OFF FOR EUROPE.

Dr. Vaughan and Wife Start Eastward This Evening.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Vaughan will leave Pendleton this evening upon their tour of the United States and Europe. From here the two will go to New York, stopping briefly at Denver, Chicago, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia. From New York they will take a liner for Gibraltar, Spain, and from that place will cross to Algiers, Africa. From Algiers they will cross the Mediterranean to Na-

Some time after midnight a lamp exploded in the sleeping room of the children, throwing burning oil over the beds and setting fire to the floor and walls. Mr. Campbell dashed up stairs in his night clothes, beat the fire as best he could with bedding and carried out the children. Falling in a faint at the burning door he was dragged unconscious to the fresh air by his wife and older daughter where he son revived. A cry of anguish arose from the mother when she found that her youngest child was still missing. Although frantically burned Mr. Campbell with heroic courage fought his way through the raging fire and carried out the unconscious babe.

It was not until 20 minutes later when the child was revived, that Mr. Campbell let his family know the extent of his injuries.

Dr. Kaackly was called as soon as possible and dressed the burns. He pronounced Mr. Campbell and one grandchild in a precarious condition, and the other two children severely burned.—Boise Statesman.

Addition to State Normal.
The plans and specifications for the annex to the normal college building will be kept at the office of the normal school and will be open to contractors. It is expected that a number of preliminary estimates will be made before the plans are acted upon by the board, which will be in June, when the southern members of the board are in attendance. The proposed building to be constructed this year is located to the east of the main building and will be seen in the left part of the drawing of the front elevation. The state appropriation provides $30,000 for the construction of the new addition to the building and it is expected the plans now submitted can be carried out within the sum of the appropriation.—Lewiston Tribune.

Los Angeles Society People Guilty of Burglary.
Los Angeles, June 1.—A. W. Melolting was sentenced to five years in Folsom and his wife, Almee, to three years at San Quentin. Both were convicted of burglary. They mixed in society and were prominent in the best circles. They committed robberies in fashionable hotels where they lived.

Judge Smith in sentencing, attempted a fatherly talk and was cut short by Melolting with the remark, "May your heart soon be as soft as your head."

They proceeded with good judgment, with patience, and with a resolution.

Their appointed task was fraught with far-reaching consequences and beset with unknown dangers. The expedition lay far beyond the frontier and the reach of aid should grave perils arise. We must measure the undertaking from the environment of the time in which it was laid. The courage which calmly braves unseen perils is often of a higher order than that which confronts known dangers.

This exposition has risen as an expression of the gratitude of the people for what brave men wrought for humanity and civilization in the long ago.
