LAND CASES CLOSED

CONTESTEE WINS IN BOTH RESERVATION DISPUTES.

Those Who Purchased Untimbered Land in 1891 Under the Present Ruling May Add Forty Acres of Timbered Land to Their Holdings—This Decision Reverses Former Rulings by the Department.

Decisions have just been received from Washington in two land cases that are of considerable importance. One is the case of Hoover vs. Jones, in which the secretary of the interior reversed former rulings and decided in favor of Jones, while the other is that of Shoemaker vs. Lydell, in which the decision was also in favor of the contestee.

The Hoover-Jones case involved the right of those who purchased 160 acres of untimbered land on the reservation in 1891 to subsequently purchase 40 acres of timbered land. At the sale of 1891 each man was allowed to buy 160 acres of untimbered land, and also 40 acres of timber. However, many purchasers simply took the untimbered land at that time, and have since then attempted to buy the 40 acres of timber. This they have not been allowed to do under former rulings of the department. But under the decision that has just been rendered in the Hoover-Jones case this will now be possible, and it is probable that many who bought only the untimbered lands in 1891 will now avail themselves of their right and purchase 40 acres of timbered land. It is said there are 50 or 60 who are entitled to do so.

The Shoemaker-Lydell case also involved land on the reservation. Lydell held a squatter's claim and had made improvements on his land, after which he leased it to Shoemaker to farm. The latter thereupon contested Lydell's right to the land, basing his own claim on the fact of his being the occupant. However, the case was decided by the Washington authorities in favor of Lydell.

In both of the above land cases, Carter, Raley & Raley were attorneys for the contestees in whose favor both of the decisions were made.

BASE BALL GAME AT ATHENA.

High School Team Meets Athena Nine This Afternoon.

The Pendleton high school baseball team is playing the Athena high school team this afternoon on the Athena grounds.

The composing the Pendleton team are as follows: Strand, Penland, Leonard, Johnson, Turner, Skiles, Storie, Hoover, Bollerman, Means and Dickson. Prof. George W. Eyre, manager, and a large number of friends of the team went to Athena to witness the game.

CHARLES JEONS IS RELEASED.

Brotherton Refused to Make a Complaint Against Him.

Charles Jeons, colored, who was arrested Thursday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Blakely, was released from the county jail last night on the failure of Frank Brotherton, to whom the team and wagon belonged, to make a complaint against him. Brotherton arrived on the W. & C. R. train in the afternoon and was found to be the owner of the property and the man for whom Jeons was working. However, he redeemed the harness that had been pawned, and stated that he would not prosecute the colored man as he believed he had simply sold the harness to secure a little money, and did not mean anything criminal. As a result the negro was released from custody.

Some of the officers are not as charitable in their views of the matter as was Brotherton, and are inclined to think that had Jeons not been taken he would have disposed of the team also and left the country.

The air brake instruction car for the Harriman system, is now at La Grande and the train and engine men are being examined in the workings of the air brake system. The car is in charge of experts from the air brake manufacturing plants and the instruction given is technical and thorough. This examination is given about once a year, more for instruction than examination. The improvements in air brake apparatus will be explained and all the latest attachments will be fully exemplified. The car will probably stop in Pendleton for a day after completing the instruction at La Grande.

The exhibit from the state of Wyoming, which will be made at the Lewis and Clark exposition, will show the wonderful results obtained by irrigation in the task of redeeming the arid lands of the west.

STRICTLY AMATEUR

PENDLETON WILL HAVE FIRST-CLASS BASEBALL.

Captain and Manager Have Been Selected and the Full Team Will Be Organized in a Short Time—Practice Game Will Be Played Tomorrow if the Weather Is Favorable—Games Are Now in Line With Weston and Walla Walla.

On a strictly amateur basis a baseball organization has been formed to represent this place during the coming summer, and if the weather is favorable the first practice game will be held tomorrow forenoon. At a meeting of the Commercial association baseball committee held last night, George Strand was elected captain and Carl Cooley manager for the coming season. These officers are now proceeding with the work of securing the team and arranging a schedule of games with other towns of Eastern Oregon and Washington.

The sentiment here has been found to be in favor of an entirely amateur team, and consequently no important players whatever will be given positions, nor will the team play with nines that are not strictly amateur also. For some time the local players have been urging the need of an organization, and it was requested that the Commercial association athletic committee take the matter up. This they did a week ago by the appointment of George Strand, Roy Ritner and Carl Cooley as a committee to have charge of the matter.

In the opinion of Manager Cooley, a first-class amateur team may be made up here, and a very successful season is looked for. Among those from whom the nine will be selected are George Strand, George Gray, Roy Alexander, Jerry King, Lee Drake, Frank Hayes, Osborn, Moscow Froome, Jerry Cronin, John Watson, R. E. Kelley, Bryson brothers, Bowers and Kruger.

For the first game of the season arrangements are being made to play Weston on the second or third Sunday in April. A letter has also been received from Manager O'Connor, of the Walla Walla team, asking for a game there in April, and for a return game here in May. Other nines with which it is believed games will be arranged are those of Athena, La Grande, Whitman College, Union, Echo and Adams. Should the team be successful it is proposed to attempt a tour of a number of other towns of Eastern Washington.

Case Dismissed.

Circuit Judge Ellis today dismissed the case of W. F. Matlock versus Thomas H. Hampton, which has been pending for some time. The suit involved the title to 480 acres of land.
