

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Appointment Held Up.
It is reported here today that the appointment of Prosecuting Attorney W. E. Stillinger to the office of deputy United States prosecuting attorney, has been held up by the federal government on account of Mr. Stillinger's alleged connection with land deals. It is understood that United States Attorney Ruick today received a telegram to the effect that the appointment had been held up and that a letter would follow giving full particulars. It is alleged that Mr. Stillinger filed on government land several years ago and was located by a representative of the Humboldt timber syndicate. It is also alleged that a number of persons who located lands at the same time Mr. Stillinger made his filing have since turned their holdings over to the Humboldt people, and it is understood that an investigation of these transactions is now being made. Inspector Cullom, of the Lewiston land office, was here today and will return tomorrow and it is stated his investigations here are in connection with the transfers in which it is alleged Mr. Stillinger has been a participant.—Moscow Miner.

Hurt by Slow Blast.
Perry Loy was painfully injured yesterday afternoon while assisting in blasting out a well. The accident occurred upon the homestead of his son, Dallas Loy, just opposite Astoria. Mr. Loy bored a hole in the rock, filled it with giant powder, set the fuse and lighted it. After waiting some time and the powder not exploding, he concluded that the fuse being an old one had gone out. He accordingly walked up to the hole and commenced to investigate when the charge went off, throwing him in the air. A large number of small pieces of rock hit his face and body, mostly on the left side. One piece, however, lodged in his right eye, causing him a great deal of pain. Mr. Loy was immediately taken to his home in Astoria and Dr. Fursey was called in who dressed the wounds. The patient's face is badly marked and bruised.—Astoria Sentinel.

Military Land Sold.
Lots seven and eight, comprising part of the Fort Walla Walla military reserve, were sold at public auction by Register Joseph Mohundro at the Walla Walla office this morning. Lot seven, consisting of 9.15 acres, was bought by M. E. Dwyer for $50 an acre, and lot eight, consisting of 13.69 acres, was bought by Logan Mulkey for $70 an acre. The two lots lie immediately north of the military reservation and west of Walla Walla, and at one time formed a part of the military reserve. The land was turned back to the government at the time it was intersected by the O. R. & N. and since then has been occupied by squatters.

By the terms of the sale the new purchasers must pay the tenants for the improvements.—Walla Walla Statesman.

Eight Sacks of Ore Stolen.
Deputy Sheriff Jess Snow has gained considerable notoriety as a prosecuting attorney in the Greenhorn district, though he lost his case. While Abel and Rose, the miners who made the big strike in the Greenhorn district a few days ago, were in Baker City selling their first output, the news published in the Herald reached the district and a raid was made on their claim. Eight sacks of ore were stolen and the owners sent for Deputy Snow. When he reached the place two men by the name of Hamby and Comstock were under arrest on the charge before the justice court. The eight sacks of ore were valued at $800 and the evidence was pretty strong against the defendants. The ore had been found concealed near their camp.—Baker City Herald.

Baker County Has Poor Exhibit.
Colonel W. F. Butcher, who has just returned from Portland, where he visited the fair, says that Baker county is represented the most poorly of any of the counties of the state. He says there is not even a jar of gold, or a sign of gold in the entire Baker county exhibit. Little fruit, grain or other products are on exhibition. The mining industries of eastern Oregon are well represented in Mr. Mellis' private exhibit in the general mines building. It is suggested that there should be a big sign in the Baker county space setting forth the fact that we raise gold here and some other things, and have a fair sample of each to substantiate that statement.—Baker City Democrat.

HOW PORTLAND WAS NAMED.

Two Pioneers "Flipped a Penny" to Select Either Boston or Portland.
The penny that named the city of Portland is in town and on exhibition at the cigar counter in the Oregon Hotel says a Portland paper. It is the property of Frank W. Pettigrove, of Seattle, district manager for the J. A. Folger company, and the story of how it named Portland follows:
In 1842, Mr. Pettigrove's father took upon himself a wife, and started on a honeymoon journey to Oregon, going in a sailing vessel around Cape Horn. He brought a cargo of goods with him intending to open a store upon his arrival.

One interesting feature, and one that shows how little Eastern people knew of the West at that time, is that Mr. Pettigrove, Sr., brought with him a large quantity of red paint, expecting to sell it to the Indians to paint their faces.
The bark Teuton, upon which the journey was made, was a slow craft, and put in at Honolulu, a part of her cargo being for that port. This made the journey almost a year and a half in length, and before the destination was reached, the first child was born to the Pettigroves.

When Pettigrove reached the mouth of the Columbia river there was no pilot. The ship was sailed over the bar, after soundings had been made, and continued on up the river to where Portland now stands the original destination of the party being Oregon City.

Opposite what is now Portland the skipper found it impossible to proceed further, owing to low water. Pettigrove conceived the idea of building a city at the head of navigation. He broached the subject to A. L. Lovejoy, a member of the party from Massachusetts. From John Overton they purchased a claim where the business section of Portland now stands. The claim was purchased for $500. It is now worth thousands of times that sum.

Here a city was laid out in the woods. The time for naming it arrived. Lovejoy desired to name it Boston, after the most important city in his state. Pettigrove wanted to name it Portland, after the most important city in Maine, his native state. They agreed to toss a penny. Heads to mean Boston, tails to mean Portland, the best two in three to be the choice. Lovejoy got the first toss; Lovejoy got the second, and the third proved to be tails, and Portland it was.

The younger Pettigrove still has the identical penny, and would not take any amount of money for it. His father kept it for a pocketpiece, and it has been handed down to the son, who bears the father's name. It is dated 1845, and is one of those large coins in vogue at that time, about the size of a quarter of the present day.

An Open Letter.
We would understand that, because of misrepresentations, failure to make good, inflated values slightly reduced, etc., etc., practiced by some concerns, many people of Pendleton have lost confidence in all advertisements, and yet if you will stop to think, there is a difference. We have always tried to give the very best values and to live up strictly to our advertisements. In this issue of the East Oregonian you will find a half page ad of the GOLDEN RULE STORE. We hope you will do us the kindness to read it. All we can here say is that the representations there made are true. Come and see us.
