EXHIBITS NOT CLASSIFIED.

Commissioner Walker Says the Exhibits Sent to Portland Lack Proper Information.

Commissioner Horace Walker returned last night from Portland, where he attended the good roads convention and also visited and assisted at the Umatilla county exhibit at the Lewis and Clark fair.

Mr. Walker says that people sending in fruit and grain exhibits to the fair fail to properly tag and name them, in most cases no names of exhibitor, classification, kind of grain or fruit, what the wheat yielded or tested, or any other information is given with the exhibit.

He suggests that people sending in exhibits see that the names of the exhibit, the name of the grain or fruit, where it was grown, how much it yields, and all other information possible be attached to the exhibits.

Exhibits are coming in slowly and it is the desire of the county court to have every one interested in the matter of making a creditable exhibit from this county to make a personal effort to increase the products at the Umatilla county booth by sending in everything possible that would be of interest.

Umatilla is as well represented as other eastern Oregon counties and is adding to her exhibit constantly, some of the finest fruit seen in any exhibit arriving from Milton this week.

EVIDENCE ALL IN IN TAYLOR CASE.

McElroy. Following this both sides rested.

Colonel Raley, for the defense, thereupon addressed the court requesting that certain instructions be given the jury. Of these the principal one was that there was no case against the defendant if it was shown that the complainant through an agent, or personally himself participated in the plot. To establish this point a supreme court decision in a Baker county case was given. In that case the supreme court had held that since the complainants had through an agent, or detective, assisted in a cattle steal in order to trap the defendants, there could be no case against the defendants.

The above case was held by the district attorney to be not applicable in the case, at bar, and the matter was taken under advisement by the court.

The arguments in the case were then proceeded with, District Attorney Phelps opening for the state at 2:45. At the time of going to press the case had not yet been given to the jury.

PORTAGE MAY BE EXTENDED.

Largest River Boats May Not Be Able to Reach Big Eddy.

The portage road may be extended from Big Eddy, three miles into the city of The Dalles. This matter is now being agitated by the people of The Dalles and vicinity, and it is possible that it may be favorably considered by the state.

Owing to the fact that larger river boats are to be used on the lower river it may be possible that all the boats plying between Portland and The Dalles will not be able to reach the Big Eddy and the portage wharf. At the present time all the boats in use can make the trip easily, but if larger vessels are placed in commission to handle the wheat crop this year, it is thought to be doubtful about their reaching the portage.

The state commission has formally received the portage from the contractors, although final payment of $30,000 due on the contract will be withheld for 30 days, according to the contract, until all the specifications in the work have been thoroughly gone over by the state board.

A meeting of the portage commission will be held soon to consider the matter of making the rates to be charged on the portage.

Boise is soon to have two additional letter carriers.

BOLD GANG CAUGHT

BOUNTY THIEVES OF UTAH RUN TO EARTH.

Robbed the State of Large Sums Through Fraudulent Coyote Scalp Affidavits — Estimated That $100,000 Has Been Stolen From the State in the Past Year — Thieves Were Assisted by Deputy County Clerks.

San Francisco, June 24.—In seeking to recover some of the money looted from the Utah state treasury by a rascally gang of bounty swindlers the officials of the Mormon state have traced $15,000 or $18,000 to San Francisco.

The spoil was brought here by the wives of two members of the ring—John Gorman, with 29 aliases, and John Meyers, who is also plentifully supplied with false names—both of whom are in Salt Lake under arrest. The two women are now in this city.

The money is supposed to be on safe deposit in one or other of the following banks, or in all of them: The Bank of California, the Crocker-Woolworth bank and the Union Trust company. Under Sheriff John C. Sharp, of Salt Lake City, who returned to Utah on Sunday after spending a fortnight here, had garnished orders served on the banks named, prohibiting them from releasing the money.

Utah has been the victim of gigantic bounty frauds, having, it is estimated, been swindled out of $100,000 in 12 months. The ring is now broken up and three of its members are serving sentences on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state. The frauds were made possible by the connivance of two deputy county clerks, who paid bounties on the same hides over and over again.

The law says that hides must be mutilated as soon as the bounty is paid and then handed back to the person presenting them. The procedure of the gang was to first secure payment of the bounty from an honest county official and then take the same hides to one of the two deputies who were standing in with them in the conspiracy.

The bribed deputies would pass the same hides time and again, and it is said that bounty had been paid on some skins 10 times. So brazen did the gang become in the end that its members collected the bounty without even presenting the skins.

At other times they collected the amount of a hundred bounties on 10 skins. The bounty on coyotes is $1.50 and that on wolves $5. Thousands of times the higher sum was paid in respect of coyote skins stretched and called wolf skins.

The same gang, with the same old skins, previously worked the states of Nevada, Idaho, Nebraska and Texas. It is believed that the ring, when smashed by the Utah government, was contemplating a raid on the California treasury.

Bought 1200 Cattle.

Joe Combs, of Grant county has received about 1200 head of cattle in this county during the past week. Our people are about $3000 better off owing to Mr. Combs having invaded this territory, as he paid at least $2 per head more than the other buyers who were operating here.—Fossil Journal.
