CITY COUNCIL RECONSIDERS

"MONEY ADVANCED" WIFE BE REPUNDED MR. CARTER.

Orville Coffman installed as Marshal and Bond is Accepted—Alex Manning Appointed Night Policeman—Regular Expense Account Allowed—City Loans $1400 on Wheat Land Security—Committee Appointed to Co-operate With County Court in Relation to Road Making Apparatus and Will Meet With the Court on June 5.

Last night's meeting of the city council lasted only an hour, but within that time some very important things were done. A step was taken that probably means the macadamizing of the streets this summer, all sprinkling bids were rejected, the marshal's star was passed from M. J. Carney to O. W. Coffman, and the city attorney was paid $275.

All members of the council were in their seats when the session was called by the mayor, and as usual, the first business disposed of was the issuing of liquor licenses, renewals being granted to G. E. Hayes and Foster & McIntosh.

Reconsider Sprinkling.

A written report was submitted by the sprinkling committee recommending that all bids for sprinkling for the coming year be rejected, stating that in the recent advertisement for bids "certain extra work and apparatus" was not fully specified, and that consequently some of the bids were made without regard to such. A motion was made and carried that another committee be appointed to advertise for bids for the work, and Mayor Matlock appointed Councilmen Dickson, Johnson and Murphy to again handle the matter.

A bill for $275 by City Attorney D. H. Carter was approved by the finance committee, and a warrant was ordered drawn in Mr. Carter's favor for the amount. The bill was for "money advanced on account of the city."

Coffman Installed.

At this stage of the meeting Marshal Carney addressed the council and thanked the members of that body, and especially those of the police committee, for the support and encouragement shown him during his term of office, and asked the same for the incoming official. In conclusion he removed his badge of office and handed the same to the mayor. Thereupon Orville W. Coffman was called and invested with the badge by Mayor Matlock. The new marshal expressed his thanks to the council for the honor given him, also to the retiring marshal for favors shown, and stated that he would fill the position to the best of his ability.

The bond for $2000 filed by Marshal Coffman was signed by Frank Curl and Thomas Thompson.

On recommendation of Mr. Coffman, Alex Manning was approved as night officer to take the position vacated by the new marshal, and Mr. Manning was then sworn in as such and instructed to enter upon his duties at once.

The regular salary list for the month of May was read and ordered paid.

City Loans $1400.

Councilman Dickson, for the finance committee, reported that the committee had purchased $150 in county scrip and loaned the sum of $1400 to J. F. Snyder at 7 per cent interest upon wheat land security, such money being from the sinking fund. On motion of Councilman Dickson, this action was approved by the council.

Favor Co-operation.

The matter of co-operating with the county court in the matter of purchasing road machinery was brought before the council by Councilman Renn, a member of the street committee. Mr. Renn stated that it was his understanding that the commissioners were favorable to such action, and that a committee should be appointed from the council to confer with the commissioners at their coming meeting, June 5. On motion of Councilman Johnson the street committee, consisting of Ferguson, Renn and Wells, was directed to serve in the matter.

It has been suggested that the county buy the roller and the city a rock crusher and each exchange work and by its action last night the council expressed its approval of such a course, provided the commissioners are found favorable.

SHE WAS MISTAKEN.

The Story of a Woman Who Thought She Told the Truth.

"If you ask me whether we lawyers ever encourage, aid and abet untruthfulness," said an elderly attorney at dinner recently, "I can only ask as a reply: Does any one know when he is telling it? I had a rather curious case once a few years ago. I won't say whether it was a murder or divorce, but the clearing of my client, the defendant, depended entirely on the ability to prove that when he walked down a certain corridor of a certain summer hotel he was accompanied by two persons. It happened that he was seen by the housekeeper of the hotel, a woman of more than ordinary intelligence, and she insisted that there were three in the party and not simply two, as the prosecution claimed. It was impossible to shake her testimony and we carried the day. The housekeeper died a year or so later. I heard it through her priest. He commented on the fact that she had always taken great satisfaction in the thought that her testimony cleared my client. She was, he said, and he spoke from a confessor's knowledge, one of the most truthful persons he had ever met. I told my client what the priest said the next time we met. He smiled. "She was lying all the while," he

WHOSE BUSINESS IS THIS?

