A SLIGHT INCREASE

POPULATION OF COUNTY GREATER THAN IN 1900.

The illness of a Deputy Delayed the Enumeration, Which Was Only Recently Completed and Footed Up—There Are Now 18,083 Persons in the County—No Greater Increase Due to Immigration to Countries Where Land is Cheaper, Many Going to Alberta, Idaho and the Interior.

There are 18,083 people in Umatilla county according to the state census that was taken here last spring, and which has just been entirely footed up. In taking the census last March the Indians of the reservation were not enumerated for some time, owing to the illness of the deputy who did the work there, and when all of the reports were in, the force in the assessor's office was so busy at other work that the census was not added up until yesterday.

The population of the county according to the present census is greater than it was in 1900 by just 34 souls, for the federal count made that year, placed the number at 18,049. In speaking of the census and the

WANTS HIS MONEY

GUILELESS YOUTH FROM DAYTON BETS ON FOOT RACE

Gets Cold Feet and Demands His Money, Which is Refused—A Friend of the Dayton Babe Gets Into the Combination With Vigor and Comprehensiveness—Whole Affair Will Probably Go to a Tryout in the Courts: Is Certain to Unless a Settlement Can Be Reached on the Side.

Has an attempt been made here to repeat the old and time-worn swindle in which the principal operators are friends and footracers, but who pose as strangers and beguile an innocent party to bet on one of them to the subsequent sorrow of the victim?

That the familiar old scheme was tried on him is firmly believed by C. F. Garner, a young man of Dayton, Wash., and appearances indicate that his belief is well founded. However, the plan was not carried out because the intended victim became suspicious that all was not straight and demanded that $250 which he had deposited as a bet on the sprinting ability of one C. W. Whitlock, be returned. When this was refused, the aid of an attorney and also the police was invoked, with the result that Whitlock and O. Caviness, the stakeholder, were arrested last evening by Marshal Coffman, assisted by Night Policeman Sheer and Officer Scallen, of Portland. However, both men were afterwards released on bail, while Garner, the complaining witness, was also required to give $25 bail to insure his appearance as prosecuting witness.

According to the story told by young Garner he met Whitlock recently at Walla Walla and associated with him considerably, lending him money at various times. During this acquaintance he learned that his friend was a sprinter, and the two decided to form a sort of partnership in which Whitlock was to be the runner and Garner the backer. Apparently the race which was arranged here was the outcome of this understanding. The go was to be between Whitlock and T. C. Morris, the latter having a high record as a sprinter, though such was evidently not known to Garner. On the outcome of the race a $250 bet was arranged between Garner and Will Rainwater, a local sport, and the money was given to O. Caviness as stakeholder. Also, a friend of Garner's was induced to come down from Dayton and solicited to bet $750 more on the race.

However, Garner says that the actions of the other men interested in the affair made him suspicious, and he began to believe that they were all in league against him and were making him the victim of a swindle. Consequently he went to Caviness, the stakeholder, and demanded his money back, which was refused. Thereupon Garner consulted with Attorneys Winter & Collier, and in the name of his client, the same demand was made on the stakeholder by Mr. Winter. On the continued refusal of Caviness to return the money, the arrests were made, and the matter will be taken into court unless a settlement is made. According to the attorneys for Garner he had a right to demand his money back any time before the race was run, and the stakeholder can be compelled to return the money if he refuses to do so.

Civil Action is Brought.
During the day civil action was taken by Garner, through his attorneys, Winter & Collier, to recover his $250, which he had deposited as a bet on Whitlock. The following were named as defendants in the complaint: M. S. Monteith, O. Caviness, William Rainwater and C. W. Whitlock. The money is said to be on deposit in the Maze saloon, owned by the first named defendant.

Also, Garner went before District Attorney Phelps this afternoon for the purpose of having criminal action taken against some or all of the men but up to this time no action has been taken in the matter by that official.

SYNOD OCTOBER 12-15.

Presbyterians Will Soon Meet at La Grande.

The 15th annual meeting of the Synod of Oregon will be held at La Grande, October 12-15. The Presbyterian church of the state is represented in this meeting, and a large gathering of ministers and elders is expected.

The subjects that seem likely to arouse most interest and enthusiasm this year are the evangelistic work of the church, especially the review of the work of the past year and the plans for the coming months. No extensive campaign with outside help is planned, but with the impetus of last year's work it is expected that special attention will be given this department in every church.

Sabbath school missions and the extension of the church through its Home mission work will, as always, receive much attention. The opening sermon will be preached Thursday by Rev. J. E. Snyder, who is well known in many parts of the state because of his excellent evangelistic work.

Among the prominent speakers whose names appear on the program are Revs. W. S. Holt, D.D., and E. P. Hill, D. D., of Portland; Rev. M. A. Matthews, D. D., of Seattle; Rev. J. H. Laughlin, D. D., and Rev. John S. MacIntosh, D. D., of San Francisco.

The Pendleton church will be represented by S. C. Yates. A meeting of Pendleton Presbytery will be held preceding the meeting of synod and the delegation from here will on that account leave tomorrow morning.

Adams, Rev. S. L. Clark, Rev. E. T. Allen, Philip Minthorn, elder from Umatilla reservation mission, and Rev. J. M. Morrison, retired, of Albany, Or.

CASS WANTS A DIVORCE.

Alleges Much Improper Conduct on His Wife's Part.

A divorce suit in which very sensational charges are made, was filed today by E. D. Cass against Laura B. Cass. Both are former residents of Echo, and the suit is brought by the husband through L. A. Esteb as attorney. In the complaint it is said that the two were married in Indiana in 1892, and that they have one child, a boy of nine years.

That the defendant conducted herself in an improper manner towards her men is charged by the husband. On September 30 the defendant is accused of having committed adultery with William Hanigan, formerly of Gervais, Ore., and it is also said that when the said W. Hanigan left on the train to Gervais he was publicly caressed and kissed by the defendant while they were waiting at the depot.

For these and other reasons mentioned a decree of divorce is asked by the husband, and also the custody of the minor child.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder, and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.
