-Crawford building, on North Main street.

Victor Will Resume.

The Victor mine at Bourne, will resume operations at once, under the superintendency of Hon. A. P. Smith, member of the state legislature from Baker county. Mr. Smith is in Sumpter today, purchasing supplies. A crew of men is already at work overhauling the surface plant. Operations on a large scale will be ordered upon the return to Sumpter of H. T. Hendryx, fiscal agent for and general manager of the Victor.—Sumpter Daily Miner.

Last year Japan imported food-stuffs exceeding over $52,000,000 in value.

A. J. Goodman, of the Goodman-Thompson Hardware company, left this morning for a brief business visit to Independence.
Mrs. J. W. Skiles and Mrs. E. C. Skiles returned last night from Walla Walla, where they have been visiting Mrs. Harry Skiles.
V. M. Houston, Mrs. Houston and Miss Mary Houston all returned from Portland this morning, and will leave for Boise this evening.
John Heathman, who has been confined to his home with a badly sprained ankle is out on crutches and is now improving rapidly.
Miss Fay Bartholomew will leave in the morning for her home at Heppner, after having visited here during the past month as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ellis.
Mrs. C. O. Sharp and Doss Turner were among those who went to Athena to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hill, which was held there today at 1 p. m. from the Baptist church.

Robert Burns, the genial agent of the O. R. & N. at Walla Walla, came down on the afternoon train on a business trip. Business is starting out highly satisfactory in Walla Walla this spring.
Mrs. Edyth Tostler Weathered left last night for Portland after a successful lecturing tour in Umatilla county. She is enthusiastic over the interest shown in her illustrated lectures by the people of this county.
W. N. Nash, of Adams, was in the city yesterday and returned home in the evening. He was formerly in business at that place, but is now retired. Mr. Nash was one of the pioneers of Union county, and moved to Adams about six years ago.

Mrs. E. Layton, of Portland, is in the city for a few weeks' visit at the home of her son, E. C. Smith, O. R. & N. agent at this place. Mrs. Layton is one of the oldest pioneers of Southern Oregon, having crossed the plains with one of the first immigration trains in the early '50s.
Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gilpin, of Prosser, Wash., are in the city today visiting Mrs. Gilpin's sister, Mrs. E. D. Fields. Mr. Gilpin speaks in the highest terms of the Prosser country and believes it has a great future as a farming district. Irrigation in that locality promises to transform much of the desert into fruit and diversified farming tracts.

IONE IS GROWING RAPIDLY.
New Bank Building and Other Recent Structures.
Howard & Swingle have secured the work of drawing up plans for a new two-story stone building at Ione, and are now at work upon the matter. The building is to be erected by the Ione Trading company, and the lower floor will be used by the new bank which has recently been organized there, and also by a mercantile house. The second floor will be made into a theater. The building is to be 80x100 feet and made of stone. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $15,000.
According to Mr. Swingle, who stopped in Ione while on his way to the Woodman convention at Heppner, the little city is growing rapidly and will have extensive building operations this summer. The residents are enthusiastic over the future of their town, and believe that it is destined to become the metropolis of Morrow county, despite the fact that Heppner has the county seat.

CONGREGATIONAL REVIVALS.
Series of Meetings Will Probably Be Held Beginning About April 1.
Rev. T. B. Egerton, pastor of the Congregational church of this city, is now making arrangements to hold a series of revivals beginning about April 1, and lasting at least three weeks.
He expects to secure the services of Rev. C. F. Clapp of Forest Grove, state superintendent of foreign missions of the Congregational church, and also Rev. and Mrs. Barbic, of Forest Grove, both of whom are ordained Congregational ministers of rare ability, for this series of meetings.
Rev. Egerton has given much of his time to evangelistic work and is a progressive and logical thinker, and will make a specialty of this class of meetings at the Congregational church.

REFERENDUM IS ASSURED.

Petitions Spread Like Wild Fire in Willamette Valley Counties.
Referendum petitions are being rapidly signed at Salem, in spite of protests from employes at the state institutions that they would have to discount paper in place of warrants, says the Salem Journal. One petition was signed on Commercial street this morning about as fast as it could be passed around.
In Yamhill county nearly every one is said to favor tying up the general appropriation bill, regardless of the effects, as the only means of bringing a club down on the heads of the legislators for their general extravagance.
James K. Sears of Polk county, said nearly every one was signing the petitions over there, and several had already come to the county seat, filled out. He thought that a thousand would sign in that county.
In Linn county the movement is not so rapid, but there will be a large petition, especially from the country precincts.
In Marion county there is a strong sentiment for the referendum, and there may be a thousand petitioners here. The socialist leaders and prominent democrats are very active for the petition. The Salem lists contain the names of prominent business and professional men.

WILL PORTLAND BE GOOD?

People Returning From Metropolis Complain.
It comes to the Democrat from persons returning from a visit to Portland that indications point strongly to a hold-up scheme on the part of lodging house sharks, hotel men and real estate brigands, by which Lewis and Clark fair visitors will be fleeced to a grand fare-the-well, says the Baker City Democrat.
Already every available house and room is passing into the control of a syndicate and the price of beds will be marked up to the top notch when the rush begins.
Back rooms of cigar stores will have cots placed in them and those controlling them expect to realize $1.50 per night for each cot.
All the principal hotels, it is said, are adopting a schedule of advanced prices to be put into execution at the opportune time.
In the judgment of some people the avaricious Portlander is going to play the cinch game for all there is in it. It could hardly be expected otherwise. Portland people cannot shake off the old habit.

BUILD A 9-ROOMED RESIDENCE.

Dr. E. R. Swinburn Will Become a Resident.
A nine-roomed residence is to be erected in the near future by Dr. E. R. Swinburn on the corner of Lee and Lewis streets, just across from the home of Judge W. R. Ellis. Men are now at work moving the house that is there at present, and as soon as the ground is ready the work upon the building will be started. Architect C. E. Troutman is now at work upon the plans.
Dr. Swinburn has been a resident of Heppner for the past 26 years, and has been an acquaintance of Judge Ellis for 21 years. The doctor and his family will make their home here in the future.
