

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Smut Explosion and Fire.
The threshing machine owned by Edwards & Carpenter of Webb ridge, was destroyed yesterday morning by fire, because of the fire being an explosion of smut. The machine was located on the W. F. Kottenbach crop on the old land property, three miles south of Lewiston, and had been at work about two hours. The grain was heavy with smut and black clouds had been pouring from the wind stacker during the entire two hours' run.
Suddenly an explosion was heard and the top of the separator was hurled into the air. At almost the same instant the machine was a mass of flames from end to end. The crew first started to fight the fire and an attempt was made to pull the separator from between the grain stacks, but before the engine could reach the machine the fire had gained such headway it was impossible to couple up. The crew then directed their attention to the grain that had already been threshed and a few sacks were saved before the fire had spread to this part of the grounds. The grain in the stacks, estimated to be about 400 sacks, was destroyed.—Lewiston Tribune.

Militia Target Contests.
There is now to the credit of the state out of the allotment allowed by congress for the state militia, a balance of nearly $1800. It is the wish of the adjutant general to make use of this money by offering it in prizes and medals for target contests, first between the companies of the battalion and the narrowing it down to a contest between the five best shots of each company. It is the desire of the governor that such a contest be held at Boise to last several days. With that end in view he has made application to the secretary of war to put the money to this use. If the request is granted he will make formal application for the money and the contests will be arranged at once.—Boise Statesman.

Tapped an Artesian Lake.
G. W. Johnson reports a singular incident which happened to him this morning. While drilling for water on the Lyons farm he struck a small stream about the size of a straw. Washing to reach a spade which had fallen by his side, he put his foot on the surface for several feet around saw way and the water spouted up seven or eight feet high. Johnson fell in the water and it was some time

PRISON EMPLOYEES OUT.
Governor Mead Dismisses a Batch for Violating Registration Laws.
Olympia, Wash., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—In a letter to Warren Keen of the Walla Walla penitentiary, mailed last night, Governor Mead demands the discharge of D. H. Woolery, H. Kinsman, R. R. Haselton, Charles B. Woods, T. F. Donohue, Fred Scott, W. H. Dixon and C. L. King, employees of the penitentiary, charged with registration irregularities.
Chairman Kincaid of the board of control, leaves Monday night for Walla Walla, and says that no dismissals will be made until his visit, as it is desired to fill the positions with first-class men, and there will be no hurry in the selections. The governor goes into the whole matter thoroughly and at length. He speaks highly of the general ability and reputation of the employees, but says in part:
"They might have thought that they had justification for doing as they did. Nevertheless their actions with regard to the election laws of the state were reckless and imprudent and showed a disposition to trifle with the provisions of the statutes.
"Such conduct and such an attitude on the part of the men occupying positions of grave responsibility as they are, cannot be tolerated. If any class of men should show respect to the laws of the state, it is that class having authority over persons who are being punished for transgressions of the law."

TOO MANY PASSES.
Western Railroads Will Curtail Their Issuance.
Chicago, Aug. 5.—That too much free transportation has been given to secure freight and passenger business is the opinion of the executive officers of western railroads. At a meeting to-day they agreed to stop their freight officials from giving any more passes or reduced rates to shippers, and decided that their passenger officials should hold a meeting tomorrow for the purpose of reaching an agreement not to make any more concessions in order to secure business.
Although the act to regulate traffic specifically prohibits the issuance of free or reduced rate transportation in order to influence traffic, it is an open secret that in order to secure passenger business, such as delegates to the annual meetings of the Epworth league, Order of Eagles and Grand Army, reunions, passenger departments of railroads have given or promised free tickets to persons who control the routing of delegates. These contracts can not be repudiated.

Interior Rivers Low.
U. S. Cowles was in the city the first of the week. Mr. Cowles said both of the Matoles and Deschutes rivers were a foot lower at the point where his sawmill is stationed than they have ever been before. The light fall of snow in the mountains last winter is the cause of the decrease in the streams.—Crook County Journal.

Will Range Sheep in Alberta.
H. Blake is now in the Alberta country looking after sheep range. Therefore Mr. Blake has been ranging his sheep in Colorado, but will not ship to the latter place this season if he can find suitable range conditions in the Alberta country or Idaho.—Hepner Gazette.

before he was able to get sound footing. He says that the water is spreading and at present part of the farm presents the appearance of a good sized lake.—Moscow Star.

Smut Fire in Gilliam.
While threshing on the ranch of Louis Couture, in Ferry Canyon, Monday evening, the separator belonging to Collins & Couture exploded, took fire and was destroyed. The grain being threshed was smutty and the explosion is accounted for on the theory that the accumulation of dust inside the machine became so great that it ignited and exploded spontaneously. About 25 sacks of wheat were destroyed. A wind storm was raging when the fire occurred and it took quick work to keep the flames from spreading into a general conflagration. The loss will total $1600.—London Globe.

Severe Logging Camp Fire.
The high wind on Tuesday afternoon carried cinders from a small forest fire nearly to the Lewis logging camp near Mica bay and burned up the entire camping outfit in a few minutes. Loss $3000, no insurance. The cook, George Kuhn, was burned to death; the others saved themselves by running into Mica creek, close by, and covering their heads with wet blankets and coats for half an hour. Some of these persons were severely burned, about 85 other members of the camp were at a distance working, and escaped the conflagration.—Harrison Searchlight.

