ASSOCIATION NEEDS BUT 43 MORE APPLICATIONS.

Phenomenal Growth of Pendleton Commercial Association Outlasts Any Record in the Northwest—Salem Has But 163 Members, Lewiston But 300 at High Tide and La Grande But 200—Active Interest in All Features of the Association is Reviving.

Eighty applications for membership in the Commercial association are now with the secretary and 277 members are enrolled on the books, leaving but 43 more applications to be secured to reach the 400 mark set by the association for the next regular meeting which occurs Tuesday, November 7.

Applications have been pouring in since the mark of 400 was set, at the rate of from 10 to 15 per day, and it is thought that the 400 will be secured by Saturday evening, leaving Monday and Tuesday's applications to be for good measure over the mark.

Great interest is being taken by all the members in securing applications and a revival of interest in all the features of the association is now being enjoyed, as well as in the gymnasium features.

New interest is displayed in the library since it has been placed in new quarters and enlarged and it is evident that the association will take some active steps toward organizing a city park agitation, in the near future.

The record of this association is almost phenomenal compared to the growth of other associations in the country. The Lewiston association had but 200 members at its highest tide, the Greater Salem Commercial club has but 165 members, La Grande has but 200, although it enjoys an elegant club building devoted exclusively to the purposes of the association, and Baker City has but a small association, while Pendleton is close to the 400 mark and will reach it.

The gymnasium equipment in the Pendleton association is superior to any equipment in the state excepting possibly the Y. M. C. A. and the athletic association equipment in Portland.

BASKET BALL ORGANIZED.

Four Teams Selected for the Winter's Tournament.

In the gymnasium last night a basketball meeting was held, and four teams organized for the purpose of a tournament, which is to be held during the coming winter. A. P. Knight, Glenn Goodman, G. Marsh and W. Hoffman were chosen as the four captains, and they then proceeded to draw their teams by lot. The following is the line-up of the teams as selected:

- Team No. 1—Knight, captain; Stricklin, Alexander, Penland, Smythe, King and Milarkey.
- Team No. 2—Hoffman, captain; McDaniels, Renn, Folsom, French, Lambert and Sturgis.
- Team No. 3—Goodman, captain; Strand, Rupp, Harris, Baum, Thompson and Lambirth.
- Team No. 4—Marsh, captain; Boynton, Drake, Nissen, Raley, Storie and Hessian.

The teams will begin practice immediately, and it is expected that by the end of next week they will be in condition to take part in regular contests.

In training for the tournament each team will be under the direction of its captain, and it is expected that some good hard games will be played. It is the intention to have two games a week during the tournament, thus bringing each team into one game weekly. The games will be so arranged as to decide the championship.

Thomas Milarkey, jr., was chosen as manager of the association basketball team which it is proposed to organize later from the best players of the association. He will commence correspondence at once with other club teams, with which games may be arranged.

BOAT COMING TOMORROW.

Head Consul of the Woodmen of the World Will Arrive From La Grande on No. 1.

Head Consul I. L. Boak of the Woodmen of the World, will arrive from La Grande tomorrow on No. 1 and will remain in this city until after the public reception to be given in his honor at the First Christian church Saturday evening.

He will attend a monster meeting of Woodmen from surrounding towns at La Grande tonight.

His private secretary, A. Tuttle, of Denver, is now in this city, having come here last night to remain over two days and catch up with the enormous correspondence of the head consul's office. Mr. Tuttle travels with Head Consul Boak ordinarily, but occasionally it is necessary for the secretary to go ahead and do several days' work in answering correspondence and attending to the business of the office.

JOINT HEIR TO ESTATE.

Thirty-Seven People May Yet Share $60,000,000.

There is a possibility that a Pendleton woman may acquire property in the city of Baltimore that is worth millions. She is Mrs. C. L. Bowers, wife of the owner of the Telephone Stables, and she is one of 37 heirs to a tract of 100 acres said to be situated within the above city. The property is now valued at about $60,000,000.

