SHEEP INDUSTRY

AMERICA NOW LEADS IN THE PRODUCTION.

Department of Agriculture Has Been Chief Factor in Securing Increased Number of Sheep in Eastern States—Over 45,000,000 Sheep in the United States—Valued at $127,331,855—Only Two States Entirely Free From Scab.

America is becoming yearly more of a sheep raising and mutton eating country, writes the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. This is due primarily to the initiative of the department of agriculture, which for the last 10 years has been hammering at the farmer to raise sheep instead of exporting his surplus grain, and which has helped him in every way to this end.

One result is that there were reported on the first of this year over 45,000,000 sheep on the farms and ranches of the United States, valued at $127,331,855, as against less than 38,000,000 in 1899. The receipts of the Chicago stockyards are reaching upward every year since 1894, when the yards took over a million more mutton sheep than in the previous year.

The department is anxious to impress on the farmer the value of sheep as one of his farm products, and it points out that, which the sale of $1,000 worth of corn takes from the soil $300 worth of fertility, the farmer would have to spend that much in fertilizers to recoup the land. The same amount of corn converted into good mutton and sold at a higher price than the corn would fetch takes in the end from the land not over $50 worth of fertility, and if the flock was kept for wool alone it would not reduce the value of the land more than $3 or $4.

There is particular interest attaching to the sheep raising problem just now, because the price of mutton is going up by leaps, not only in the stores where the consumer has to buy it, for every one realizes this, but in Chicago, where lambs recently have touched the unprecedented figure of $8 per hundredweight, and are now selling at about $7.25.

During the early days in America sheep were bred primarily for the wool and during recent years we have been importing annually, in addition, from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 worth of wool. But the wool industry in this country has come to the point where it frequently does not pay to raise the sheep for the fleece alone. There, has therefore, been an increasing effort to get a good combination breed that would live in large flocks on the range, furnish a good fleece and at the same time be a good mutton sheep.

The farmers of the east still are confining themselves to the English breeds of downs and shires, which are great meat producers, while the western ranches depend largely on the old Mexican sheep, which is a descendant of the fine merinos imported by the Spaniards, but which has been affected by environment till it has developed characteristics of its own and is in a great many respects an ideal sheep for the range.

The fleece of the Mexican is made finer and improved by the introduction of pure merino rams on the range, and when the strain of merino begins to show too much, making a weaker and more delicate sheep, with fine, silky wool, the breed is strengthened by the introduction of some coarser wool sheep, like the Oxfords. So the balance is maintained.

The department has convinced the farmer of the value of sheep as one of his farm products, but it is continuing its educational work, and is anxious to impress the farmer with the fact that he still imports over half a million dollars annually of Canadian mutton in spite of the heavy tariff against it.

The great work that the department is striving for now is the eradication of sheep scab, which costs the country hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. The department commenced a crusade in this direction several years ago.

Up to the present moment there are two states entirely cleared of scab and with the right to quarantine against the rest of the world, and as the national government is allowed to go into the remaining states and territories the whole country will be cleared out and the disease, which is the greatest foe the sheepman has to encounter, will be completely eradicated.

A good many non-farmers may not know just what sheep scab is, and for their benefit it may be well to say that it is simply a sheep parasite that gets under the skin and causes the wool to fall, completely ruining the fleece and eventually weakening the sheep till it dies.

The disease is acutely contagious and till a few years ago had spread all over the United States without a check being found for it. Now, it is known to be comparatively easily cured, the sheep being simply dipped in a solution that kills the parasite. Ether, tobacco and sulphur or lime and sulphur are used for this, though there are a hundred different "cures" now on the market.

THE TIME WILL COME.

When the Advice of This Pendleton
Resident Will Help Out.

Very few people are entirely free from backache. It does not take much to derange the kidneys. A little cold, a strain, stooping positions or hard work, overtaxes those delicate organs, and many aches and pains promptly follow. A Pendleton citizen tells you how every kidney ail can be relieved and cured. Read about it:

Mrs. Fred Noble, who lives at 219 Coe street, says: "I was troubled for three or four years with my back and kidneys, and was oppressed with a tired feeling all the time. My back commenced to ache whenever I did the least amount of work around the house that compelled me to lift anything or stoop over. The kidneys were irregular and annoyed me, especially if I caught cold. I felt sleepy or drowsy all the time. I used many different medicines, some of which helped me, and some of which did not. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended that I went to the Brock & McComas drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and did me more good than anything of the kind I had ever used. I am feeling better since the treatment than I had in a long, long time before, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
