Three beautiful weddings will be solemnized in Pendleton this evening, this happy date to break all of Cupid's records in this city.

At 8 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, Miss Blanche Gulliford will become the bride of Dr. R. E. Ringo, the ceremony to be performed by Rev. G. L. Kirby, of Elgin; Katherine Williamson, of The Dalles; Nellie Ringo, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McEachern, Helix, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Stein, Milton. Dr. and Mrs. Ringo will be at home at 704 Thompson street, after June 21.

Thompson-Catlin.

The Church of the Redeemer will be the scene of another delightful wedding at 8:30 when Dr. Henry Dixon Jones, rector of this church, pronounces the impressive ceremony which will make Miss Ida Thompson the charming bride of Seth Catlin. The out-of-town guests for this pleasant event are as follows: Louis Woodward, Portland, best man; Geo. A. Warren, Portland, usher; Katherine and Francella Duncan and Blanch Horne; Blanche Margaret, and Rebecca Catlin, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. James B. Welch, of Portland. A reception will be held at the home on Water street from 9 to 10 p. m.

A quiet home wedding was witnessed by a few friends today at the home of the bride, on Lewis street, when Miss Iona Marsh became the bride of Walter Ely, of Athena, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. H. Brooks, of the First Christian church, and it was a most delightful home event. The out-of-town guests were: Cleo Bealer, Beatrice Bradshaw, Stella Laland, Joe N. Scott, Wilbur Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pinkerton, all of Weston, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thompson, of this city. SHOT HIS BROTHER

ELI PARR, INDIAN, AT THE HOSPITAL WOUNDED.

His Brother, Joe, Emptied Both Barrels of a Shotgun Into His Legs and the Lower Part of His Body—He Is Dangerously Wounded—Both Men Were Drunk and the Quarrel Was Over a Bottle of Whiskey.

As the result of a drunken quarrel yesterday afternoon, Eli Parr, a half-breed of the reservation, is now at the hospital here with the lower portion of his body filled with shot from the two barrels of a shotgun, and his brother, Joe Parr, who did the shooting, is a fugitive from the Indian police.

The shooting occurred near the house of Joe Parr yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The two brothers were then on the way to Eli Parr's house, just across the land, and at the time of the shooting no one else was with them. However, the mother, the wife of Joe and Narcisse, an Indian policeman and his wife were near by.

According to the account given of the affair by Narcisse today, both men were under the influence of liquor which had been brought out from town by Joe. However, Eli was apparently in the worse condition. In some way they became engaged in a quarrel, and Eli is said to have taken a bottle of whiskey belonging to his brother. He says Joe told him to give it back or he would shoot him, but that he did not think he would do so. Both barrels of the shotgun were emptied into Eli, and from indications he was probably eight or 10 feet away at the time.

The wounded man was taken to his own house and Dr. Henderson was sent for. The latter arrived shortly and dressed the injured man as well as possible. This morning he was brought to the hospital. While his injuries are not necessarily fatal, being all in his lower limbs, it is said to be doubtful if he will recover, as he is badly torn by the shot, both barrels being fired at such a range that he received almost the full charge.

Immediately after the shooting Joe Parr left the place and though seen again last evening on the reservation, has not been arrested. However, it is thought by the Indians that he will come back to his mother's house to get food, and that he will give himself up unless his brother should die. Should he try to avoid arrest it is feared he will be hard to take, as he is known as a "bad man" and liable to put up a fight unless those taking him have the drop on him. Eli Parr, the wounded man, finished a term in the city jail a few days ago, having been given five days for fighting. His brother, Ike Parr, was given three days this morning by Judge Fitz Gerald for being drunk on the streets.

Parr Armed to the Teeth.

This afternoon it was said by Narcisse Bushman, the Indian policeman, that Parr was last seen at sundown yesterday and that he was then headed up the river. Right after the shooting he is said to have taken two rifles from his house and 30 or 40 cartridges, telling his mother that he would not be taken. Under the recent opinions of the supreme court, it is the duty of the United States marshal to handle the case, and none of the local officers have authority to act in the matter without a warrant from the marshal's office. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the wounded half-breed was said to be in no immediate danger.

INSTRUCTION CAR HERE.

Air Brake Expert Now Instructing O. R. & N. Train and Enginemen in Technical Questions.

Bert Chapman, air brake expert and former traveling engineer on the Short Line, is in the city today in charge of the O. R. & N. instruction car, and is giving instructions and examinations to O. R. & N. employees who have headquarters here.

The car is a 50-foot coach, equipped with brake rigging equal to a 50-car train, having all the air appliances in detail for the information of the employees whose duty it is to handle trains and engines.

The car is equipped with a steam boiler and all the machinery may be operated just as in actual operation, thus giving the employees practical instruction in handling the various appliances. Mr. Chapman is an expert air brake and engine man and travels with the car from one end of the Harriman system to the other in giving instructions.

CONDUCTOR KELSAY TRANSFERS

Conductor W. H. Kelsay, who has been on the Pendleton-Huntington passenger run of the O. R. & N. for the past five years, has transferred to the Portland run and will take the place made vacant by the resignation of Conductor W. E. Coman.

This will advance Conductor J. L. McCrary, of the La Grande freight division to the position of passenger conductor with headquarters in this city. Conductor Kelsay arrived last night on No. 2, on his second trip to Portland, and is delighted with the new run, as it gives a chance to be in the metropolis twice a week, and he much prefers the river run to that over the Blue mountains.

MISS CUNNINGHAM'S TROUBLE.

Hot-headed Merchant Caused Her Arrest Without Cause—Had Money in Bank to Cash Check.

Because of the impetuosity and short-sightedness of a Hebrew jewelry merchant of Portland, one of the Feldenheimer Brothers, Miss Wavelle Cunningham, of this city, has been given much unjust notoriety and criticism through the press of Portland and San Francisco.

Miss Cunningham left her home in this city for a visit to Portland and San Francisco, about a month ago, and while in Portland purchased $199 worth of jewelry for friends, giving in payment a check on Ladd & Tilton's bank. Before presenting the check for payment at the bank and without investigating, Feldenheimer phoned the chief of police to arrest Miss Cunningham as a forger, and as she had proceeded to San Francisco with friends the chief of police at that city was also wired to be on the lookout for her.

When Feldenheimer presented the check it was paid and although Miss Cunningham was arrested she was immediately released and will return home this week. Her mother received a message from her today at Dunsmuir, Cal., on her way home.
