

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Idaho's New State Road.

Whiteway & Hicks, the Welser contractors were the fortunate bidders for the Warren-Big creek wagon road their proposal to do all the work called for in the advertisement for a total sum of $25,000 being considered the best bid, and that firm gets the contract. The work includes about 35 miles of road construction, with a bridge across the south fork of the Salmon river. But one other bid was received for the entire work, that of the Northwestern Bridge & Construction company.

The road will be built on what is known as Elk creek summit route, which the commission accepted as accommodating the greater number of people.

The state will bear half the expense of the road, the balance of the money being raised by subscription. Twelve thousand dollars has been subscribed already and it is not believed any trouble will be experienced in raising the remainder. The Wendenhoff company came forward with a check for $5000 and the Independence contributed $500. Meadows, Warren, Welser and Idaho county gave $1000 each and Fred Burdick $500.—Boise Capital News.

Sam Dorrance at Fernie.

Sam Dorrance, well known here, returned from a tour of inspection of the Moose Mountain country in British Columbia this morning and while there met Steve Wallace, who was grown in this valley and who left for foreign lands on rather short notice, who is now mayor of the city of Fernie and is said to be easily worth $100,000, having a monthly income from rentals of $1200. He owns the leading hotel and other property, and stated that he thought possible he could visit Grand Ronde valley this summer.—La Grande Observer.

Will Close Grand Ronde Mine.

Emory Probstel secured a verdict against William Muir and Polk Mays for $2000 as an amount due for commissions for the sale of their mining property on Grand Ronde river, and Emory Probstel and Milan Stephenson secured a judgment against Muir, Mays, Neppie, Landsman, Ward and Kruse and a restraining order was issued today which, when served, will cause operations on the mine to cease until the judgment is satisfied.—La Grande Observer.

Klickitat Day at Portland.

Yesterday was supposed to be Goldendale day at the exposition, but few of our people took notice of the matter. Our business men should get together and select a day that would be suitable for the greatest number, then notify the fair management when we can be there. A proper showing will then be made. We'll take the band along and paint Portland red. Instead of Goldendale day, let it be Klickitat. The whole county can have a reunion.—Goldendale Sentinel.

$150 Per Acre.

J. C. Hyberger has sold to Leon La France, through the White Salmon Land company, his 16-acre ranch in the Cook settlement for $1500 Mr. Hyberger has owned the land but two years and this year took off in the neighborhood of $700 worth of berries. He paid $500 for the ranch, showing the possibilities in land speculation in this section.—Hood River Glacier.

20,000-Pound Load of Wool.

The M. M. Co. reports having received by one team 43 bags of wool, weighing 20,099 pounds. This load was hauled in by S. W. Gould of Skulls Springs. Some of the wool bags weighed 500 pounds and a large majority of them went over 500 pounds. If any one on the line can show of having received a larger load of wool than this they will have to show us, and prove it, too.—Ontario Democrat.

Negro to the Penitentiary.

Ed Andrew, the negro who was found guilty of assault with a dangerous weapon on the person of Fred Lemke, a week ago, was sentenced by Judge Bradshaw this morning to a two-years term in the penitentiary, and was taken to Salem this afternoon.—The Dalles Chronicle.

PORTLAND HAS 130,000.

Population of the Metropolis Increases 44 Per Cent in Five Years.

Portland has increased 44 per cent, or 40,000, in population in the last five years, says the Oregon Daily Journal.

The federal census of 1900 showed the population to be 90,426. By natural increase and the annexation of a vacant territory, which was voted in the June election, the population is now 130,000. Were the suburbs immediately contiguous to be included in the population, according to the plan adopted by most cities, taking in all communities so near that the people resident therein regard the city as their place of business, Portland's population would be 150,000 or 180,000.

But the figures here given are those shown by the actual returns of the deputy assessors, engaged in taking the state census.

In presenting the figures 130,000 as the present population of Portland, actual names are on the assessor's rolls to support the statement, and these are not the names of any people who live outside the city limits. Although the assessor has not finally made up the total he has enough precincts completed to ascertain accurately what the increase over the population of 1900 is to be. He finds that the ratio of registered voters is about 4.6 per cent. There are 24,500 registered voters in the city proper. Consequently there are 115,000 people in the old city limits of Portland. The extension of those limits by the last June election adds sections containing about 15,000 people.

The Boise Artesian Hot and Cold Water company is perfecting plans for extensive enlargements of its system throughout the city that will involve an expenditure of more than $100,000, and will double the capacity of the plant, giving service to every street in the city.—Boise Capital News.

700-Pound Silver Tip.

Last week Peter McMillan, of Husum, shot a 700-pound silver tip near Michigan City, back of the mountain.

In the chase the best dog was killed and it fell to the lot of Mr. McMillan to get the lucky shot that ended the career of one of the largest bears killed this season in this section. Mr. Jones has the honor of killing six last season, but so far bears have taken to the tall timber and it means many promises before a scent is found.—Goldendale Sentinel.

There are a large number of horse thieves operating in this state and eastern Oregon at present, daily reports are being sent in from Silver City, Jordan Valley, Bruneau, Welser and Ontario, inquiring about missing stock, they are so bold that they entered the livery stable of Dave Weir, of Jordan Valley and got away with a fine span of roadsters.—Caldwell News.
