COLORADO SEEKS MARKET.
 Centennial State Would Send Her Coal to the Coast.
 A fight for the coal business of California is being made from Denver by the American Fuel company, aided by the Santa Fe railroad, says the Denver Post.
 At present practically all the coal used in California is carried from Vancouver, B. C., and from Australia. President G. W. Bowen and S. I. Heyn, secretary and treasurer of the local company, have ordered the construction of coal bunkers with a capacity of 1000 tons at Oakland, Cal. They expect to be in shape to compete for the coal business of California in a short time.
 The bunkers are being built adjacent to the Santa Fe tracks at Oakland. The railroad company is understood to have made traffic arrangements with the American Fuel company which will enable it to lay coal down in California at as low a price as it is now carried from Vancouver and Australia by boat. The competition will be keen on account of the advantage the California companies have of the water haul.
 Northern California points will be reached by the local coal company by means of the California & Northern, owned by the Santa Fe.
 The local concern owns the American Block Coal company near Gibson, N. M., and other mines in New Mexico and Colorado. The coal will be shipped from the Colorado and New Mexico mines to California and put on the market there.
 The Colorado coal mines now have a market in Nebraska and Kansas, but have been greatly restricted in the west. If the coast states are opened up to the mines of Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming, which now seems probable, the output from the three states mentioned will be increased wonderfully and hundreds of men will be given employment.

When a man talks about giving honor to the Most High he needs to be sure that he has some of his own in stock.

BACK FROM NEBRASKA.
E. N. Smith Has Been Absent for a Month and Is Delighted to Return Home.
E. N. Smith, who has been absent in Nebraska and Montana for the past four weeks, returned today over the W. & C. R. and is delighted to get back among Oregon's mountains once more.
He visited his father at Seward, Neb., where the family settled in 1871, and notes that where once the country was bare of all kinds of timber it is now one continuous artificial forest of various kinds of excellent timber and where once tame grasses would not grow, the country is now a solid field of clover, timothy and other forage crops.
Crops and times are both good this year in Nebraska and people are contented, although many of them are turning westward. Mrs. Smith and family have spent the spring and early summer in Walla Walla, but have now returned home.

HEAVY FRUIT SHIPMENTS.
Enormous Amount is Shipped From Walla Walla Every Year—Onions and Potatoes Going Now.
The produce companies of Walla Walla will soon be getting ready for the enormous amount of fruit which is shipped every year from Walla Walla, says the Walla Walla Union.
At present, however, the principal garden products to be shipped are onions and potatoes. W. B. Glafke & Co. yesterday shipped a carload of these vegetables to British Columbia. The Walla Walla Produce company is shipping two or three carloads of miscellaneous produce daily. Large fruits are not being shipped at present, except small quantities of apples.
During the cherry season, which is almost over, larger quantities of this fruit have been shipped than in previous years. In spite of reports from various sources that the crop was small. The Walla Walla Produce company has shipped seven cars of cherries in carload lots, besides a large amount more in smaller quantities. This is about twice the amount shipped by the same company last year.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Japanese Mixes It Up With Unknown Sneak Thief.
About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon an unknown man was caught robbing the trunk of "George," the Jap, employed in the kitchen of the Hotel Pendleton, and exception was taken to the proceedings by the dishwasher. In the mix-up which followed, the robber evidently came out badly, judging from the looks of his head after the fray. He was locked up by Officer Stephens, and will be retained in jail until he recovers from his injuries.

Reminder of Lewis and Clark.
Somebody has unearthed from the files of the Scientific American this little item, of present interest, which was printed in the issue of September 2, 1862: "In cutting some timber in Omaha a few days since, a bullet was found imbedded in the trunk of a rock elm. The grains which had grown over it show that it must have been deposited there 62 years ago, a time when the country had not yet been visited by any white man, except the explorers, Lewis and Clark."

Suit for Divorce.
Suit for divorce was started today by Julia Lynd against Massan Lynd, both of the parties living at Athena. In the complaint the defendant is accused of drunkenness and other misconduct which is said to be of such a nature that the peace and happiness of the plaintiff is endangered.

SOUTH DAKOTA CYCLONE.
Sweeps a Portion of the Rosebud Reservation.
Fairfax, S. D., July 13.—One was killed and 14 injured by a cyclone which swept a portion of the Rosebud reservation today. Roy McFadden was killed near St. Elmo. Eight were injured at Herrook. Several buildings were destroyed at Burke, where six were injured, and two may die.

Dismissal Approved.
Washington, July 13.—The war department has announced the approval of the president's sentence of dismissal from the army of Major Frank Dell Carrington, first infantry, convicted of the misappropriation of public funds in the Philippines.

