

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

The horse dipping case that was called before Judge Price at Shoshone on Wednesday was practically disposed of out of court. In this case J. L. Shoddy had brought injunction proceedings against Dr. George Noble, state veterinarian, to restrain the latter from dipping a band of horses ranged by the plaintiff in Lincoln county.

Some testimony was taken which showed there was a great deal of mange in the county, and it was stipulated that the case should be continued, an agreement having been reached that the one question raised, that of the condition of the horses as to their needing dipping, should be left to the veterinarian. If he should decide the dipping necessary after further examination, that was to be done either by him or by the owner under the veterinarian's supervision. It was also left to Dr. Noble to determine whether the horses should be dipped at once or the work deferred until spring. This was because a question had been raised as to the propriety of dipping in such cold weather as has been prevailing in that section.

In that county there are many horses badly affected. These include a large number belonging to John Kemp, of Boise. These are said to have carried the disease there. They will all be dipped.—Boise Statesman.

The Other Side.

There are always two sides to a story, and this holds true in the Hart cutting scrape at Vinito last week. Mr. Hart's story puts a different phase to the occurrence.

Mr. Hart had no team at all, but was carrying wood from the scrap pile as was the custom with all the employees whether at work or laying off. When Dehart saw Hart take an armful of wood he began abusing him and jerking the wood out of his hands several times. In self-defense Hart drew the knife and used it. Hart is but a mere boy, only 19, while his assailant was a husky man. Instead of hitting, as was reported here, Hart went to The Dulles and gave himself up. The prosecuting attorney, when he heard Mr. Hart's story, sent him back home.

Young Hart is a son of Blacksmith Hart, on the hill and has always borne a good reputation.—Hood River News Letter.

Lumpy Jaw in Baker County.

Big jaw, or lumpy jaw, as it is known among the cattlemen, has made its appearance among the cattle of Baker county this fall. Stock Inspector J. H. Parker says there are several herds that are infected. This is an incurable and dangerous disease and Mr. Parker wishes to warn all cattle owners from keeping infected stock on their ranches. He says these cattle should be killed at once and if the owners do not do this it becomes the duty of the stock inspector. There is also a penalty provided under the laws of Oregon for keeping these infected cattle and a fine of from $50 to $200 for the first offense.—Baker City Herald.

Will Winter 25,000 Sheep.

Messrs. Douglas and Valentine, the local sheep dealers, yesterday sold to the Fall Creek Sheep company at American Falls, a band of 3500 ewes at the price of $3.55 per head. Douglas and Valentine are the most extensive dealers in sheep in this part of the country. Previous to this sale they had in the neighborhood of 35,000 sheep and they now have an additional shipment of several carloads on the road. They are continually buying and selling, but they expect to feed about 25,000 head this winter. They winter and feed in the Blackfoot country.—Pocatello Tribune.

Heaviest Taxpayer in Boise.

The total rate of taxation for property owners within the city and school district will be $4.31 on each $100, whereas it was $4.40 last year. The heaviest taxpayer in the city, city or school district will be John B. Broadbent, as in previous years. His property this year has been assessed at $339,000, and at the total rate of $4.31 he will be compelled to pay the sum of $14,600 as his portion of the revenues of the state, county, city and school district. This, of course, does not include his payments of sprinkling, sewer and other special assessments.—Boise Statesman.

New Train on Short Line.

The rumor that has been afloat for several days with reference to the new train between Weiser and Boise seems to have a basis of fact. Word from Salt Lake says the train will leave Weiser in the morning, reaching Boise about noon. Returning the train will leave Boise about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. This will be a great convenience to patrons of the road and will more than pay expenses.—Boise Capital News.

Slow Market for Horses.

Robert Hamilton, who left the Kibridge country last summer with a band of 194 head of horses, has not met with the success he anticipated in selling the animals, only being able to sell seven head. He took the band up through the wheat belt in eastern Washington and will remain during the winter at Garfield, Wash.—Blue Mountain Eagle.

Sold 1200 Sheep.

Jonas Bros. sold last week to John Johnson 1200 head of sheep for $4 per head.—Blue Mountain Eagle.

Boise River Rising.

Water Commissioner J. H. Lowell has taken off all water masters on the Boise river, the last one having been discharged Thursday. The river has risen but little, yet a fair amount of water is now reported running in the canals. The water, Mr. Lowell said, is being used to moisten the ground which is being plowed to supply the sugar beet acreage. There has been some delay on account of scarcity of water, but he said there is ample time as yet so that no losses will result.—Boise Capital News.

Fruit Will Be High.

The reports submitted to the state board of horticulture at its meeting in Portland Saturday, indicate that the apple crop is the lightest in years. The only fruit that approaches an average output is the pear, and the yield of that is smaller than usual and the quality is not up to the average. What is lost in quality and quantity, however, is more than made up in price, which are about double those of last year. Prices generally are reported better than a year ago.

Gang of Boy Theives.

The police have uncovered a nest of thieves who have for the last two or three months been committing depredations among the various stores in this city. The culprits turned out to be all small boys who are under 14 years of age. They have been concerned in several of the small robberies of stores and shops in town that were at first laid to the gang of tough characters that usually infest the town during the hop pecking season.—North Yakima Republic.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-alleviating Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All drug-gists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 55 Warren Street, New York.
