CLEVELAND IN NEBRASKA CITY

Speaks at the Unveiling of a Monument in Memory of J. Sterling Morton.

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE ARE IN ATTENDANCE.

The ex-President Eulogized Morton as a Tree Planter and a Statesman of Incorruptible Personal Life and Public Record—He Was Incapable of Entertaining Anything But High Ideals or Living Anything But a Life of an Exalted Pattern—He Declares the People Are Turning From Their Old Follies to Low Standards of Ideals of Public Duty and Private Life.

Nebraska City, Oct. 28.—Grover Cleveland reached here at 10 o'clock. There are 10,000 visitors. The ex-president eulogized J. Sterling Morton and said his memory is sacred, not alone for his work as a tree planter, but as an honest, upright statesman and patriot. He said: "Morton's character was different immeasurably from the shifting, untrue standards of mean ambition or successful cupidity. We have fallen upon days when our people are turning from the old faith to the worship of money making idols."

Addressing Morton's sons he declared the only success that is satisfying and honorable, is that achieved in their father's spirit and high resolve.

HILL WILL PLEAD GUILTY.

State Brings a Case Similar to the Kershaw Action.

In the circuit court today information was filed by District Attorney Phelps against L. R. Hill, accused of having stolen $64 from his roommate, Ralph May. However, there will be no trial, as Hill stated to the district attorney that he would plead guilty when arraigned.

Information was also filed today by Mr. Phelps against Charles Sam for pointing a gun at a man named Walden, for which offense he was bound over some time ago by the justice of the peace at Weston.

The case of the state vs. W. E. Bond, accused of taking wheat from a warehouse without the permission of the owner, was dismissed this morning on motion of the district attorney. This action was taken because the case was one very similar to that of H. B. Kershaw, who was acquitted yesterday. However, in the Bond case the owner of the wheat was reimbursed for his loss by the defendant. The case is one that was brought during the term of T. G. Halley as district attorney and has been pending in the circuit court ever since.

Hill Pleaded Guilty.

L. R. Hill pleaded guilty this afternoon to having robbed his partner, Ralph Mays, of $64, and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary by Judge Ellis.

An injunction has been granted by the Union Pacific railroad company by the federal courts, to prevent the C. B. & Q. interfering with the construction of a Union Pacific branch up the North Platte valley.

CASES WERE POSTPONED.

Complaint Has Been Made Against the Prosecuting Witness.

Probably the local option law has been flagrantly violated at Freewater through the agency of the "social club" in existence there. Last evening District Attorney Phelps returned from that place after having spent the day there investigating charges that have been made against several men. Those against whom complaints are George Ireland, Jack Kelley, both ex-saloon men, and McElrath. However, when the cases came to trial yesterday the prosecuting witness, Dan Sheets, was reported ill and a physician's certificate to that effect was presented. Accordingly the case had to be postponed until next Wednesday. Also, it was learned that a complaint had been made against Sheets himself for having sold liquor without a license.

According to statements given the district attorney it appears that practically a saloon business has been run at Freewater by Ireland and the others of his "club." In this organization a $2 initiation fee was charged and therefor each member was sold liquor without much regard for the law. But yesterday they were told by District Attorney Phelps that this must cease; that the people of Freewater and Milton had voted against saloons, and that their will as expressed at the polls must govern.

It is said that in all probability the three men will plead guilty next Wednesday and that sentence on them will be suspended provided they agree to quit business. This they are now said to be ready to do. Should they subsequently be found to have violated the law they would then be liable to both fine and imprisonment.

FRANK HUBBELL SUICIDES.

Seattle Capitalist Turns on the Gas for No Known Reason.

Seattle, Oct. 28.—Mystery surrounds the suicide of Frank B. Hubbell, by gas. He was one of the most prominent real estate men and capitalists in the city. It occurred last night. His bride of three months occupied a separate apartment in a fashionable hotel. She discovered him unconscious on the floor of his room this morning.

Hubbell was worth half a million and his financial standing was gilded. He came from New York a few years ago.

Three physicians failed to save his life, and he died at 10 this morning. No cause is known.

Hubbell, when found, had a gas tube in his mouth. Domestic, not financial troubles, is believed to be the cause. Hubbell has had under way some of the greatest public improvements in the history of the city, and was constantly drawing on eastern capital to accomplish his plans.

The motion for a non-suit was made by Attorneys Carlet & Raley for the city, after all of the evidence had been taken. The motion was then argued at length by the different attorneys, and at 2:30 Judge Ellis ruled in favor of the city and granted the motion.

