MAY BE FEIGNING

POSSIBLE TRICKERY TO AVOID SERVING TIME.

No Credence Is Given in Salem, (and Perhaps Not Elsewhere) to the Theory of Insanity—Relationships and Sympathies Are Involved in the Question—Young Man Is a Citizen of Polk County, Where His Relatives Reside.

Salem, March 17.—That Herbert Winslow, alias D. E. Stone, has played crazy to escape serving a term in the penitentiary is the opinion freely expressed in Salem.

Winslow was arrested in this city two days ago, under the name of D. E. Stone, upon information received from Sheriff Taylor, of Pendleton, it being alleged that he had forged a couple of checks in that city two years ago. He was working as a carpenter here when arrested by Officer Lewis and gave the name of D. E. Stone. The Umatilla officer was at once notified of his arrest and arrived this morning to get him man.

When he drove up to the county jail, however, to convey the prisoner to the train, he was greatly surprised to find that the relatives of the young man had just sworn out a complaint charging him with insanity, and that the examination was being conducted at that time. Dr. Griffith, of the asylum, and Dr. J. N. Smith conducted the examination. After questioning the prisoner for nearly half an hour they pronounced him insane and County Judge Scott ordered him committed to the asylum.

Winslow is well known in Salem, as his parents, who are honored and respected farmers, reside a few miles west of here in Polk county and the young man has practically made this city his home. He seems to have an affinity for crime and has been behind prison bars several times. Just before the time that it is alleged he forged the checks in Pendleton, he served a term in the jail there for stealing a bicycle.

It is confidently believed by many who know him, that his insanity is feigned, thinking thereby to soon be able to regain his freedom.

The case of young Stone or Winslow, was handled by Attorney McMann, who is said to be a brother-in-law to Dr. Griffith, of the asylum, and it is hinted that the relationship between the two may have had something to do with Stone's being declared insane. It is said that other physicians who examined Stone refused to consider him as insane. Attorney McMann is the same who attempted to cast reflections upon the management of the penitentiary recently and was before a committee from the legislature who were investigating the subject.

Behaves No Different.

When Sheriff Taylor was asked as to his impression of the present condition of young Stone, he replied that he could see no difference between his behavior now and that when he was in the county jail two years ago for stealing a bicycle from Joe Basler.

Young Wilson lived here 10 or 15 years ago, and his father was at that time head miller in the Byers' mill. On leaving here Wilson went East to study law and took a course, but soon gave up his profession to go on the stage.

MILLS TO RESUME

WILL WORK FULL TIME BEGINNING MARCH 20.

Fixtures for Rug Weaving Have Arrived—Coarser Wools Will Enter Into Rug Making—Outside Dealers Devote Much Attention to the Products of Pendleton Woolen Mills—The Lay-off Which It Was Thought Would Be for Several Months, Lasted But Two Weeks.

After a two-weeks' lay-off, the entire force at the woolen mill will resume on Monday, and Manager Ferguson is of the opinion that no more stops will be necessary. According to him, there is now enough wool on hand to keep the plant going for the next six weeks, and from then on new wool may be secured.

The fixtures for the rug weaving loom have now arrived, and as soon as the plant is under way again the rug making experiment will be commenced. To secure the wool for this work it will be necessary to select the coarser wool from the various clips that are purchased, as no entire clip could be used for the purpose.

In the spring catalogue issued by Fleischner, Mayer & Co., of Portland, the local woolen mill is given liberal space. On the cover page is a Moorish picture in colors, showing the famous Indian robe, and several pages are also devoted to the products of the woolen mills. Fleischner, Mayer & Co. are the Portland distributors for the mill, and have evidently found it worth while to exploit its products.

CELEBRATES ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Today at Salem, Oregon, J. P. McManus, the Editor of the Pilot Rock Record, is Wed.

J. P. McManus left on last night's train for Salem, Ore. Mac is an enthusiastic Irishman. Today is St. Patrick's Day. Mac will celebrate the day. At 4 o'clock today he marries Ida G. McAllister. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. G. A. Bach. Mr. and Mrs. McManus will arrive at their home at Pilot Rock next Monday. We extend our heartiest congratulations and our best wishes.

