WILL COURT-MARTIAL WADE.

Ensign Held Responsible for Bennington Explosion.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The court of inquiry which investigated the causes of the explosion on the Bennington, recommends that Ensign Charles T. Wade, who was in charge of the engineering department of the ship, be court-martialed. Wade denies entire blame and will fight.

The findings allege that Wade failed to see the safety valve on the boiler was overhauled at the proper time and kept in good working order, but accepted the verbal statement of a subordinate that it had been overhauled in March, 1904. That he failed to cause the safety sentinel valve on all boilers to be tested in accordance with the regulations. The charges for negligence recommend a trial before a general court-martial.

BREEDING AN ARISTOCRACY.

Dean Wright, of the Yale academic department, in his report to President Hadley complains that one of the worst evils at Yale is the segregation of rich students in expensive dormitories. He says: "Perhaps the most serious evil connected with the segregation of the well-to-do students is that it is bringing together, especially in the sophomore year, those who aim to form the society set, whose chief purpose in college is popularity and social recognition, and to whom for this reason the claims of scholarship become secondary."

He adds that fathers sometimes ask for these expensive quarters and give as a reason that they do not want their sons to be at a social disadvantage. The protest submitted by Dean Wright is a healthy sign.

Snobbishness ought not to be tolerated in our colleges and it is more apt to make this appearance in the large colleges than in the small ones.
It is even dangerous to have rooms of different prices. It is better to have all rooms rented at the same price and let the best rooms go as a reward of merit to the best, the higher classes selecting first.

There is evidence of a revival of democratic spirit and it seems to have struck Yale. May the tide continue to rise until aristocracy will be eliminated from all institutions of learning.

Salt glow, vapor baths and massage treatments will be given by Mrs. F.
H. Sawtell, at her residence at 620 Cosble street.

SLUGGING AT COLFAX.

Irishmen Proceed to Argue With Law Enforcement Man.

Colfax, Wash., Aug. 21.—R. T.
Street, the young man who has been making war on the saloons for violating the Sunday closing law, was the victim of an assault tonight while on the street in front of the Mazepa saloon. He was on his way home when he was met by a couple of men, one of whom, without warning, struck him a vicious blow in the face, knocking him down. The men, or some others in the crowd that congregated, tried to drag him into the saloon, ostensibly to care for the wound on his face, which was bleeding freely, but he resisted, as he believed they intended to murder him.

Street was assisted to a doctor's office, where his wounds were dressed.
They are not of a serious nature. In connection with the assault one shot was fired, but by whom is not known.
Mr. Street was not armed. He was arrested and fined a couple of days ago on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Mr. Street does not propose to be deterred from his warfare on the illegal saloon element by the affair of last night.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Governor Pardee Presides in the Exposition Auditorium.

Portland, Aug. 21.—The thirteenth session of the National Irrigation congress was called to order this morning at the exposition auditorium, Governor Pardee of California, presiding.
The addresses of welcome were by Governor Chamberlain and Mayor Lane. Responses by Governor Mc-Donald of Colorado, Mead of Washington, and H. D. Loveland of California.

The annual address was by Pardee, followed by addresses as follows: Glif-ford Pinchot of Washington, "Forestry: Engineering and Mechanical," Frederick H. Newell of Washington; "Climatology," H. B. Williams of Washington; "Rural Settlement," C.
W. Eberlin of San Francisco.

FOREST FIRES IN LINN.

On the Santiam River, and Gotten Beyond Control.

Albany, Or., Aug. 21.—Raging in the Cascade mountains in the eastern portion of Linn county is the most serious forest fire that has developed this season. Commencing about 10 days ago near the Whitcom ranch, on the South Santiam river, the conflagration has been steadily increasing in scope until it covers a large section of valuable timber land.

Fanned by a steady northwest wind, the flames are leaping up the Santiam canyon, creating a fiery wave that is engulfing and rendering useless thousands of dollars' worth of valuable timber. The Northern Pacific, which holds great tracts of valuable timber land in Linn county, is the main loser. The fire is now burning in the green timber belonging to that corporation, and is entirely beyond control.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET.

Quotations From the Greatest Wheat Market in the United States.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—September wheat closed at 89 1-8, corn at 52 1-8, and oats at 25 5-8.

ALASKA.

"Do you know," said William T.
Perkins in the World's Work, "That Nome, Alaska, is 300 miles west of Honolulu? Do you know that Alaska has almost two and a half times as much coast line as the rest of the United States?"

The "panhandle" of Alaska includes 1000 miles of inland sea, protected by a range of islands.

The Yukon carries as much water as the Mississippi. It rises within 20 feet of the Pacific and travels 3000 miles to Behring Sea.

The mouth of the Yukon is 90 miles wide. As in the Amazon's mouth, you may ascend it on a clear day and see no shore.

From Cape Prince of Wales, American soil, you can see Asia across only 32 miles of Behring Straits.

Seven railroads are in operation or being constructed. The most famous is the Skagway-Yukon, connecting link of 140 miles.

Alaska's canned salmon output is estimated this year at $10,000,000.

One-sixth of the members of Camp Nome, Arctic Brotherhood are college graduates.
