ARGUING O. R. & N. TAX CASE.

Supreme Court Session Probably Soon Come to An End.

Gradually the supreme court is wading through the mass of cases upon the docket, and at the present rate the session will probably soon be over.

Yesterday afternoon the Taylor divorce case was argued by Attorneys John McCourt and James A. Fee.

During the forenoon today the Hood River local option case was argued by John McCourt for the appellant, W. H. Wilson, attorney for the respondent, did not appear, submitting his argument all by brief.

This afternoon the O. R. & N. tax case is being argued, Attorney C. Spencer appearing for the railroad, and District Attorney Phelps and James A. Fee for Umatilla county.

Case on Technicalities.

The case for the railroad company is based solely upon technicalities, and no attempt is made to show that the assessment made by Mr. Strain was unjust. Their strongest point, as shown in the argument of Mr. Spencer this afternoon, is that the county court erred in the making of the levy, and that the actions of the court do not regularly appear upon the official record of that body. Also the point is raised that the property of the company was not properly described by the assessor when the assessment was made.

There was little beside routine business to transact and in addition to electing delegates to the head camp, which meets in Milwaukee in June, there was nothing new in the proceedings. The delegates to the head camp are O. B. Mount of Baker City, R. W. Foster of Portland, and F. A. Baker of Salem.

WOOL IS ROLLING IN

333,000 POUNDS HAVE BEEN BROUGHT TO TOWN.

Bad Roads Checked Hauling Somewhat, But a Week or More Will Bring in Immense Quantities—First Shipment to the East Was One Carload, Yesterday—Very Nearly All Now in Has Been Sold.

Wool is now rolling into the warehouse here, and although Manager Sutherland states that the business has barely commenced, the receipts show that a third of a million pounds have been brought in so far. During yesterday no wool arrived, the teams being held up, presumably by the bad weather. However, the shearing is now said to be nearly over, and within a week or two the bulk of the clip of this portion of the county will be brought here. Practically all of the wool of Umatilla county is brought to Pendleton sooner or later, as the only baler in the county is here. On arriving here the wool is either baled for shipment East, or taken to the scouring mill.

Not many of the growers have yet gotten all of their clips to the warehouse, but the following amounts have arrived: R. A. Jackson, 27,000; G. E. Jackson, 15,000; Pat Dougherty, 23,000; Johnson & Pearson, 40,000; Charles Johnson, 43,000; John Wynn, 13,000; and Harder Bros., 61,000. Besides the above there are 120,000 pounds in the Independent warehouse, which has been purchased by Jacob Shuerman.

One carload, the first of this season, was shipped East yesterday. It contained the Johnson & Pearson clip, and went to New Jersey. Also, two carloads were received yesterday from Echo, containing the Rust & Stanfield clip.

Of the wool that is now in the warehouse it is said that all has been purchased already, excepting the John Wynn clip. Consequently, it would seem that many woolgrowers, if not the most of them, are not waiting for the salesdays. However, later arrivals may change the face of affairs in this regard.
