Will Paint the Court House.
 Refurbishing Will Greatly Improve its Appearance.
 Specifications are now being prepared by Architect Troutman for the painting of the court house, inside and out, and the contract for the work will probably be let on Saturday. The tower will be painted the same as the rest of the building.
 On the inside of the building all of the woodwork will be repainted or varnished. Consequently, when the work is completed the old court house will look like a very modern building, and will serve its purpose for many years to come.

THREE UNDER ARREST.

Names Will Not Be Divulged Except Through Federal Officials.

Says the Baker City Herald, in relation to the latest developments concerning the persistent robbing of mail boxes in that city:

It is expected that the United States marshal will be here in Baker City tomorrow or next day to take into custody the three persons arrested for stealing mail from the individual mail boxes in the Baker City postoffice. Inspector Leech, who was here for a few days to investigate the situation gathered the evidence and took it before the federal authorities at Portland while the three suspects were placed under a strict watch.

The details of the case are kept from the public until such time as the federal authorities shall act, but it is understood that three persons are under arrest and will be turned over to the authorities when they arrive in this city. Inspector Leech is expected to return within a few days to wind up the case. All of the officials deny that any arrests have been made.

But since the visit of Mr. Leech the robberies have ceased, or at least there has been no further report of the boxes being robbed.

It is also understood that the three persons suspected are believed to have been the tools of one man who operated the scheme and for that reason the authorities have kept the matter very quiet, believing that they could catch the principal but evidently he has escaped.

There is no blame attached to any of the postoffice officials on account of the robberies as the patrons have been warned to keep their mail boxes locked and when a combination was out of order to report to the postmaster at once.

TERRIFIC SANDSTORM.

Snake River Road Buried Under Mountains of Sand.

B. F. Simmons, the well known Snake river fruitgrower, was in Walla Walla today and reported a terrific sandstorm on Snake river Saturday night and Sunday, says the Walla Walla Statesman.

The Snake River Valley railroad was buried for nearly a mile under mountains of shifting sands which require the efforts of nearly 100 shovelers and teams to remove so that traffic over the road could be resumed.

Sunday the company was compelled to use the N. P. tracks to move trains. Most of the sand was removed last night and traffic over the road was resumed today. The storm was one of the severest occurring on the river in several years. Mr. Simmons says that very little snow fell on the Snake river bottoms, although the higher hills are well covered with the beautiful.

MOVING THE CORN CROP.

Railroads Will Handle 2,708,000,000 Bushels This Year.

The movement to market of the biggest corn crop that the country ever produced is getting well started, and for the next three or four months the railroads will be unable to furnish all the cars required for the purpose, says the Chicago Livestock World. The traffic managers are now meeting with demands from every direction for cars to haul corn to the central markets.

The government estimate of this year's crop is 2,708,000,000 bushels, which is 240,000,000 bushels in excess of the crop of 1904, and 185,000,000 bushels larger than the crop of 1902, which was the largest ever produced, prior to this year, according to the estimates of the agricultural department, though some of the big crops prior to 1900 were probably about equal to that of the present year. It is certain that they were greatly underestimated by the agricultural department.

Nearly All Will Close.
 Practically all business will be suspended in Pendleton tomorrow, as most of the stores have signified their intention of remaining closed all day.
