CIRCUIT COURT IS IN SESSION.

empaneled to try the case; L. C. Rothrock, Frank Carl, D. E. Cargill, Kenneth McRea, Frank Sloan, John Wyrick, S. H. Hopkins, E. E. LaHue, Thomas Thompson, D. M. Russell, J. W. Keen and William Brown.

The plaintiffs are represented by C. H. Carter, and the defendant by John McCourt.

The case, as stated by the attorneys to the jury, is a claim of $227.25 still unpaid for linoleum furnished for the Hotel State bar some time last year. The plaintiff claims that no part of the amount has ever been paid, and that the whole amount is past due and payable. The defense claims he never bought the linoleum, but that the same was purchased by Sam Roberts, who closed up for the benefit of his creditors and was succeeded by Mr. Cruise, who refused to assume the indebtedness as the price was not satisfactory, and claimed he ordered plaintiffs to take up the linoleum.

At the time suit was brought attachment proceedings were commenced, but to prevent his place of business being looked up Cruise gave a bond with William Roesch as surety and this is the purpose of the suit, to determine whether the defendant was responsible to Baker & Folsom for the payment of the amount.

Cruise was later closed up and is not present, but the bond being sufficient to protect the plaintiffs claim, the case is being tried on its merits today.

The balance of the jurors have been excused from further appearance until 9 a. m. Tuesday morning, the 16th.

Why Pay Rent?

Why rent a Piano and pay $60 or more a year for the use of the same when you can buy one worth $365 for $186 on payments of $10, yes, $8.00 a month, at the closing out sale of our Walla Walla stock. See Ellers Piano House, J. C. Gallagher, Mgr., before tomorrow night.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. BASKET BALL FRIDAY NIGHT.

Pendleton High School Team Will Take Scalps From La Grande the Second Time.

The second game of basket ball to be played between La Grande and Pendleton high school teams will be played at assembly hall in this city next Friday night, January 19.

The La Grande team was defeated by Pendleton in the former game by a score of 4 to 6 and the Pendleton girls hope to repeat the score at the coming game in this city.

Considerable interest is being taken in the game since the girls of both teams are in the best of practice and the two teams are evenly matched. The high school girls of this city are making preparations for the entertainment of the visitors, who will arrive on the westbound train on Friday morning and will return home on the early morning train Saturday.

Florence Roberts' Troupe Disbands.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 13.—John Cort, managing the tour of Florence Roberts, the Pacific coast favorite, who has been headed toward New York with "Ann Lamont," announced here today that the company would close at Vicksburg, Miss., tomorrow and go to Denver. He gave all members of the company notice that they were at liberty to leave the company although they had the option of going to Denver with Miss Roberts, where she will begin rehearsing a new play.

At Chicago Henry Wulff, former state treasurer of Illinois, and J. W. Loeb, have pleaded guilty to being engaged in a swindling scheme under the guise of the Continental Finance company. Sentence was deferred.

A SECOND EDITION

HEAVY DEMAND FOR MOORHOUSE COLLECTION.

Artistic Booklet Issued by Noted Photographer of Pendleton Finds Ready Sale All Over the Country—East Oregonian Will Issue Second Edition in the Near Future.

So great has been the demand for the Moorhouse collection of Indian photographs issued by the East Oregonian, that Major Moorhouse has decided to issue a second edition to meet the trade.

The second edition will be issued by the East Oregonian and will be enlarged and improved in many ways and will be placed on sale at all the leading book stores and agencies in the country.

The excellent photographs of Major Moorhouse's collection are rare and beautiful and as the public comes to understand more and more of the value of the collection, the demand will be more and more brisk. The pictures are historical in every way and the halftones from which the book is printed reproduce perfectly the photographs from which they are made.

It has been but a few weeks since the first edition was placed upon the market, and already orders from every quarter are reaching this city. Calls for the books have been received from prominent dealers in all the northwest cities and the private orders received by Major Moorhouse attest the worth of the collection.
