SCIENTISTS IN THE WILDERNESS

SURVEY IN NORTHERN ALASKA FIVE MONTHS.

Witherspoon Party Does Not Expect to Even Hear From the Outside World Until Next Fall, Nor to See a Human Being Outside Their Own Party—The District Where They Will Work Swarms With Game—Ten Men Will Engage in Map Making and Recording Levels and Other Scientific Data.

To enter the wilds of unexplored Alaska and remain out of the reach of civilization for five months, not expecting to meet a solitary human being excepting members of his own party, is the lot of E. W. Witherspoon, of the United States topographic survey, who left here last night, over the W. & C. R. with a carload of pack animals for Eagle City, Alaska. "For five months," said Mr. Witherspoon, "we do not expect to see a solitary human being excepting members of our own crew, and we will not hear from the outside world from the time we enter the wilderness until we return in the fall."

"It is said the country is literally alive with game of every kind, and while I have not been in any portion of the country which we will penetrate this year, I spent two years in the survey in other portions of the territory and have seen 5000 caribou in one drive. The interior of Alaska is the greatest game country in the world, and we expect to find plenty to eat, although we will be shut away from the world, completely." Complete topographic maps will be made of the entire interior of Alaska, a crew of 10 men to be kept in the field constantly until the work is finished.

SHOULD RAISE CORN.

Prof. H. T. French Shows Many Reasons for its Culture.

The following reasons are given by Prof. H. T. French of the Idaho Agricultural college, as to why corn should be raised in the Northwest:

- (a) It is needed in our rotations. Wheat cannot be raised on the same ground continuously. Many farms in Idaho are becoming less fertile than formerly from this very cause, and a change must be made. A systematic and rational rotation should be practiced. Wheat should be followed by some rotation crop, such as clover, and this by corn. Wheat could then again be sowed and the rotation repeated. Each crop might be raised two years. This makes a simple and effective rotation, and one that would greatly benefit most of our land.
- (b) Corn would be a very valuable addition to our feeding operations—for working animals, fattening animals and dairy animals.
- (c) It is also needed for human food. Corn is being shipped in for grinding into cornmeal.
- (d) In the minds of those who have studied the matter, there is no longer any doubt that corn can be profitably raised in many sections of Idaho. The average yield in the state in 1903 was 34.5 bushels per acre, one bushel higher than that of any other state in the Union.

BUYING OFF AN ANARCHIST.

Peculiar Case of a Russian Revolutionist.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—Matvel Norozoff, once a notorious anarchist, has had his murderous revolutionary ideas killed by kindness. Three years ago he was sent to Siberia for hurling a bomb at a police official in the Caucasus. When the little czarovitch was born the anarchist's mother, an aged woman, sent to the czarina a little woolen coat which she had spent many months in making. With her present the woman enclosed a petition praying that her son might be pardoned. The czarina prevailed upon the czar to grant her request, and Norozoff was allowed to return to his home. Hearing good reports of his conduct, the czarina recently forwarded, through the governor of Caucasus, a sum of money which has enabled the reformed anarchist to set up in business in a small way.

Sawmill Makes Record.

The Lewiston Lumber company reports a record cut of 8100 feet in one hour and 20 minutes, and a nine-hour run of 36,912 feet. Thus far this season the company has cut 1,300,000 feet at their mill in East Lewiston and expects to cut more than a million feet more, after which the mill on Craig mountain will be operated for the remainder of the season. The company reports the outlook for business to be very promising and large quantities of first grade logs are now available in the upper Clearwater country. The largest raft ever brought down the Clearwater river was recently delivered by J. J. McDonald and contained 54,549 feet. The river is now at a suitable stage for rafting and many logs will be received during the next few days.—Lewiston Tribune.

George Abbott Loses Out.

It seems that George Abbott, the wool buyer, who fell from the platform at Biggs station two years ago, injuring his leg so that it was amputated at our hospital a few days afterward, is not to receive damages after all, the supreme court deciding yesterday that the accident was due to his own negligence. In the lower court Abbott secured damages from the O. R. & N. and Columbia Southern to the amount of $20,000. The case was appealed on the ground that the court erred in overruling a motion for non-suit, with the above result.—The Dalles Chronicle.

THE COLDEST MAY.

Walla Walla Weather Observer Notes a Coming Change, However.

"Ten long years have come and gone since Walla Walla experienced as cold a May as the present one," said Weather Observer Newman yesterday, to the Walla Walla Union. "It is true that we have had several rainier Mays than the current month, although in the 23 days just ending the rainfall has been somewhat above the normal. In actual figures we have had 2.76 inches of water this month."

"The present season of cold and disagreeable weather is not a local condition," Mr. Newman continued. "As far east as Chicago, and away down toward the center of California the atmosphere has been of a character to render existence the next thing to impossible. But there is a change almost due. In fact I look for tomorrow to dawn with a sunshiny sky, and I believe it will inaugurate a warm spell."

"It should not be forgotten, however, that chilly and unpleasant rains are frequent features of June, and that we are by no means out of the woods even if the next two or three weeks are perspiring ones."
