

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Must Reincorporate.
Because of the stringent law governing banks doing business within this state, the branch of the Spokane & Eastern Trust company, doing business at Moscow, Idaho, is to be incorporated under the laws of the state of Idaho, with a capital of $25,000.

While the bank at Moscow will hereafter be independent of the Spokane & Eastern Trust company, it will have the same stockholders and directors as the present concern. The change is to be made so that the company will not find itself handicapped by the banking laws.

The law provides that all foreign banks shall be subject to the same regulations as the local banks, which is a good thing, but the clause inflicts a fine of $1000 (it does not even provide for a fine not in excess of $1000, but makes it flat $1000) for any infringement of the law. It is a difficult matter some times to keep from a slight violation and it might be unintentional, but the law discriminates against outside banks to such an extent that we found it necessary to incorporate under the Idaho laws to protect ourselves.—Lewiston Tribune.

Railroad Will Redeem Property.
The Northern Pacific Railway company will redeem all property except the right of way sold for taxes in 1904 by paying the taxes of 1903 and 1904. Jay Sedgwick, assistant tax commissioner, instructed the auditor today to prepare a statement of the lands and taxes due which will be paid by the company as soon as completed. Several days work by the auditor will be required, as the property is covered by about 400 tax certificates on which interest is accruing at the rate of 18 per cent.

The action of the company surprises the county officials and a case involving the validity of the tax is now pending in the federal court. By paying the delinquent taxes the railroad company clears the cloud from the title to their lands and renders the land more salable. Two years hence if unredeemed, the land would be sold at auction and tax deeds given purchasers.—Rathdrum News.

CHICAGO MUTTON MARKET.
All kinds of Sheep in Demand Last Week.
The Chicago Livestock World says: All kinds of muttons were active. Killers wanted them and feeder-buyers were running around. The Saturday afternoon decline of 15¢ to 25¢ cents on native lambs, owing to the influx late in the day, was partially, if not fully, restored. Fresh receipts were estimated at 25,000 making a four-day run 19,000 less than last week, but there is a deficiency of about 100,000 at the six western markets, compared with last week. It has been an active market here all week, the only weakness being occasioned by the big deluge of native lambs that got in unexpectedly late yesterday.

With a broad demand for lambs this morning, sellers made a stand for better prices, and notably it was a strong market, with stuff worth $7 and up scarce. Yearlings were not plentiful and were wanted. Sheep were strong, western wethers being quotable up to $5, with the bulk at $4.70 to $4.85. Native ewes were unchanged, with a fair share around $4.50, but the right kind sold readily at $4.75 to $4.85.

Feeder-buyers upset market precedent by making a lively week-end market at steady prices. Bulk of feeding lambs were on a $6 to $6.40 basis and wethers were badly wanted at $4.50 to $4.65 on feed-lot account.

WENT HOME ALONE.
Widow From the East Falls to Land Corvallis Man.

The gyrations and screams of a frantic woman at the railroad station the other day paralyzed the natives in that vicinity, says the Corvallis Times. She and her young son were bound east. He was on the train, while she and her baggage was not, and the train was pulling out. Some women under the circumstances would not have been able to stop the train, but she did it. Whether the war whoops she let out sent shivers up the back of the locomotive or caused the engineer to leap from his cab, or whether they merely electrified the conductor, the fact is that the train stopped and stayed stopped till she and her baggage were reunited with her son.

The lady came to Corvallis about a month ago, and during the interim was housekeeper for R. L. Taylor. She told a number of people that she came out to be a bride at a correspondence wedding. It did not develop so, however, and the story is that since her departure the proposed groom is reported to have said that he is "durned glad she's gone."

has practiced in both states since the early '70s. It is the doctor's intention to devote the remainder of her life to literary work, and she hopes to have her first book for the press by early spring when she will return to her home in Clatsop county, Oregon. The doctor will remain with her son, Dr. Hill, till the morning of the 14th. After a visit of a month with Colonel Adair and their son John at their ranch, she will go to San Diego, Cal.—North Yakima Republic.

Fire Alarm System at Yakima.
The material for the new fire alarm system for the city has arrived. Commencing next Sunday Chief Hauser will have men at work stringing the new wires necessary to complete the system, and will put up the boxes. They will be divided among the six wards of the city. There will be a large new indicator placed in the fire department quarters and an automatic alarm for ringing the bell will be placed in the tower back of the city hall. When completed, the system will give the city what has been needed for a long time.—North Yakima Republic.

Payette Water Bonds Carry.
The additional water works bonds carried at the special election on last Friday by a safe majority. Only a small vote was polled, but there was practically no opposition and it is to be fairly presumed that the vote would have been in the same proportion had all qualified voters cast their ballots. The total vote was 95; 85 in the affirmative and 10 in the negative.—Payette Independent.

Madras Will Incorporate.
A petition praying for the incorporation of Madras, will be presented at the October term of the circuit court. The latter place has a population and energy to govern itself and the right to local rule which will be granted will be an added stimulus to the growth of that section of Crook county.—Crook County Journal.

Sheepman Sells Out.
Colonel M. C. Nye, one of the best known sheepmen in Crook county, has sold his interests on Dry creek to Ike Ward, the consideration being $27,000. The transfer included over 1000 acres of land, 8000 sheep and all the buildings and camps used in the sheep business. Colonel and Mrs. Nye expect to move to North Yakima.—Madras Pioneer.
