FAIR STORE'S NEW HOME.

Popular Mercantile Business Now in Larger Quarters.

The Fair Store is now located in its splendid new home in the Smith-Crawford block, opposite the post-office, where it kept open house today and received callers. In its large double store room the Fair is in position to display its large stock to good advantage. A person entering the store is impressed with the excellent judgment shown in the display of the stock and the arrangement of the various departments.

The south door opens into the ladies' section and on the right is the fancy dress goods while in the left is the corset section. The ladies' ready-to-wear department occupies the rear of the south side. In the center is the cashier's and Mr. Tarbet, the proprietor's office, which are surrounded by broad wrapping counters.

The north entrance leads to the men's and boys' section, where the clothing is kept on tables and along the north wall is the shoes in the rear, and in the front is the men's hats and furnishings.

The store has dust-proof shelves around the entire store extending three feet above the floor, wherein is kept the surplus of each department. The fixtures are all new and attractively painted.

In its new home the Fair has double the floor space of its former location. It is well lighted in all part spring glass being used to distribute the light.

K. E. Tarbet, the proprietor, found it necessary to move into larger quarters to accommodate the trade and has for several years been seeking new rooms, and finally arranged with Smith and Crawford for the erection of the building according to his plans.

HARD ENOUGH FOR ANYONE.

The hard woods we sell from this lumber yard deserve their name. There's no sap in them, they're well seasoned and "cured" to the degree carpenters and builders like. Lots of other good things to say about our lumber—but let the sticks and boards talk about themselves. The boards have "tongues," you know and the talk will be on a "plane" basis.

GOING SOUTHWARD

SURVEYORS' ROUTE IS INDICATED BY STAKES.

Nothing Conclusive or Satisfactory Can Be Learned Concerning the Backing of the Project, But It Is Admitted That the Present Survey Is Run Under the Auspices of the Pendleton Railroad & Coal Company.

For nearly a week now the railroad surveying party has been working southward from this place, and a line of stakes marks the route over which they have gone. But as to the people by whom they are employed, nothing more has been ascertained. The members of the party state that they are under orders not to discuss that matter, and the men behind the Pendleton Railroad & Coal company also say they are not at liberty to say by whom the party was sent out. However, two of the latter have made statements that the line is being run for the Pendleton Railroad & Coal company, and that it is to establish the route for the road.

Also, the local men who are promoting the new road are firm in their statements that they believe the road is to be built in the near future. However, when asked from whence the backing is coming, they fight shy of the question, though one of them stated this morning that it is evident the local men in the enterprise are not able to handle it. When asked about the Northern Pacific they only smiled.

The conclusion that has been reached by most people who have given the matter much attention is that the party is working under the direction of the Northern Pacific, but that for some reason that the road does not wish to have the fact made known from an authentic source. Whether or not this is because its course is not yet plain, is not known.

MASS MEETING FOR MEN ONLY.

Union Gatherings at 4 P. M. at the Baptist Church.

Arrangements have been made for holding a union meeting for men only at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Rev. J. L. Tallman, of the Michigan conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, will address the meeting. Rev. Tallman's long experience in work among men especially, fits him for addressing such a meeting. All men finding it possible to attend this meeting are most cordially invited to be present and are assured of an interesting and profitable service.

The churches uniting in this meeting are the Presbyterian, the Webb Street Methodist Episcopal, the Baptist, the Congregational and the Thompson Street Methodist Episcopal church.

All men of every nation, tribe and tongue, and station in life will be welcomed to this service.

Preparing Botany Exhibit. Prof. W. H. Bleakney, of Pendleton Academy, is now busy preparing an extensive botanical exhibit for the Lewis and Clark fair. The class in botany at the academy is a very large and active class and great interest is taken in the subject.
