

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Will Ship 25,000 Sheep.
Miles Lee, one of the oldest and most experienced stockmen in this county, stated to a reporter last night that the coming winter season promises to be one of the most prosperous for stockmen in the history of eastern Oregon.

"Early in September I will ship 5000 head of sheep to the east and others will ship about 20,000 head, which will be used for feeders, while some of them will be forwarded as fat market mutton. There have been immense crops this season of hay and all kinds of grain in Baker county. A few days ago I purchased several hundred tons of hay and pasturage, at $3.50 to $4 per ton. I got the very best sheep hay, and you can put it down as a certainty that there will be no shortage of feed this coming winter and prices will be cheap, as compared with most winters. On the other hand, we secured excellent prices for mutton and lambs."—Baker City Democrat.

Had Season for Honey.
George E. Atwater, the Boise valley bee man, and one of the best posted men in that business in the entire county, said the other day that the late wet spring this year had played and havoc with the honey crop. From his 700 colonies he should have secured 30,000 pounds of honey, but he thinks he will not get over 5000 pounds. This condition is specially unfortunate at this time for the reason that in all the honey producing states the crop nowhere is more than half a normal yield, and in some it is not that much. The outlook for high prices, he thinks, is not consoling when one has but little to sell.—Boise Capital News.

Mysterious Disappearance.
The county court is offering a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body of Sam Branton, who mysteriously disappeared from a camp in Deep canyon, on the Deschutes river, about four miles below the W. V. & C. M. Wagon Road company's bridge.

PRICES OF FEED.
Oats and Hay Purchased for the Army at Portland.

Proposals for furnishing oats and hay to the government were opened in the quartermaster's office in this city this morning as follows, says the Oregon Daily Journal.
McKinley Mitchell, 100 tons oats at $1.42 per 100 pounds; 100 tons oats at $1.44; 100 tons oats at $1.39 f. o. b. cars in Portland. Albers Brothers Milling company, 1250 tons timothy hay at $15.25; 3000 tons Oregon oats at $28.85 per ton. F. O. B. cars, or at Portland dock. Edwin Switzer, 1500 tons oats at $28.45 delivered on S. P. R. O. between Eugene and Portland by October 20, 1905.

All oats will be sent to Washington City to be compared with others received from San Francisco, Seattle and St. Paul.

WESTERN SHEEP MARKET.
Chicago Market Was 10 Cents Up With Considerable Activity.

The Chicago Livestock World Says of the sheep market for the past week:
Western sheep were scarce. One band of four doubles of mixed ewes and wethers made $5.30, against $5.25 yesterday.

There was an active trade in native ewes, mostly at $4.75 to $5.25. Heavy weights were preferred, but heavy 140 to 160-lb. ewes made $5.75. If inclined to be paunchy, however, $5 was about the limit.

Breeding stock was scarce and in good demand, ewes being quotable up to $5.25, and choice breeding bucks at $4.50 to $5.

Shipping trade has been light this week, only about 6000 having found that outlet, against 15,600 last week and 37,500 a year ago. Had feeders been available 100,000 of them would have been gobbled.

There was a class of second grade $6.75 to $7.25 lambs that sold today considerably higher.

three weeks ago. A party dragged the river for three miles below the spot where the old man's footsteps led to the water's edge, and the deeper holes in the river were afterward dynamited; but so far no trace of the body has been discovered. It is the opinion of most people that the old man is not in the stream, and a few do not hesitate to express the belief that the old man has met with foul play.—Prineville Review.

Nampa Is Booming.
H. W. Mansfield, the veteran editor of the Nampa Leader-Herald, was in Boise today. He is enthusiastic over the outlook for his town. He said the Utah construction company is unloading three carloads of scrapers and grading tools preparatory to putting in three miles of new side-track for the Short Line at that point. Work is to begin soon by the company on a new freight house and new coal chutes.

He said work will begin on the million dollar sugar factory soon, which has been located a mile from town. A track will be built out to it. A field man in the employ of the sugar company told Mr. Mansfield that 2000 acres of alfalfa meadow had already been plowed under preparatory to planting beets next year.—Boise Capital News.

Sunday Closing at Boise.
Ed Hart, the proprietor of the Owl saloon, who was accused of having kept his place open during a portion of last Saturday in violation of the Sunday and midnight closing ordinance, presented his defense before Police Magistrate Locke Friday, and was found guilty and fined $20 and costs. The prosecution was heard the first of the week.—Boise Statesman.