Couldn't Pay for His Wife.
Yesterday morning at the Pyx mine in the Greenhorn district, a Chinese cook committed suicide by shooting himself with a shotgun. Such was the information received from G. A. Carter of that place. Mr. Carter stated that the Chinaman had become dependent over the loss of some money and through worry over his inability to pay the agreed price for a wife, which he had ordered from a Chinese syndicate in Victoria.—Baker City Herald.

Wheat Damaged in Sherman.
There is no question but what the wheat in Sherman county has been damaged by the hot weather, the extent of the damage at this time is only a matter of guess. Some place the loss at 25 and 35 per cent, while we understand that Mr. Parr, of the E. O. L. company has made the statement that the loss will be as high as 40 per cent.—Grass Valley Journal.

THE DIAMOND TREE.

A Plant Whose Fruit is Alleged the Precious Stones Grow.
"I haven't a diamond tree," said the jeweler. "Smith, over the way there, has one, though. At least, so I've been told."
"What is a diamond tree?"
"It is a tree where diamonds grow, of course."
"No, seriously. What is it?"
The jeweler smiled.
"Well," he said, "a diamond tree is a swindle, a very profitable swindle, and one that can be carried on forever with mighty little risk of detection. I'll explain it to you.
"I am a jeweler and you bring me a diamond ring for repairs. I take the diamond out of your ring and put back in its place a similar diamond that is a little, a very little, smaller. You naturally don't discover the trick that has been played on you.
"The same day a brooch is brought to me, and since the central stone of the brooch is a little larger than your diamond, I get rid of yours and keep the bigger gem. In this way, four or five times in one day, I make diamond exchanges, keeping always a better stone than I part with.
"On good diamond trees diamonds as small as pin heads have been known to grow to the size of peas in two days. A good tree, too, won't have only one diamond growing on it at a time. A dozen stones or more will be simultaneously increasing in size and value as the days pass."—Chicago Chronicle.

MATCHING SHADES.

Not to Purchase and Use the Goods, but to Dodge Them.
Before trying to match the sample of silk the clerk asked:
"Is this a piece of something you want or something you don't want?"
"Something I want, of course," replied the customer, with asperity. "You don't suppose, do you, that I would go to all this trouble for a thing I can't use?"
"Some folk do," said the clerk. "I've met a number of them. The first woman I ever saw with that kind of bee in her bonnet had a square inch of blue silk that she wanted me to match. The scrap of silk was so small that it was hard to make comparisons, but after hauling down half the blue bolts on the shelves and running to the door several times to test the color in broad daylight I found the exact shade.
"How many yards do you want, madam?" I asked.
"Oh, said the woman, 'I don't want any. I should any other piece will do. That particular shade is very unbecoming. I just wanted to make sure that I don't get it, that's all."
The customer laughed. "What did you say?" she asked.
"I'd rather not tell," said the clerk. "Anyhow, since then I have been cautious. Before matching a sample now I inquire as politely as possible into a customer's intentions. If it's a case of 'don't want' I don't hurt myself matching the shade."—New York Press.

Napoleon and Mothers.
A charming story is told of Napoleon which illustrates well his reverence for mothers, whom he rightly regarded as the "makers of men." When his army lay at Honlogue an English sailor who had been taken prisoner tried to escape on a rude sort of skiff which he had contrived with bits of wood and the bark of trees. Hearing of the poor fellow's unsuccess attempt, Napoleon had him brought into his presence, and he then inquired whether the man had really intended to try to cross the channel in such a frail little boat. The sailor replied that he had meant to try in order to see his mother, who was old and infirm. "You shall see her," said Napoleon, "and take her this money from me, for she must be a good mother to have such an affectionate son."

The Hedgehog's Frown.
A hedgehog curls itself up by a frown—that is, by muscles like those which produce a frown—and it frowns severely or gently, according to circumstances. If it is poked hard it "sighs" itself tighter. If really hurt it frowns into a tight ball. The prickles can be erected in a measure, though as they point all ways this is not needed. They are as sharp as needles. We have only known one dog, a large black and white setter, which would deliberately bite a hedgehog till it killed it. But this dog was quite mad and shared some of the anaesthesia common to certain lunatics.—London Spectator.

Books in the Home.
Some curious remarks are sometimes overheard at the counters of public libraries. At Hull a young girl was heard to whisper to her sister: "Don't get one of Miss Braddon's books. Ma will want to read it, and we shall have to wash up the supper things." In another case a boy went boldly up to the counter and said: "A book, please. Anything will do; it's for father."—Westminster Gazette.

He Was Home Early.
Mr. Newel (two weeks after marriage)—Don't sit up for me tonight, dear, as I may be detained downtown until after midnight. Mrs. Newel—Oh, that'll be all right. By the way, in case you should return before I do, kindly leave the gas burning in the hall, will you?
All "sticks."
Manager—There wasn't a stick left after the fire in my theater. Sympathizer—What! Do you mean to say that all the members of your company were burned to death?