Injured Horse on Road to Reservation Should Be Shot.

Pendleton, Ore., May 30.—(Editor East Oregonian)—Just within, or near the city limits, on the road to the Umatilla reservation, is a most pitiable object. A horse stands there with the muscles and fleshy part of its right foreleg torn away and hanging in a bloody strip below the knee. The entire leg is swollen and the wound is covered with flies. The horse is branded on its right hip with two horizontal bars connected by a perpendicular bar at the center. Will no one shoot the animal? It would be impossible to heal the wound now.

How many good Samaritans have passed by on the other side indifferent to the suffering in sight? Is it no one's business to dispose of cases like this?

Wild Animals Increasing in National Park

The following interesting account of game animals in the Yellowstone National Park, is taken from "Wonderland," the Northern Pacific booklet written by Olin D. Wheeler, the historian and descriptive writer.

With each succeeding year the wild animals in the park become a more important feature of it. Here is really the only place where the public in general can see, unhampered and gratis, the animals of the forest and the wilds in their natural state. It has required years of experience for the elk, deer, antelope and mountain sheep to become accustomed with the fact in anything like large numbers, that in Yellowstone Park man is not evilly disposed toward them. The bears learned this long ago and have turned the knowledge to good account, as their fat bodies and sleek, shining coats abundantly testify.

Now the other animals evince less and less timidity and it is a most delectable sight, as the coaches drive along, to see an elk or two staking their thirst in the stream, or several deer quietly feeding in the woods near the road and so unconcernedly as to scarcely notice the passing procession. The efforts to increase the buffalo herd by outside purchases and to corral them where they can be fed and protected, is meeting with success. They are corralled in a large pasture at Mammoth Hot Springs and appear to take kindly to the situation. The new herd was purchased in the fall of 1902 and in exactly two years it had lost but two and had gained 20, a net gain of 18 and increasing the herd to 37. Of the increase 17 were by natural means and three were young calves caught on the range of the wild herd and brought to the corral pasture.

There are between 1000 and 1200 antelopes in the park, most of them living on and around Mount Everts, near Mammoth Hot Springs. From 100 to 200 mountain sheep are supposed also to have their habitat on Mount Everts. Both sheep and antelopes are more wary than the other animals and disappear in the spring, and just where the sheep pass their summer vacation is not definitely known.

In the fall, winter and spring both antelopes and sheep are found in large numbers on the hills and flats about Gardiner and Mammoth Hot Springs. To some extent they are fed by the authorities at Fort Yellowstone, which serves to render them less timorous and to domesticate them in some degree. The deer are increasing in number and the beautiful creatures are seen more and more each year along the roads and around the hotels. During the fall, winter and spring, like the sheep and antelopes, they become a very familiar feature of the hills and parade ground at Fort Yellowstone, or Mammoth Hot Springs. It is the elk, however, that throng the park in countless numbers, and during the summer they are not infrequently seen by the tourists from the coaches. They seclude themselves more or less, however, in the valleys and timber. I have found them by hundreds around Shoshone lake and in Hayden valley, and there are bands of them that frequent the upper parts of Mount Washburn and Dunraven peak. Those who wish to see large bodies of elk, young and old, can easily do so by riding on horseback a few miles up Alum creek, from either the Grand canyon or the Yellowstone Lake hotel.

The bears are much in evidence near the hotels and require no exertion, beyond a walk of a few rods by tourists, to see them. Any evening or morning, with rare exceptions, from one to 20 or more may be seen eating from the refuse piles of the hotels.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Mr. R. F. Payne, (Payne's pharmacy) Idaho Falls, Idaho, writes: "We have just sold the last cure, (TRIB), and one-half dozen at once. Trib has cured five of the hardest kind of cases. One man here used it last September, and cannot smell wine, liquor or beer now without making him sick. He had been a hard drinker for 15 years."

Father Desmarais, pastor of the Roman Catholic church, The Dalles, Ore., writes: "I know of good results obtained by the use of your Trib in curing liquor and tobacco users."