Smallpox in Idaho.
County Commissioner Elliott telephoned from Atlanta to Mountain-home yesterday for medical assistance as there were 13 cases of smallpox in the camp.—Boise Statesman.

A LIVING NET.

Peculiar Method of Fishing Used by Natives of Oceania.

A peculiar method of fishing is indulged in by the natives of Tetulia, one of the islands of Oceania. At a given signal the inhabitants of the village assemble on the seashore to the number of about 200 persons, each of whom carries a branch of cocoa palm. With these in their hands they plunge into the water, and at a certain distance from the shore turn toward it, forming a compact half circle, each one holding his palm branch perpendicular in the water, and thus forming a sieve.

The leader of the party then gives a signal, and this living net approaches the shore gradually in perfect order, driving before it a multitude of fishes. Surrounded by this living wall and entangled in the cocoa palm branches many of the fishes are cast on the sand by the waves, while others are killed with sticks. After being cooked over hot coals the fish are served with bananas and coconut milk.

The scene as described by a Frenchman who visited the island was interesting and picturesque in the extreme, the effect being immensely heightened by the appearance of the natives, whose costume consists of a short tunic of seaweed or leaves. Their hair is powdered with chalk, while the warriors are distinguished by the hair being powdered red. Wreaths of gardenias or red hibiscus are worn on their heads, also round their necks.

AN EXPERT ON LYING.

He Was Allowed to Testify in Court and Won the Case.

A Kansas City lawyer tells of the use of expert testimony on lying. He says:

"I was prosecuting attorney for Pinney county in 1881, and had a fellow up before Squire N. C. Jones on the charge of horse stealing. He hired Mike Sutton to defend him, and when the case was called I proved beyond question by a witness who witnessed the theft that he had the right man. After the prosecution had rested Sutton introduced 'Buffalo' Jones as a witness and gravely informed the court that he intended to prove by him that my witness had lied. 'Buffalo' took the stand and swore that, while he had never seen or heard of the witness before and knew nothing at all about the crime committed, he had had a great deal of experience with men and could tell pretty certain when they were lying. Then he proceeded to tell how men acted when they were lying, and gave the expert opinion that my witness had sworn to lies from the word go. I protested against such performance, but Sutton made the judge believe he had as much right to introduce an expert on liars as he would have to introduce an expert on medicine or any other science, and the result was the thief was dismissed from custody."

A VAST STONY WRECK.

The North Cape, in Norway, is Almost the World's End.

The North cape, Norway, is not quite the most northerly land in Europe, but it is far enough north, a dismal black point jutting out into the sea nearly a thousand feet high. Leading to the top is a rough path not difficult to ascend unless it be wet and slippery. From the top to the edge of the cliff is a half mile or more of hard walking over stones or through mire.
At last we come to the edge of the cliff. The sun, though it is nearly 12 o'clock, has almost reached the lowest edge of his daily path, but is still far above the shimmering sea. You stand on that lonely point feeling, except for the presence of those around you, that you are quite out of the world in which you have hitherto spent your life. You stand without on a rock pelted by every storm of wind and snow. Attacked by the fiery summer sun and pitiless winter frost, no wonder that neither tree nor shrub nor scarce a flower can exist. Among the most solemn places on the globe it must be reckoned the world's end, a vast stony wreck projecting above the wide waste of waters.—Albert L. Bolis in Booklovers Magazine.

THE TEAR-KERCHIEF.

In some parts of the Tyrol a beautiful though curious custom prevails. When a girl is going to be married and just before she leaves for the church her mother gives her a handkerchief, which is called a tearkerchief, and with it the girl dries the natural tears she sheds on leaving home. The tearkerchief is never used after the marriage day, but is folded up and placed in the linen closet, where it remains till its owner's death, when it is taken from its place and spread over her dead face.

Know Your Own Mind.

The great majority of people need bracing up all the time. They want to be reassured. They do not know their own minds. They are not sure of themselves. The leader, the man who can rule others, must be master of this art. Encouragement is to many men what flattery is to some women.—Success.

How He Avoided It.

"Have you ever been blazed off the stage?" asked the girl who was thrilled at having met a real actor.
"Oh, no," he replied. "When I'm off the stage I always try to be among friends as much as possible."—Chicago Record-Herald.