Following the decision of the court John McCourt, attorney for Heathman, stated that the case would be appealed to the supreme court and another trial sought.

SEEK FRANCHISE FOR AUTOMATIC SYSTEM

F. H. Stow and C. Young, of Los Angeles, Cal., have been here today in consultation with the members of the city government regarding the granting of a franchise to the Home Telephone company for the placing of their automatic system in this place.

After seeing as many of the councilmen as possible, Mr. Stow left at noon for Olympia, Wash., where he has a franchise proposition now pending before the city government. However, he will return soon and again take up the matter with the authorities here.

According to Mr. Stow, their automatic system is very popular where they are in use, as there are nothing but main lines, and the service is much speedier, as no central office is declared in this city. The strikers have blown up the bridge at Kyzakoff, near here, and the railway tracks are torn up for considerable distance.

Dissentions Are Appearing.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Signs of dissentions in the ranks of the strikers and their supporters appeared for the first time this morning. The textile workmen and mechanics are unable to agree upon a course to pursue. The former are suffering from hunger and cold. At best they only make 30 cents a day and they insist that economic demands receive first attention. The more enlightened mechanics declare that all efforts must be first directed toward crushing the political regime. All members of professional associations have decided to give three days earnings in aid of the strikers.

Dig Up Prehistoric Bones.

Workmen excavating at the new power house this week brought to light a great quantity of bones, tusks and teeth of huge prehistoric animals. Judging from the number of tusks taken out there must have been at least seven of the great skeletons unearthed. The largest tusk measured 14 feet in length and was over 14 inches in diameter at the base. Many fine specimens of teeth have been found the largest weighing 17 pounds and 12 ounces.

The bones, as a rule, are in a badly decayed condition, though a few have been carefully handled and are almost entire.

The engineers for the Brady company have been instrumental in saving one of the largest skeletons in which there are two large tusks, a number of immense bones and a jaw bone with several teeth intact.—American Falls Advertiser.

Want the Judge as a Witness.

The most interesting feature of the opening session of the federal court at Moscow was the argument and controversy over the procedure in the case of the farmers and others along the Coeur d'Alene river against the mining companies operating up the canyon.

Attorney W. C. Jones of Spokane, representing the plaintiff farmers, stated that he and his associate counsel desired a ruling upon their showing filed; that Judge Beatty was wanted by them for a witness in the case and that he was therefore disqualified from hearing the case as a trial judge. Judge Beatty said to a Spokane Review correspondent: "I have referred the papers in the case and the showing and affidavits filed to disqualify me from trying the case to Circuit Judge Gilbert at Portland, Ore., and I do not care to have anything to do with the case until Judge Gilbert decides whether I am disqualified to try the case or not."—Boise Statesman.

WASHINGTON TO BE INVESTIGATED

Land Frauds Promise to Involve Many High Officials There.

SECRET SERVICE MEN NOW AT WORK IN SEATTLE.

Work of Investigation is being Conducted With Great Secrecy, But the News Will Be Sprung Soon as the Chain of Evidence is Forged About the Guilty Parties—Federal Grand Jury Will Have Work to Do That Will Rival the Work of the Oregon Jury.

Seattle, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Six of the shrewdest agents of the United States secret service are now in Seattle at work on a big case of alleged violation of the federal laws, in timber land matters, involving some of the most prominent citizens of this city, including among them a United States official of prominence and high standing and a prominent local politician formerly an official of the state of Washington.

The work here is being conducted with the greatest secrecy, the utmost precaution being exercised by those having it in charge to prevent the nature of it from becoming public, thereby possibly interfering with the investigations and giving those who are involved an opportunity to cover up their tracks.

On account of the prominence of those involved the case is a highly sensational one, and should the effort to involve those who are being investigated finally reach the state of indictment by a federal grand jury the case will rival in widespread national interest the recently developed land fraud cases in Oregon.

GUARDING THE GAMES.

White Watchmen for Chinese Gambling dens.

Gambling is going on in Chinatown under the guard of hired white watchmen, many of whom are said to be former special policemen whose stars were taken away from them by Mayor Harry Lane, says the Oregon Daily Journal. A prominent Portlander, who is versed in the criminal doings of the city, said this morning that twice this week, while sauntering through Second street, he discovered games running in two different stores. It is charged that a large number of the former special policemen have formed a club and are guarding the Chinese gambling houses night and day. In some places the games run 24 hours of the day.
