Perry Beagle, formerly a resident of this section, and who now lives in Idaho, was here last evening on his way to Portland to visit with his brother, William Beagle. While here he renewed acquaintance with A. W. Nye, Lot Livermore and other pioneers whom he knew in early days.

J. S. Mathews, the well known O. R. & N. foreman, is in the city from Weatherby today, a guest of his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Penland. He has just returned from Des Chutes, where he witnessed the successful operation of his water wheel, which has been making a test run there for some time. The wheel is a success in every way and he will begin the manufacture of them soon, perhaps at Pendleton.

BUSINESS IS RUSHING.

Things Are Bound to Move When Conditions Are Right.

If every one in this city who has no piano but who needs one, and has the money at our especially low terms to buy one, could fully realize the true facts in the case, our Pendleton store would be a perfect jam by 9 o'clock this morning with people, fairly crowding each other in their efforts to secure an instrument out of this splendid stock of fine pianos that we are forced to close out at prices to lose sight of cost altogether, and our sale would no doubt be ended by this morning.

Our reasons for making this sale, and conditions surrounding it, have been fully explained in previous advertisements. It will cost the reader nothing to investigate our honest claims, and if you ever expect to own a piano, now is the time to save from $50 to $200 on your purchase.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Current Literature club will give its annual evening, or banquet, on Tuesday evening at 7:30, at the home of Mrs. J. F. Robinson, on Jackson street.

The entertainment will be in keeping with the year's study, and will be a "Character party," the characters to be drawn from any period of our national history.

The Thursday Afternoon club will be entertained by Mrs. B. Huffman and Mrs. A. J. Owen on Thursday, January 18. The subject is to be, "Historic Homes and Romances in the Lives of Great Men."

The Shakespearean club will meet with Mrs. Lina Sturges, Monday, First and second scenes of "Julius Caesar" will be considered.

Thursday Afternoon Club.
"Folklore of Many Lands" was the subject for a charming club affair with Mrs. M. J. Lane, as hostess for the Thursday Afternoon club, Thursday.

The papers were unusually well prepared and the talks bright and entertaining.

Roll call was responded to with "Rhymes From Mother Goose and Their Origin," and were both amusing and interesting.

The following program was carried out.

"Egyptian Mythology," Mrs. T. C. Taylor.
"Mythology of the Persians," Mrs. M. Stillman.

"German Folklore," Mrs. James A. Fee.
Vocal solo—"Folk Songs," Mrs. J. Ross Dickson.

"Indian Myths," Mrs. C. F. Colesworth.
"Norse Mythology," Mrs. B. Huffman.

"British Folklore," Mrs. Lina Sturges.

In serving refreshments Mrs. Lane was assisted by Mrs. J. Ross Dickson, Mrs. Collier and Miss Lane. Besides the members a number of guests were present.

Current Literature Club.

A charming entertainment of this week was the "Washington Day" given by Mrs. Lee Moorhouse for the Current Literature club on Tuesday.

The Review Questions were on Washington's time and were selected with nice discrimination by Mrs. Dean Tatum. Besides the answers to these questions Mrs. H. C. Bickers read a paper on "Ell Whitney and the Cotton Gin." The program then followed:

Quotations on Washington—Club members.
Washington's Farewell Address—Mrs. E. C. Skiles.

Martha Washington—Mrs. J. F. Robinson.
Washington's Inaugural Procession—Mrs. George Clark.

Piano solo—Mrs. J. Owenhouse.
Reading—"Penelope's Christmas Band," Mrs. T. M. Starkweather.

Song—"America," club members.
The hostess had prepared dainty souvenir programs representing the "mythical" hatchet, upon which were written quotations on Washington, which were given in response at roll call.

Delicious refreshments, in keeping with the theme, were served. The rooms were artistically decorated in the natural colors and presented a pretty appearance.

The following guests were present: Mrs. Laura C. Davis, Mrs. B. Burroughs and Mrs. Joe Owenhouse.

Does anyone know why Walla Walla people won't buy cheap pianos?—A city of 20,000. Have the suckers all moved to Pendleton?

JESSE FAILING.

BOOK IS A WORK OF ART.

Weston Leader Speaks Kindly of Moorhouse Collection of Pictures.

The Weston Leader prints the following complimentary review of Major Moorhouse's collection of Indian photographs.

The Leader has been happily privileged to receive a copy of Major Lee Moorhouse's collection of Indian photographs. Major Moorhouse is a photographic artist of national renown, his studies of Indian life being justly regarded as possessing marked beauty and unusual strength. The work he has just issued is superb from any point of view, and nothing superior to it has ever before come to the Leader office—even the celebrated "War Book" issued by Collier's Weekly.

The title page is beautifully printed in gold panel work, with Moorhouse's most famous photograph, the Indian twins, done in colors. On an inside page the twins are shown doing a crying stunt with all the strength of their little lungs—one may almost hear them cry, in fact. The "Lonely Outpost of a Dying Race," second only to the twins; Tumwater falls, on the Columbia; Mt. Hood from Cloud Cap Inn; Chief Joseph; Wal-lu-lah, a pretty Indian maid, and Sac-a-jaw-wa might be mentioned as marvels of photographic beauty.

There are some pretty poems in the book by Eustace Cullman, Bert Huffman, Charles Eugene Banks and Momus, Jr., and some beautiful prose work by Fred Lockley and Cente June. This souvenir album is among the finest examples of artistic printing that the Leader has ever seen, and is highly creditable to the East Oregonian, from whose presses it has just been issued.

Worthy of a Good Home.

Have one very fancy, high grade piano, in beautiful figured case. It must be sold tomorrow. Its regular retail price is $550. It cost us $337, and is for sale at that price on easy payments, if desired.
