CONVICTS ON ROADS

41 ARE THUS EMPLOYED IN VICINITY OF SALEM.

All But One or Two Greatly Enjoyed the Diversion of Scenery and Air and Did Faithful Work—There Were Four Trusties, and All Were in Charge of Four Experienced Guards—Expect to Increase the Number.

In charge of four experienced guards, 41 convicts boarded an electric car at the penitentiary yesterday, says the Salem Statesman, and were conveyed to the southern part of the city, where 21 were lined up and marched to the Hall's ferry road, while the remaining 20 were taken to the Rosedale road, these two highways having been selected by County Judge Scott on which to begin the experiment of improving county roads with convict labor, in following out the suggestion of Governor Chamberlain.

The two gangs of men in stripes were at once put to work on the respective highways, and, with the exception of one or two, the convicts worked faithfully through the entire day, and seemed to be delighted over the new order of things by which they are permitted to enjoy the pure air of the country.

Judge Scott, Commissioner I. C. Needham and Superintendent James of the penitentiary, went out to see the convicts work, and all were well satisfied with the result of the first day's experiment. No trouble at all was experienced in handling the men, and, as stated above, all but one or two showed a willingness to work, and seemed pleased to have the opportunity to gain credit for double time. Most of the men had formerly been employed in the penitentiary foundry, and among the number there were but four trusties. Nearly all of the road gang, however, are short-term men, and would not care to take chances in an attempt to escape.

Before starting to work yesterday morning the convicts were addressed by Guard J. L. Skipton, who, in kind words, expressed his hope that there would be no trouble while they were away from the penitentiary in charge of himself and three other guards, but he also warned them not to attempt to run away, saying: "If you attempt to escape we will kill you if we can. Now, I trust we all thoroughly understand the situation, and will get along nicely." The words of Mr. Skipton had good effect on the prisoners, many of whom assured him that there would be no trouble from their individual source.

The men will be taken out again this morning, and it is probable another crew of 20 will be added before the close of the week.

CHANGE MAIL ROUTE.

Oriental Mail Will Soon Be Sent Direct From Oregon Points.

That the United States government has recognized the importance of Portland as a gateway to the Orient, is shown by the following announcement from the Oregon Daily Journal:

United States mail will soon be sent direct from Portland to the Orient. All mail now sent from the Pacific coast to the far east has to go either by the Sound or San Francisco. Local officials of the Portland & Asiatic Steamship company took the matter up some time ago with the postmaster general and received a reply yesterday. It will mean more revenue for the company, and the more high-sounding term of mail steamers can be applied to vessels now classed as freighters. The company will be in a position to advertise as having the only direct mail line between Portland and the Orient. As one of the officials expressed it:

"Aside from the additional revenue it will give the line a better standing. We have never carried mail from this port, excepting the letters directed to the consignees of the cargo, and of course that did not amount to much. But after receiving a mail contract with the government the steamers will be classed as mail carriers, and the line will become more widely known."

The company has a contract with the Japanese government, and for the past year each steamer has been bringing in the neighborhood of 150 bags of mail matter. A big portion of it goes to London, Liverpool, Hamburg and other European ports. When the concession is granted by the United States government it is supposed that fully as big a quantity will be carried on the outward trips. The revenue will depend largely on the amount of mail handled.

AUGUSTANA FOUNDERS' DAY.

Forty-fifth Anniversary of Swedish Lutheran College.

Rock Island, Ill., April 27.—Prominent Swedish Lutherans from many parts of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota gathered here today and took part in the celebration of Founders' day at Augustina College. A feature of the celebration was the announcement of the receipt of a fund of nearly $14,000, raised by popular subscription in Sweden and sent as a gift to the college.

Today's celebration marked the 45th anniversary of the founding of the institution, which is under the control of the Evangelical Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America. In the 45 years of its existence Augustana has become well known. During the first years it was located in Chicago. In 1863 it was removed to Paxton, where it remained for 12 years. When it became evident that the college was not in the center of the Swedish-American population of the west, it was decided to transfer it to Rock Island county, where it has since been stationed.

An "Ade" to Digestion.

Among the many attempts to play upon George Ade's surname, the one given here is, perhaps, one of the best. A man from Northern Wisconsin, who met the humorist some time ago, told him how his writings had made existence more tolerable for him in his lonely country home.

"I was a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia," said he, "but I read that laughing was helpful to the digestive organs, so when I went to the city next time I stepped into a book store and told them I wanted somethin' amoozin'. They give me some of your books, and after meals I had my ole woman read to me from 'em. And say, it don't make no difference how much they criticize your books, you're an aid to digestion, anyway."—Success.

LAW RELATING TO GAMBLING.

