A BRANCH STABLE

A. C. RUBY SENDS FINE HORSES TO ONTARIO.

Stables Will Be Maintained There in Charge of Frank Schmidt—Nine Head of Imported Horses Sent From Pendleton to Ontario—Demand for Fine Stock Is Increasing in Malheur and Adjacent Counties.

So rapid is the increase in business that A. C. Ruby, the importer of fine horses with headquarters in this city, has been compelled to establish branch stables at Ontario, for the purpose of supplying the heavy trade from Malheur and adjoining counties.

This week Mr. Ruby shipped five head of horses from his stables in this city to Ontario, this shipment making nine head sent there recently for the branch stable. Frank Schmidt, an experienced horseman, who has been connected with the Ruby stables here, is in charge at the present.

The horses sent to Ontario this week include the following imported French Percherons and Belgian stallions: "Inventure," a black Percheron 4 years old; "Chalut," a black Percheron, 2 years old; "Gaulois," a black Percheron 2 years old; a roan Belgian 3 years old, and "Callaway King," a saddle stallion.

A shipment of 14 Kentucky jacks will be received by Mr. Ruby this week, a portion of the shipment to be left at Ontario.

SHEEP IN FRANCE.

Industry Is Highly Developed and Very Profitable.

The following interesting article on the sheep industry of France is from the American Sheepbreeder for February:

The sheep industry of France is quite extensively developed. The Merino in some form, is bred for wool, and the British mutton breeds and their crosses on Merino ewes are used for mutton. These crossed sheep generally show a strong inclination toward the Merino type, and in the opinion of the leading French farmers this quick reversion to the Merino type is due largely to the methods of feeding. When introduced into France, bred pure, and maintained in small flocks, with plenty of green feed and grain, the British breeds have done equally as well as in England, but under more adverse conditions they seem very soon to lose those characteristics which have won for them so much praise in the mother country.

In some parts of the country sheep are given rather scanty rations during the milder seasons of the year. Where there are no fences they are confined in sheds and yards during the growing season. Some farmers yard their sheep at night and herd them during the day. The French farmers, as a rule, do not grow many special crops for their sheep. Clover and alfalfa hay and straw are fed during the winter with grain or cake and roots when available. The spring, summer and fall rations consist of grass, forage crops, cabbage and roots.

During the breeding season the rams are allowed to run with the ewes and subside on the same rations, or they are confined in sheds, where the ewes are brought to them for breeding. The latter method prevails on the best sheep farms, especially those of the French government, where Rambouillet are bred. When rams stand for service they are fed clover or alfalfa hay, roots of cabbages and a liberal allowance of oats, bran and linseed cake.

On a large number of farms, especially those where Merinos are maintained, the ewes are bred during August or the early part of September, during which time they are confined to their sheds or yards. No special feeding is done. Later in the season when they are safe in lamb and the 300 first-class passengers and 150 second-class passengers. She is to be 400 feet long, 48 feet beam and 37 feet 2 inches in depth. She will have eight Scotch marine boilers and a triple expansion engine of 5000 indicated horse-power, and will be guaranteed to have a sea speed of 18 knots. She will be ready to go into service early in the summer of 1907.

In general appearance she will somewhat resemble the City of Puebla. She will be a great acquisition to the fleet of steamers now plying in the coast trade and will be heartily welcomed by the traveling public sailing between here and northern points. The news of the reported sale of the Pacific Coast Steamship company to Harriman caused much comment in shipping circles and along the waterfront yesterday. The matter was the subject of much general conversation, but no one in the city could be found who could state anything of an authoritative nature upon the subject.

TEXAS TO NORWAY.

Shipment of Cottonseed Meal Sent Direct to Europe.

Consul B. M. Rasmussen, of Stavanger, Norway, reports the arrival of a cargo of cottonseed meal direct from Galveston, which is the first direct shipment from the United States to the Norwegian port named. The consul says:

It gives me pleasure to report that a cargo of cottonseed meal has just arrived here from Galveston, Texas, which is the first direct shipload from the United States to Stavanger. It was only through persistent efforts on the part of the importer, with such assistance as this consulate was able to render him, that this has been accomplished.

The lack of direct transportation facilities and the high freight rates between this port and the United States was brought to my attention two years ago, and I suggested to the importers at that time that a cargo could undoubtedly be delivered here at a much lower rate than that exacted by the importing syndicates if one of the numerous steamers owned in Norway, and employed in the fruit-carrying trade of the United States could be chartered when returning home instead of sailing in ballast, as they frequently do.

Accordingly this was done, but the project was blocked at every turn by the importing syndicates at Hamburg and elsewhere. I may add that it was only after paying a commission on this cargo to the syndicate that direct shipment was permitted.

SIXTY CARS OF CEMENT.