REINDEER CARRY MAIL.
Experiment is Now Being Made on Some Routes.
The N. C. mail service is experimenting with reindeer upon the Kaitang portage this spring, says the Nome Nugget. They are attempting to use them as pack animals, but according to H. Lawrence, who is superintending the transportation of the mail, they are not a success. They are too slow, cannot pack more than 40 pounds for any distance, and do not take kindly to the packing, a bucking broncho not being in it when the packs were first put upon them. One mail sack containing 75 pounds had to be packed by the mail carrier.
Previous to their departure upon the second trip nearly all the mail was temporarily placed upon the back of one deer, presenting quite a respectable load, a snap shot was then taken of the reindeer with the mail sacks, and the mail sacks returned to the office. Undoubtedly the development photo will be used to explain the uses of the reindeer in Alaska, and possibly help to continue the regime of Dr. Sheldon Jackson.

A Bride's Misapprehension.
It was the first Sunday in their pretty new flat, and Mrs. G. determined to celebrate the joyous day with a dinner which would make her young husband think he had married not only "the sweetest girl in the world," but "the best cook." It was perfectly lovely to set the little round dining room table with the nicest presents, and the preparation of a tempting salad and dessert was not exactly a trying ordeal, but the roasting of the chicken made her a little nervous. After succeeding, with the assistance of a large oldehob book, in getting the fowl into the oven she sang from sheer relief. A little later, when the music had ceased and the silence in the kitchen became suspicious, Mr. G. opened the door. Kneeling down before the oven, with flushed face and fearful eyes, was Mrs. G. On the floor beside her was the cookbook, and in one hand was a long needle with white thread. "Oh, dearie," she cried, "it is going to burn my hands just dreadfully to baste this chicken every fifteen minutes!"—What to Eat.

Spotting Reporters.
It is doubtful, said a biographer, if any reporter ever surpassed in delicacy the reply made by an East Indian servant of the late Lord Dufferin when he was viceroy of India.
"Well, what sort of sport has Lord had?" said the viceroy one day to his shikaree, or sporting servant, who had attended a young English lord on a shooting excursion.
"Oh," replied the scrupulously polite Hindoo, "the young sahib shot divinely, but Providence was very merciful to the birds!"
This story calls to mind one told by the writer of some reminiscences of Sydney Smith. On one occasion the celebrated physician, Sir Henry Holland, told the witty divine that he had failed to kill either one of a brace of pheasants that had risen within easy range near Smith's house.
"Why did you not prescribe for them?" came the quick reply.

Rio Grande do Sul. The most southern state in Brazil, adjoins Uruguay on the south, and has about 1,400,000 population, 600,000 of whom are Germans or of German descent.

HARDWARE—PLUMBING

PROFIT IN SUGAR BEETS.

Boise Man Tells of the Yield and Income in That State.
"Judging from what I saw and learned in the vicinity of Idaho Falls and Sugar City, we should produce 15 tons of sugar beets per acre, which, at $4.50 per ton, would amount to $67.50," says H. Humphrey to the Boise Statesman. "Jap labor can be contracted at $19 to $20 per acre, say $30. This means all the hand work, and we will say the team work and irrigating three times, done by the farmer, is worth $15.
"The seed furnished by the sugar company costs $2.25 and planting with a drill especially for the purpose, also done by the company, if desired, at 50c per acre, in all amounting to $37.75; net profit, $29.75. Now here we have a net profit of nearly $30 per acre after allowing the producer good pay for all work.
"I don't know of any crop that will pay as well. Dairying can be connected with beet raising to good advantage, as the tops can all be used for feed. They can be kept a long time by stacking up with layers of hay or straw and beet tops alternately. Conditions for beet culture in Boise valley are much more favorable than the section I visited. While our altitude is about 2700 feet, there it is nearly 5000."

Eugene's Population 5743.
Assessor B. F. Kenney, who with his deputies, Rolla Roney and C. W. Rychard, has been taking the census of the city, has now closed the books, the work having been finished, says the Eugene Guard. Five years ago this spring the census of Eugene was taken and found to be 3236. Since then our excellent school facilities and good markets have caused the town to grow. On all sides at nearly all times of the year, workmen can be heard putting up some new residence or adding some new attractive feature to the old home. Not only has Eugene witnessed a growth, but the places just outside the city limits are flourishing and if these inhabitants would make one jump the city could boast of over 6000. As it is, we are content with the 5743 which has been accredited us.

Northern Chautauqua Assembly.
Marionette, Wis., July 13.—The 10th annual session of the Northern Chautauqua assembly opened auspiciously today and will continue until the end of the month. The attendance is large and the program the best ever prepared for the assembly meeting. The prominent speakers to be heard include Governor La Follette, Oliver W. Stewart and the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis.