Under Its Provisions the Issue Cannot Be Dodged.

The new code of Oregon laws compiled by Bellinger and Cotton is a large volume, containing over 1200 pages, and in the intricate machinery of the law contained and explained in that code, there is nothing more plain and explicit than the laws regulating gambling and prosecutions therefor Sunday closing and other laws relating to moral conditions.

There can be no dodging the issue by any of the officers designated as those whose duty it shall be to enforce these laws. Following are the laws and penalties on gambling and Sunday closing and also the duties of various officials interested:

Section 1944—Each and every person who shall deal, play, or carry on, open or cause to be opened, or who shall conduct, either as owner, proprietor or employe, whether for hire or not, any game of faro, monte, roulette, rouge et noir, lanquenet, roudo, "21," poker, draw poker, brag, bluff, thaw or any banking or other game played with cards, dice or other device, whether the same be played for money or other representative of value, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500, and shall be imprisoned in the county jail until such fine and costs shall be paid; provided that one day shall be served for every $2 and imprisonment shall not exceed one year.

Owner of Building Liable.

Sec. 1949—Any person who shall suffer or permit any of the acts or things forbidden by, or made punishable by this act to be done or carried on in any house, shop, room, or other place or building whatsoever or any boat, booth or garden or other place of which he is the owner or to the possession of which he is entitled, according to the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 and be imprisoned in the county jail until such fine shall be paid at the rate of $2 per day.

Officers Shall Prosecute.

Sec. 1950—IT SHALL BE THE ESPECIAL DUTY OF THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY, SHERIFF, CONSTABLE, TOWN OR CITY MARSHAL AND POLICE OFFICER, TO INFORM AGAINST AND DILIGENTLY PROSECUTE ANY AND ALL PERSONS WHOM THEY SHALL HAVE REASONABLE CAUSE TO BELIEVE GUILTY OF VIOLATIONS OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ACT.

Sunday Closing.

Sec. 1974—No persons shall keep open any house or room in which intoxicating liquors shall be kept for sale, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or give or sell, or otherwise dispose of intoxicating liquors on that day. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $25, nor less than $10 for each offense.

Duty of District Attorney.

Sec. 1258—Hereafter it shall be lawful for the district attorney of the judicial districts in this state, and it is hereby made his duty to file in the proper circuit court an information charging any person or persons with the commission of any crime defined and made punishable by any of the laws of this state, and which shall have been committed in the county where the information is filed.

Must Secure Evidence.

Sec. 1261—Any person within this state can be compelled by subpoena to appear before a district attorney and testify, as a witness in like manner as before a grand jury, concerning crimes inquired of by such district attorney and any district attorney shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses and compel them to testify.

FAMOUS GYPSY QUEEN.

Picturesque Band of Fortune Tellers Now at Salem.

A band of gypsies, with a genuine Romany queen, are camped on the Turner road, just outside of the city limits, says the Salem Journal.

The queen is Theresa Sparrow, and her eight living children, mostly daughters, who are all married, two grown grandaughters, and many grandchildren, as race suicide has not invaded the ranks of the lost children of Israel.

The queen's husband, Mr. Sparrow, is an American, and the father of the band of five families, although it is gypsy law that each family live free and independent of all the rest. The other families are the Stewarts, Whartons, Livells and Butlers.

The distinction of royalty appertains only to the ladies of the tribes of Egypt, and the queen has certainly a fine lot of princesses in her train, and can be very proud of her children and grandchildren. Her daughters are all married to Americans but one, who seems to speak with a strong English accent, but all the men are bright fellows, who buy and sell horses, while most of the women tell fortunes.

They are better dressed and cleaner looking than most of the traveling people who come this way. They make their home at Butte, Montana, and are on their way to California, where they generally spend the summer. The queen is 75 years old, and has been the mother of 17 children.

Tricks in Trade.

At least 75 per cent—maybe more—of the clothing now being sold is made from fabrics adulterated with mercerized cotton. It is a fact of vital importance to the dealer as well as to the wearer.

To the dealer, because it jeopardizes his reputation for good quality. The fabrics look good; if he sells them for all wool, either innocently or deliberately, the effect on his business is the same. The temptation of greater profits may blind him to the injury, but will not lessen it.

To the wearer, because whether he buys them for what they are, or for what they appear to be, he is sure to be disappointed in the looks and wear of his clothes. Fabrics of cotton and wool don't wear like all wool; and not even the best tailoring will keep such clothes in good shape.

But if it is easy to be deceived in buying clothes, it is just as easy to escape deception. The Peoples Warehouse clothes are made from all wool and silk fabrics; no cotton of any sort in them. Silk sewed seams, best of tailoring and style. Your safety is in our label, a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.