Clearwater Bridge Required Over 2,000,000 Pounds of Material.

The extent of the material to be used in the railroad bridge now being built across the Clearwater at this point is shown in the fact that 2,400,000 pounds of cement, equal to 80 carloads or three solid trainloads, will enter into the construction of the piers, says the Lewiston Tribune.

To assure no delay in the delivery of the cement here, a shipment has been ordered by way of the N. P., while the boats are daily bringing cargoes from Riparia. About 6000 barrels have been ordered. The cement is imported from Belgium and is the best grade. The concrete work is being handled at the rate of about 100 yards a day and the measurement of the first pier is 1000 yards. The work on this pier is now well advanced and should be completed the present week.

MAY BE STOPPED AT POLLS.

Voters Known to Be Democrats Registering as Republicans.

Local politicians are discussing a new phase of the direct primary law which has been brought up by a man entering the clerk's office, announcing that he was a member of one party but was going to register as of the opposite faith in order to vote for a certain man, says the Baker City Herald.

This raised the question, and politicians who have investigated the law say that where such an occurrence is a fact the man so changing his political faith may be stopped from voting at the primaries. They say that the purpose of the law is to keep the democrats out of the republican ranks and the republicans out of the democratic ranks.

HOW HE STOPPED REFLECTIONS

Did it By Advertising in Col. Mann's Town Topics.

Assistant to Captain Holder.

Lieutenant Herman Steen, of Chicago, has arrived to assist Captain Holder, of the Salvation Army corps, in place of Lieutenant Kuhn, who has resigned to go to Portland. Lieutenant Steen is an experienced worker in Salvation Army circles and speaks several languages. The work in this city is being carried forward vigorously by Captain Holder and a large number of recruits have been added this winter. The local corps is now more active than it has ever been in this city.

Fractured Knee.

Miss Gay Campbell received a somewhat painful injury to her knee while playing "spin the plate" at a party last evening held at the Berkeley home on McKay creek. While playing the game Miss Campbell fell upon her knee, inflicting a slight fracture.

The body of Alfred Graessner has been found in Green lake, near Seattle. He disappeared December 1, and is supposed to have fallen in and drowned when drunk.

GENERAL NEWS.

By a collision on the Santa Fe near Glendora, Cal., nine persons were more or less seriously injured, but none fatally.

The first games of the Pacific Coast Baseball league will be played Saturday, April 7: Seattle will play San Francisco, at San Francisco; Oakland and Los Angeles, at Los Angeles, and Portland and Fresno, at Fresno.

The barns of John C. Godfrey, at Pennellville, N. Y., burned. Among the losses were 83 head of blooded and registered Holstein cattle. Godfrey is the greatest breeder and importer of Holstein cattle in America.

In hunting for the murderers of Michael Curvazola, a wealthy Italian at Danbury, Pa., the authorities are said to have uncovered evidence of a plot to assassinate Governor Pennypacker and many other public men, by anarchists.

John Freestone, an Iowa delegate to the United Mine Workers' convention at Indianapolis, has not been seen since he left Des Moines for the convention two weeks ago. He had several hundred dollars upon his person, and is believed to have been murdered.

John Pillsbury, who lives near Louisville, Ky., has been blind for years owing to a "total failure of the optic nerves of both eyes." Recently he engaged in a fight with a neighbor, whom he seized and was choking badly, when the latter seized an ink eraser and with it slashed Pillsbury's face in ribbons, nearly severing his nose and lips from his face. Pillsbury regained his sight immediately after the fight, though he nearly bled to death.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

E. A. Larson, the Danish vice consul at Portland, will erect a $25,000 shingle mill at Coquille, Ore., to have a capacity of 100,000 shingles per day, provided the town will furnish the site.

It is stated that the Moran Bros.' shipbuilding plant at Seattle, has been sold, and that because of the immense increase in value of the site now occupied, that it will be removed to some other point on the sound.

At Victoria, B. C., William Jameson, an old-time smuggler, went suddenly insane and started to run amuck with a shotgun. He shot at several persons without results, and was captured after badly chewing an other man's hand.

W. J. Taggart, a Portland fireman, had an eye cut from its socket by a whip lash wielded by L. D. Truman, a fireman team driver at the same station. Truman struck at a horse, and the result, so far as Taggart was concerned, was purely an accident.

The suit of the state against the Warner Valley Stock company, of Klamath county, now pending before the supreme court, is of more than ordinary importance. While there is only 4640 acres of land involved in the suit, the title to 78,991 acres will be determined by the result.

Captain Davidson, of the King David, declares the loss of the steamer and seven lives due to obsolete charts, forced upon him by peevish owners of the boat. Three seamen who survived—O'Flaherty, Hays and Gustafson—declare the disaster was due to drunkenness and incompetency on the part of Davidson.

Contagion Wiped Out.
