FRISCO FIRMS COLLECTING.

Their Necessities Will Tax Business in the Northwest.

The following message which was received by the Taylor Hardware company, is doubtless a forerunner of many others that will soon reach merchants in this section:

Oakland, Cal., April 21.

Taylor Hardware Company: If possible remit by express to Oakland all or portion your account. Send cash or currency. Need money.

PACIFIC STEEL & WIRE CO.

In reply the Taylor Hardware company at once shipped $1384 to the Frisco firm, although the account will not become due until May 15. The money was shipped through the First National Bank of this city, and the express charges were $4.85.

In the opinion of T. C. Taylor, the merchants of this section and the entire west will be called upon to promptly pay all accounts with San Francisco houses. As a large percentage of the jobbing business in the northwest is done with Frisco houses, this will require thousands of dollars. However, Mr. Taylor believes the payments should be made, and his firm has set the pace.

MAN FOUND DEAD NEAR THE CITY

SMALL WHITE MAN WHO IS NOT IDENTIFIED.

Indications Are That He Had Committed Suicide—An Elderly and Well Dressed Individual Who Had Apparently Been Dead Several Weeks—An Inquest Will Be Held This Afternoon—Body Lay Near the Charles Wilkins Place.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon the body of a dead man was found in the brush near the river just inside the reservation line above the city. From the appearance of the body the man had been dead several weeks. He was a white man, small in size and evidently well along in years. He had a white moustache and beard, and his hair was of the same color. He wore good clothes.

The body was discovered by Louis Anderson and Mr. Christopher, who live nearby. The spot where the body was found is near the Charles Wilkins place. Beside the body was a small bottle containing something white. It is presumed this is strychnine, and that the dead man came to his end through suicide.

TORE UP RAILROAD TRACK.

Irate Farmer Stops Trains on the Sumpter Valley Road.

A special from Baker City to the Oregon Daily Journal says:

C. M. Gardiner, a farmer and stock raiser, living 20 miles west of Baker City, this afternoon, acting under instructions from his attorney, assisted by 15 laborers, attacked with tools and tore up 80 rods of track belonging to the Sumpter Valley Railway company.

This track was laid over Gardiner's land and the valuable timber beyond some time ago, it is alleged by Gardiner, without his consent. He served notice for the company to vacate, but no attention was paid to the order. The track on his land extends one mile. A new shift is still tearing up the rails this evening.

Manager Barton of the company, stated tonight that he would have every man engaged in the work of devastation arrested. Civil process is looked for Monday. The damage to the company will be great as the track was thrown into the river and completely destroyed.

Oakland Pier, April 23, 1906. To J. P. O'Brien.

Portland: Having gone over the situation in San Francisco I am deeply impressed with the necessity of uninterrupted forwarding of foodstuff with which to feed the 200,000 homeless people. The situation is well organized, and the United States quartermaster department is receiving and distributing through its channels and through the various local relief associations, all supplies as fast as they arrive. But the fact should be made public in all quarters that it will require continued effort on the part of everyone to keep supplies coming. CONDITIONED UPON PAVING

SCHWARZ & GREULICH PLAN VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS.

Would Occupy One Hundred Foot Front on West Webb Now Owned by Them—A Portion of the New Structure Would Be Three Stories High and the Entire Packing Plant Would Be Greatly Enlarged: Provided the Streets Are to Be Paved.

Schwarz & Greulich are now planning extensive improvements on their property on Main and Webb streets, and if the streets are paved they will likely have the work done.

Speaking of their plans this morning Charles Greulich said his firm was considering the erection of a two-story brick in Webb street, where the Salvation Army now has quarters. Counting their present brick packing building the firm owns 100 feet on Webb street, and a building will be erected covering this entire lot, the present building being raised one story. The lower rooms will be arranged for store rooms, while it is planned to have a hall in the second story.

Also, Schwarz & Greulich and Mrs. Stangler, who own the half of the adjoining building on Main street, are planning to construct a three-story building on that property. According to Mr. Greulich the foundation is strong enough for a three-story building, and he believes the property justifies such a structure. Should this improvement be made, the present quarters of the meat market will be enlarged and the shop be even better equipped than at present.

"We have been figuring on these improvements for some time," declared Mr. Greulich this afternoon, "and if the streets are ordered paved we will go ahead with our plans. Just now we are waiting on the council's action regarding paving, because we want to find out if improvements are to be encouraged in Pendleton. The buildings we are figuring on will cost about $20,000.

As there is little work at present for the day force, no day deputy will be employed at present. However, a night deputy will be secured as soon as a desirable man appears.

STOP WORK ON RIVER BRIDGE.

Will Be Resumed When Water Has Subsided.

Says the Lewiston Teller:

All work on the Clearwater bridge for the construction of piers in the river has been stopped, and will not begin again until midsummer when the river is low. The crib for the cofferdam that was partially put in at pier 5 was taken out this morning and the ferry can now run, as the eddy created by the backwater has been obliterated.

A few piles will be driven at pier No. 7 and the concrete at the north abutment finished. The excavation at the north abutment is practically completed and the work of putting in concrete will begin within two days.

Speaking of the time yet required to complete the bridge Engineer Kettering said today that it would take two months to complete the piers and two months to lay the steel for the bridge, and that he hoped to get to work again in the river by the first of July.
