Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders. At Tallman & Co.'s drug store. Price 50c.

MAKE BAD SHOWING

COUNTY SCHOOL RECORDS ARE INCOMPLETE.

Harney and Josephine Counties' Reports Are the Subject of Much Surprise to State Superintendent—Registers of Attendance Are Not Kept Up and Make an Incorrect Showing of School Attendance—Superintendent Urges More Attention to This Matter.

The county superintendents of Harney and Josephine counties are the first to comply with the law in regard to the filing of annual reports of the conditions in respective counties, says the Salem Statesman.

One particularly peculiar difference shown in the conditions respecting the two counties is that while the 1905 census shows an increase of 108 persons of school age in Harney county over last year, or a total of 1114, the school attendance has fallen off to the extent of 24,121 days.

In Josephine county the total school population for 1905 is given as 3013, or an increase of 136 over last year, and there is also a healthy increase of 5410 days school attendance shown for the school year 1904-05 over the previous years.

In Josephine county there are 103 teachers employed, against 81 last season, the increase being wholly in female teachers, and the scale of salaries for female teachers has advanced from an average of $39 a month last year to $41 the present year, while the average of $52 per month paid male teachers last year has dropped to an average of $48.

In Harney county there were 32 teachers employed during the 1904-05 school year, whereas there was a total of 37 for the year previous and the salary scale has advanced from an average of $73.33 for male teachers per month, to $75, as shown by the reports, and from $53.50 to $60 in the case of female teachers.

In speaking of the falling off in attendance in Harney county Superintendent Ackerman said he could not account for it except through the failure of the teachers to keep an accurate account of their registers.

This could only be remedied, he thinks, by the county superintendent checking up the district clerk's reports and ascertaining the cause of the shortage in attendance and where it exists and inquire into the cause.

The only way that teachers could be induced or compelled to keep their registers up and get them into the county superintendent at the close of the term would be to withhold the teacher's salary for the last month and pay it over to him upon the condition that he send in his register in due season for the verification of the superintendent.

He also recommends, as a permanent remedy to the failure of teachers and clerks to keep up their attendance registers, the adoption of the system in practice in Washington of making the school apportionment upon the general attendance rather than the school population.

PREPARED FOR STRIKE.

Northern Pacific Officials Send 30 Office Clerks to Take Place of Telegraphers.

Seattle, July 12.—Thirty clerks from the office of freight auditor of the Northern Pacific railroad in St. Paul, have been dispatched to Seattle for distribution over the system as station agents at the smaller stations in case of a strike of the telegraphers of the system.

The telegraphers have served the officials of the company with a demand for the reinstatement of certain employes discharged on account of their activity in the organization of the men, and a further demand for compliance with the terms of an agreement between the railroads and the employes in reference to Sunday pay and the elimination of charges for rent where quarters are not furnished. The controversy is expected to come to a head within a day or two.

The clerks just sent here it is thought will be able to keep the road in operation, should a strike be declared. Most of them learned telegraphy in the general offices of the company and do not belong to the union. None of them have had any experience with train orders however, and train and enginemans may strike if they go to work.

LONE ROBBER FOILED.

Attempted to Hold Up a Pullman Car in Idaho.

A special from Spokane to the Oregon Daily Journal says:

The daring attempt of a lone robber to hold up a Pullman car was frustrated last night by Pullman Conductor Healey, of the Northern Pacific passenger No. 4. About midnight, just after the train left Sand Point, Idaho, Healey found the robber in the vestibule of the sleeper and pluckily grappled with him.

In the scuffle the robber shot at Healey, the bullet passing through his coat. He then beat Healey until the conductor was almost insensible. Becoming frightened the robber made no effort to hold up the passengers, but tried to signal the engineer to stop the train. Falling in this, he leaped from the car and vanished. Healey was badly beaten but not seriously injured. This is the third hold up near Sand Point in the last five years. No clue to the robber is reported.

BOISE'S "DRY" SUNDAY.