There is not an editor in Eastern Oregon who can handle his pen better than Mac. He can, if occasion require, dip his pen in vitriol and make his victims writhe. He is master of sarcasm, yet withal kindly. He is so spare that he almost has to stand twice in one place to make a shadow, but the soul of the man is out of all proportion to his body. He comes of fighting stock and would rather go down in defeat fighting for what he believes, than to uphold what he does not endorse. Though able to hold down an editorial desk on a large metropolitan paper he runs the Pilot Rock Record at Pilot Rock. There he is his own boss. He says what he pleases and if his subscribers don't like it, cheerfully advises them to stop their paper. But they don't stop; they want to see what Mac is going to say about them next week. No threat can intimidate Mac. Mac and Psyche, his pet coyote, are known wherever the U. S. mail takes the Record. They ramble over the hills together, the best of friends. Alas, poor Psyche! Do you not see your finish? You are no longer first in your master's affections. "I may not get as much out of glass as some, but don't think for a moment that I don't cut just as much ice," said Mac. Farewell, Psyche. Welcome the newly wedded pair to Umatilla county.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Pendleton People Fail to Realize the Seriousness. The constant aching of a bad back. The weariness, the tired feeling. The pains and aches of kidney hills. Are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. A Pendleton citizen shows you how to avoid them. Henry Williams, retired, living on College street, says: "I had been troubled off and on for three or four years with dull heavy aching across my loins and kidneys. It hurt me to stoop or lift anything and when I caught cold it generally settled in my back and aggravated the complaint. The kidney secretions were irregular and caused me a great deal of annoyance, especially during the night, causing me to rise several times, thus breaking my rest so that I felt as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at Brock & McComas Co.'s drug store. Two or three doses convinced me that they were what I needed. I have no better way of expressing my opinion of this preparation than to say that Doan's Kidney Pills are worth their weight in gold to anyone affected with backache or disordered kidneys. I know of several others who have used this remedy and praise it highly."

CONSULTING ENGINEER HERE.

His Board Pass Final Judgment on All Irrigation Sites.

D. C. Henney, of Washington, D. C., and a member of the board of consulting engineers, is in town today for the purpose of consulting with J. T. Whistler. The board of consulting engineers is composed of men of wide experience and is the final tribunal to which different irrigation projects are referred for approval.

By the latter part of April the report on the different projects in Oregon is to be in the hands of the board, and at that time the fate of the Umatilla reservoir scheme will be decided.

DEFENSE CONTINUES ITS CASE.

Evidence Introduced to Prove Perygne Feeble Minded.

In the circuit court today the defense in the Pearson-Perygne case has continued its case, and a number of witnesses have been examined. Drs. Cole, Ringo and Dick were called to testify as to the mental condition of Joseph Perygne, and the opinion of the first named was that he was a degenerate. The other two physicians classified him as an imbecile. Other witnesses called this forenoon were C. H. Reynolds, the present guardian of Perygne, and Frank Saling. Judge George Hartman was on the stand for a short time last evening. Young Perygne himself was placed on the stand this forenoon and asked to tell what he knew of the case. After talking for a time he asked to be excused, and said he had been drinking. This afternoon C. H. Reynolds was again called to the stand, and on cross examination admitted having said to Judge Fee at a former time that Pearson had paid young Perygne all that the latter's land was worth. Following Reynolds, T. G. Hailey was placed on the stand by the defense.

COMPETENT LABORERS SCARCE.

Good Men Are Wanted Upon the Farms of This County. Since spring farm work has begun most of the idle men who were really bona fide workmen have secured positions, and as a result good farm laborers are now hard to find, according to those who are in positions to know the situation. While there are not many vacancies to be filled, when one does occur, it is difficult to find a competent man for the place.

Most of the laborers that are here are said to be transient men who are more adapted to work on railroads, or the mining camps than on farms.

THE SERVICE OF INSTITUTION.

Will Be Conducted March 23 by Bishop Wells.

Bishop Wells, missionary bishop of the district of Spokane, will visit the Church of the Redeemer, Pendleton, Or., this week, and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 he will preach in the church. On the last day of his visitation he will institute the Rev. Henry Dixon Jones, D. D., as rector of the parish.

The public is cordially invited to the services in the evenings, and to the service of institution, the hour of which will be announced later.

Chief Clerk Whitney Here.

F. E. Whitney, chief clerk of the railway mail service, left this morning for Spokane on official business. Mr. Whitney says that hereafter the Pendleton postoffice will dispatch mail on the mixed train for Walla Walla. They will also pouch mail on the mixed train for Adams, Athena, Weston and Milton. This is a long step forward in the direction of better mail facilities within the county, and will prove to be a great convenience to the business men.

Suit for Divorce.

Divorce proceedings were commenced yesterday afternoon by Joseph Gunther against his wife, Antoinette Gunther, desertion being the ground upon which the separation is asked. The couple was married in 1896 at Idaho Falls, and in the complaint it is alleged that the defendant abandoned her home in April, 1902. There are two children in the family, both boys, one aged 8 and the other 3. The custody of the children is sued for by the father.

HARD ENOUGH FOR ANYONE. The hard woods we sell from this lumber yard deserve their name. There's no sap in them, they're well seasoned and "cured" to the degree carpenters and builders like. Lots of other good things to say about our lumber—but let the sticks and boards talk about themselves. The boards have "tongues," you know and the talk will be on a "plane" basis.
