STRANSKY WARE.

W. J. Clarke & Co. Open a New Department and Have a Magnificent Stock of the Ware That Wears.

W. J. Clarke & Co. have just improved the appearance of the interior of their store and have added a complete Stransky Steel Ware department, where they are showing a complete stock of this celebrated ware, which is recognized as the highest standard goods in this line made.

A shipment of Stransky ware has just arrived, which is the largest collection of enamel ware ever shown in Oregon outside of Portland. The new arrival consists of 3600 pieces of beautiful white and blue ware, and to fully appreciate the real worth of Stransky ware it must be seen and a comparison with other wares will demonstrate that it is the cheapest in the market to buy. Stransky ware is the ware that wears. Every piece is warranted. Economical and careful housekeepers should call at Clark & Co.'s and inspect the Stransky steel ware, as it is so different from other wares.

CARELESSNESS IN BLASTING.

Rock Thrown Across the River Breaks a Window.

Complaint has been made by people residing on Lee street in regard to the blasting that is being done across the river, where building stone is being taken out. Yesterday afternoon a rock six inches long struck a window in the Ireland house on Lee street and broke the glass out of the wash. While no one was injured, it is feared by residents of that neighborhood that should the practice be continued someone will be seriously hurt.

NEW LINE OF SURVEY.

Union Pacific Seeking Route to the Sound.

Surveyors will be put in the field by a new independent railroad company just as soon as men familiar with the territory can be found to locate a line between Portland and Puget sound points, is a report from Portland. Instructions have been received from the financiers backing the project by a Portland man who will represent them, to place a corps of engineers in the field immediately.

While the plans are shrouded in mystery, it is believed that the surveys are to be made for the Harriman line to Puget sound, the old route on which surveys were completed having passed completely out of the control of the Union Pacific.

In 1890-91 the Union Pacific completed surveys between Portland and Tacoma and Seattle, building grades between Vancouver and Kalama, on the Washington side of the Columbia and for about 60 miles north of Kalama. When the Union Pacific went into the hands of a receiver in 1893, the courts ordered the work abandoned entirely, and James J. Hill acquired title at tax sales.

In 1899 the Northern Pacific laid rails on that portion of the grade between Kalama and Vancouver, and the Harriman lines must now find a new route for the projected Puget sound line, which has been promised, hence the belief that the purpose is to be conceived behind an independent company.

Near Great Falls, Mont., Willie Armstrong, aged 13, shot his stepfather, William Sitz, three times, killing him. The two had frequently quarreled violently.

North Yakima is to have a combined court house and city hall to cost between $60,000 and $75,000.

SELF-DENIAL WEEK.

Salvation Army Will Hold a Week of Denial for the Benefit of the Charity Fund.

Beginning next Sunday, April 15, and continuing one week, the Salvation Army, throughout the civilized world, will hold a week of self-denial, each member denying himself of some of the necessities of life, and contributing the price of that article to the general fund collected during self-denial week.

Each corps of the army is given an amount to raise during this week by the division officers, the "target," as it is called, for the Pendleton corps being $175. This amount is raised by public collections, self-denial among the soldiers and by voluntary contributions from friends.

This fund is sent to the division headquarters and there entered into the general charity fund of the army and distributed to every part of the civilized world to be applied to the numerous works of relief conducted by the branches of the Salvation Army.

The scope of the work carried on unostentatiously by this army may be better imagined by reference to a few statistics on the organization:

In the world there are 43 countries occupied by the Salvation Army; the work is carried on in 31 different languages; 1,478,000 meetings are held per annum, throughout the world; there are 45,339 local officers in the army; needy children registered, 325,600; there are 180 shelter and food depots, with accommodations for 18,000 people; there are 17 prison gate homes, 116 rescue homes, and 18 land colonies with an acreage of 29,252 acres.

In the United States are 3773 officers, cadets and employees; 883 outposts, alum stations and social institutions for the relief and betterment of the poor; last year 3,000,000 beds were furnished the poor; $900,000 were spent in relief work; there are 100 industrial homes, wood yards, stores and other establishments conducted by the army, with an income of $350,000, which is redistributed in relief work.

Time is short an' art is taking.