The property was originally owned by Cable Hall, a pioneer resident of Baltimore, and the grandfather of Mrs. Bowers. In 1804 a 99-year lease was given to the land by the owner, it being the custom in those days to give such leases instead of actual deeds for the land. Numerous other cases similar to this one have existed, and in some cases the property has reverted back to the heirs. Whether or not such will occur in the Hall estate remains to be seen. However, efforts are being made by the 37 heirs to the estate to have their claims honored, and strong attorneys in the east have been retained in the case. The 99-year lease has now been expired for two years, and seemingly there is a good prospect for the heirs to prove their rights and secure the land, or else dispose of their claims for a valuable consideration. For some time past Mrs. Bowers has been communicating through Attorney C. H. Carter with parties in the east regarding the estate, but the exact status of the case is not definitely known at present.

According to Mr. Bowers an effort was made some 30 years ago to break the lease upon the land, but without success. However, at that time there seemed to be no question but that when the lease had expired the property would revert to the heirs of the original lessee.

FOOTBALL ON FRIDAY

WALLA WALLA IS AFTER A POSSIBLE RETRIEVE.

The Local Team Is Hopeful, But Takes Nothing for Granted, and Will Go Into the Game With the Intention of Making a Vigorous Fight—Line-up is Identical With the Last Game—Games Are Scheduled for Colfax, Baker City and Salem.

Tomorrow afternoon the cities of Walla Walla and Pendleton will struggle here for football supremacy, each place being represented by its high school eleven. From indications at present a close and interesting game will be played, for it is certain that the Walla Wallans will try to redeem the defeat which was administered to the Whitman college second team last Saturday.

During the past week the local boys have been trained faithfully by Coach Smythe, who has sought to remedy the defects that became apparent in the last game. Quicker action has been developed in the back field, and all members of the team have been coached to avoid fumbling, which was responsible for much loss last Saturday. With the additional practice and the experience of the last game, there is no reason why better ball cannot be played tomorrow than in the Whitman game. However, the local management is making no boasts on the outcome, but instead is making every effort to make the score favorable to Pendleton.

The line-up of the Pendleton team will be exactly as in the Whitman game, which was as follows: Stricklin, left end; Means, left tackle; Stanfield, left guard; Baker, center; Reeves, right guard; Scott, right tackle; H. Thompson, right end; Pierce, left half; Strand, right half; Turner, quarter back; Storie, full-back and captain. Substitutes, Goodman, Penland, Dickson, Gilbert, J. Thompson, A. Means, Creswell, Hoover, Johns and Cooley. There is a possibility that Means may not play, as a result of an injury received in the Whitman game, and in that event Reeves will be shifted to left tackle and Goodman put at right guard.

The Walla Walla team will arrive here on the morning train tomorrow, and the game will be called at 2:30 on the Matlock grounds. There will be no school tomorrow because of the teachers' institute, which will be in session.

The game tomorrow will be the last one on the local field before Thanksgiving, as the team will be playing away until that date. On November 11 they will play at Colfax, and on the 18th against Baker City high school at Baker. Then on Thanksgiving day they will play against Salem high school for the state high school championship.

GENERAL STORE BURNED AT HELIX

DAMAGE TO BUILDING AND STOCK $12,000.

Origin of Fire Not Known, Save That It Was First Seen in the Oil Room—Building and Stock Were Completely Lost—Hard Work and Much Water Saved the Adjacent Properties—Property Belonged to the Mosgrove Brothers of Athena—New Fire Company of Great Value.

Helix, Or., Nov. 2.—(Special to the East Oregonian).—Last night Mosgrove Brothers' store, known as the Athena Mercantile company, of this place, was totally destroyed by fire, and damage to the extent of about $12,000 incurred. Of this amount, $10,000 is the valuation placed upon the stock by Manager George Whitehead, while the other $2000 will cover the loss of the store building. The latter was a frame structure of one story and was 30x50 feet in dimension.

The fire started about 1 o'clock last night and originated in the oil room, though the exact cause is not known. It was under a strong headway before the fire company could get into action, and although heroic work was done it was impossible to save the building. Only by hard work could the other buildings adjoining and across the street be prevented from catching fire. The Helix postoffice is located almost opposite the site of the burned store, and was for a time in danger. Had it not been for the new gravity water system recently installed and the fire company that has been organized, it is said the fire would probably have reached serious proportions.

The store which was burned last night belonged to Mosgrove Brothers, of Athena. From what can be learned it is thought they had but $4000 insurance upon their stock, and as a result will lose heavily. Whether or not they will rebuild is not yet known.
