PERSONAL MENTION

Charles Otterstedt was a visitor here Saturday evening.

Sam Curry, of Hilgard, is a visitor in Pendleton today.

E. Y. Judd arrived this morning from Hartford, Conn., on a business trip.

Rev. W. L. Van Nuys is expected to arrive home from Portland in the morning.

Miss Floy Wells of Meacham, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. T. M. Henderson.

C. E. Troutman returned last night from Two Rivers, Wash., where he has been during the past few days.

Jerry Fleetwood, assessor of Baker county, is a visitor in town today, and is the guest of Assessor Strain.

C. F. Gilpin of Prosser, is in the city on a business trip today. The crop prospects in that district are very bright.

A. Gustafson, O. R. & N. switch engineer, is ill and is taking a few days rest. D. W. Jackson of La Grande, is in his place on the yard engine.

Dr. M. V. Turley of Weston, drove down last night from Weston, and is on his way to the Deschutes valley, where he owns some irrigated land.

Miss Sarah Fenton of Ashland, Ill., arrived last night and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Winslow for a week. She is Mr. Winslow's aunt.

Miss Bertha Alexander left last evening for Joseph, Walla walla county, where she will be the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Albert Wurzweller, for a month.

J. M. Bentley returned last evening from Portland to which place he accompanied his brother, R. H. Bentley, who left for his home at Oakdale, Cal., Saturday morning.

Zoeth Houser, vice president of the Standard Mining company, of Quartzburg, was in the city Saturday and Sunday. The Standard is making an excellent showing this spring.

C. H. Ronenberg, who resides north of the city, is here today on a trading trip. Although there was a very heavy frost last night he does not believe fruit or vegetables were injured.

Deputy Game Warden Joe Nolf returned last night from Union county where he made an inspection of the dams in the rivers to see that they complied with the provisions of the game law.

Judge James A. Fee has gone to Seattle and will remain for a week at least. On the 12th he will appear in the superior court at that place, at which time the Weidert divorce case will be tried.

L. R. Stinson, grand K. of R. & S. of the Knights of Pythias, and J. G. Graham, both of Salem, left yesterday morning for Union, and will visit the lodge at that place before returning to Salem.

L. M. Curl, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and Fred S. Grant, editor of the Senator, remained here over Sunday and left last night on the westbound train. Grand Chancellor Curl will stop in The Dalles on his way home.

Rev. M. V. Howard arrived here from Portland Sunday morning. He has attended the revival meetings in that city for the past week and was amazed at the extent and scope of the work being carried on by the Chapman evangelists.

Letters received by friends here from Fred Waite, who is now in Portland receiving treatment for his hearing, state that he is improving, but that he will not likely be able to return to Pendleton for a week or 10 days yet.

E. W. Duggett, of Blalock, who is a well known K. of P. worker, attended the convention here Saturday evening and left yesterday morning for his home. He is in the grain and warehouse business at Blalock, and is in partnership with Judge Mariner, secretary of the Open River association.

A. M. Harris, of Sumpter, passed through this morning to Spokane, on a business trip. He was the guest of his friend, W. E. Davidson, between trains. Mr. Harris is hopeful that the Sumpter-Hourne railroad will now be built. The amount needed for the construction of the road has been subscribed and it is thought work will soon begin.

No Doubt at All About It.

As "consulting engineer," the editor has decided on the following extension of the C. R. & N. from Goldendale: It will go up the Little Klickitat and through the Satus pass. Thence down the Satus creek, crossing the N. P. at or near Satus station; thence through the Sunnyside country and in a northerly direction, connecting with the Great Northern at or near Quincy. This gives both the N. P. and G. P. a direct route from Spokane to Portland, and opens up the Klickitat timber belt and a vast section of country between the two transcontinental lines.—Goldendale Sentinel.

From Sherman to Morrow.

R. S. Wilcox came through here yesterday, moving out to his place nine miles southeast of here. Mr. Wilcox is from Sherman county and had 20 horses and five wagons with him. He also has more horses out on his place. He came over to do his plowing on several hundred acres of land which he will farm next year. After he finishes his plowing he will go back to Sherman county and harvest the 900 acres of wheat which he is raising there this season. When harvest is over he will return to here and settle down on his place for good. He expects to build a fine house and barn there this year.—Ione Proclaim.

CARPENTERS ARE IN SESSION.

International Union Has Met in Quarterly Meeting.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.—The executive board of the International Union of Carpenters and Joiners began its regular quarterly meeting in this city today and will continue in session all week. There are many matters of importance to come before the board at its present meeting and it is expected that conclusions will be reached that will have a momentous bearing on the status of the organization.

One matter that is deemed of importance by the national officers will probably be definitely settled. This is the question of absorbing the independent organization of carpenters in Philadelphia. It is believed that the independent body will be taken into the fold.

IN MEMORY OF CONFEDERATES.

South Carolina Erects a Monument at Appomattox.

Appomattox, Va., April 10.—The first monument to be erected at Appomattox in memory of the Confederate soldiers who fought to the war's end was dedicated today. The monument was erected by the state of North Carolina, whose troops were the last of the Confederate forces to hold out against the victorious Union army.

The dedication was made the occasion for a great gathering of Confederate veterans of both North Carolina and Virginia. Governor Glenn of North Carolina delivered the principal oration. Other speakers were Generals Cox and Roberts, whose commands greatly distinguished themselves in the fighting about Appomattox.

Statistics of Prosecutions.

The compilations of the returns from the recent Sunday closing and gambling prosecutions show that $540 were registered in fines, of which $350 had been paid up to an early hour this afternoon, leaving $190 to come. This amount will go to the school fund and the expenses of the trials in the case of William Eblin was $16.40 and in the case of Gus Anderson, in the instance of his conviction was $150. Neither of these latter sums have been liquidated as yet but will have to be as the bondsmen are responsible.

The fines for gambling amounted to $500 and for Sunday closing infraction to $440.

The mathematicians about the court house have not thus far delved into the costs showing for the assembling of the court each day, for the attendance of both regular and specially drawn talesmen and other incidental expenses, but are putting on estimates which make it appear that the county will quit about even, though the fines go to the school funds while the expense is charged up to the general fund.—Baker City Herald.