Awful Experiences of the Old Drinkers in Idaho's Capital.

If there was anything "drier" than the city of Boise Sunday it was fortunate there was no one around to touch a match to it, says the Boise Statesman. Although the early and Sunday closing ordinance went into effect at midnight there were some who had allowed that fact to escape their minds and they came down town as usual for their "morning's morning."

They were confronted by an army of Yale locks that brought them to a realizing sense of the change and they left the business district with an arid feeling that nothing short of a government project could relieve. But they were for the most part richly compensated. They discovered that they had plenty of time to go home and visit with their wives and children—and they did it, to the mutual enjoyment of all concerned.

Blow Almost Killed "Moochers."

Perhaps the blow fell hardest upon the crowd of loungers who have made their beds for years in the cushionless chairs around the walls of what are known as the distinctively beer drinking places of the city. They were unceremoniously routed out at 12 o'clock Saturday night. They roosted on store boxes in alleys and behind barrels. How they longed for the comforts of their former "easy" couches.

Unaccustomed to the open air treatment they were a fagged-out lot when the warm sun drove them from their new lodgings yesterday morning. In vain they hovered around the doors of their once happy homes. Dejectedly they glued their eyes to the locks. As saloonkeepers passed along they begged them to open up just for a minute and give them only one little drink. But the owners of the refreshment parlors were unrelenting. They may have regarded the Sunday closing as a blessing in disguise because of the possibility of the operation of the ordinance freeing them of this very undesirable class of "moochers."

"Go to work somewhere, you fellows," said one saloon proprietor to a bunch of beer-eating toppers. "That thirst would soon leave you then."

"Work!" they echoed dimly.

"That'll be the next reform ordinance passed in Boise," said the saloon man.

Five of the seven immediately started for the station in search of an unreserved "blind baggage."

NEGRO GIRL FOUND RICHES.

While Hunting Cows Stumbled Over Immensely Rich Quartz.

A colored servant, Miss Nannie Brown, while out looking for a stray cow, stumbled over a gopher hole from which had been thrown out several pieces of quartz which fairly glistened with gold, says a dispatch from Homestake, Mont. On account of their beauty, she took several specimens to her employer, who immediately recognized their character and in a short time the whole vicinity was staked out.

Assays made by a number of Butte chemists show that the rock carries more than $1000 a ton in gold. Two shafts have been sunk 30 feet and two large, well defined leads carrying free milling gold in which the particles can easily be seen, have been uncovered. About $10,000 worth of ore has already been blocked out.

Some years ago James Brown, city editor of the Butte Inter-Mountain, located a claim only 100 feet from where the find was made, but after working some time, it was abandoned.

Houser Secures Another Mine.

The Present Nevada mine, which has attained some prominence of late, owing to the mysterious disappearance of W. E. Gifford, has recently passed into the hands of new management. Zoeth Houser, manager of the Dixie mine, has secured a bond and lease on the property and will proceed with a systematic development. Mr. Houser has milled considerable ore from this mine at his Dixie mill and knows the character of the ore. George Baker will have charge of the work.—Prairie City Miner.

THE BREAKERS

Long Beach

WE HAVE REPLACED the old Hotel Breakers which was burned down last fall, with a handsome new building, plastered inside and out, and practically fire-proof. The new building has twice the floor space of the old one and is located on the same site about a stone's throw distant from the ocean. It has all the modern improvements, electric lights, steam heat, private baths; it has both hot and cold salt water in the building. Our amusements include billiards, pool, tennis, golf, bowling, boating, fishing and other sports.

Our new building is equipped with a sun parlor and has a private livery. We own our own Jersey dairy and have a splendid vegetable garden in connection with the hotel. Rates range from $12 per week upwards, while special rates are given to families or parties occupying quarters for the entire season. You will find everything absolutely new and clean, and we have a well established reputation of doing everything in our power for the pleasure and comfort of our guests. You will find no pleasant place to spend your outing than at the Hotel Breakers, Long Beach.
