

IT PAYS

to buy Mennen's Borated Talcum Powder because of its perfection and purity. But it does not pay to buy Mennen's Powder merely as well, as it pays to use an imperfect and impure substitute which, costing about half the cost of Mennen's, yields the dealer double profit. The "just as good" with which some dealers try to palm off a substitute is true any way. If it's only "just as good" for the dealer why push the sale. If it's only "just as good" for the buyer why risk an unknown preparation for Mennen's. There's nothing just as good as Mennen's Borated Powder, and the dealer who says there is, risks his customer's skin and safety to make an extra profit on a sale. Have you tried Mennen's Violet Borated Talcum Toilet Powder? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Powder fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma Violets. For sale everywhere for 15 cents, or mailed postpaid on receipt of price by GERHARD MENNEN CO., Newark, N. J.

WALLULA LOTS SELL LOW.

Delinquent Tax Sale at Walla Walla Saturday.

Whole blocks for $10 and lots from $1 to $4.50 was the way Wallula real estate sold at the delinquent tax sale held at the court house by Treasurer P. B. Hawley, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, says the Walla Walla Statesman. What the crowd that attended the sale lacked in numbers it made up in determination to acquire some of the snags the county had on the bargain counter and nearly 170 lots and blocks of land were auctioned off in less than two hours.

A. H. Harris earned the sobriquet of the "Wallula Land King" by buying in about 125 separate parcels of the property offered for sale at an average price of $1.50 a lot. Mr. Harris acquired several choice blocks at prices ranging from $5 to $20.

Marmett Still Missing.

Another month has passed and no trace of Jack Marmett, although every effort is being made by his neighbors to get some trace of the missing man. A vigorous search of the ranch and surrounding gulches was made last week but without avail. A new theory has been advanced by some who are acquainted with the man's recent history. It is supposed that he has been murdered and his body hidden in a secluded spot. It is said that he had a quarrel with a person whose name is not revealed and that this may have something to do with his mysterious disappearance. It is believed that he could not have gone any great distance from the house, nor that he would have gone away and left the ranch in the condition in which it was found.—Long Creek Ranger.

THE WHEAT YIELD

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE SENDS OUT ESTIMATES.

Area in Winter Wheat in the United States on May 1 Was 29,623,000 Acres—This Is Six Per Cent Less Than the Area Reported Seceded Last Fall—Kansas and California Lose Heavily.

Figures from the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture, compiled from the correspondents and agents of the bureau, show the area under winter wheat remaining in cultivation on May 1 to have been about 29,623,000 acres.

This is 6 per cent or about 1,718,000 acres less than the area reported as sown last fall, and 1 per cent, or about 241,000 acres less than the area of winter wheat reported as harvested last year.

Nearly one-third of the loss this year, or about 570,000 acres, was in Kansas. In California the loss was 10 per cent, or 176,000 acres. Michigan lost 7 per cent, or 78,000 acres. The largest percentage of loss in area was 26 in Washington, 19 in Oregon, 11 in Wisconsin and 9 in Idaho.

But the combined loss in the three Pacific states, where the acreage in winter wheat is 2,272,000, was only 377,000 acres, representing a loss of 5,998,000 bushels from last month, and they have a promise of 39,495,000 bushels against 38,954,000 bushels harvested last year.

There is a loss in Kansas of 7,000,000 bushels from the April report, although the condition advanced two points last month; Michigan is off 2,000,000 bushels and lost four points. These decreases are due to the reduction in acreage.

The 13 winter wheat states have a crop of 378,699,000 bushels, or 22,828,000 bushels less than a month ago, and show a decrease in acreage of 1,221,000. Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and Oklahoma made gains of one to three points in April. The indicated crop for the country is 28,000,000 bushels more than harvested last year.

BERRY BOXES COST MORE.

Lumber Trust of the Coast Advances Prices of All Box Material.

The following notice of an advance in the prices of boxes and box material will interest strawberry growers of Umatilla county. The Oregon Daily Journal says:

The combine which is alleged by produce merchants to control the manufacture of boxes has advanced the price of the finished product from 18 to 25 per cent over the prices that maintained two months ago. The new prices have just been put into effect and the commission merchants on Front street and others who find it necessary to use boxes in their business are raising a protest. They declare that the advance is exorbitant and unwarranted. The average advance in the cost of boxes used by the commission merchants is about 25 per cent.

In a circular issued by the alleged combine announcing the boost in prices, it is explained that such an advance was made necessary by the increased cost of logs and labor. The commission merchants say they would like to combine to show them why spruce logs, from which boxes are manufactured, and labor have advanced 25 per cent.

VIGILANTES IN GRANT.

May Be Relied Upon to Accomplish What the Authorities Should.

The old days of the vigilante committee are being revived in Oregon, says the Long Creek Ranger. On Friday night of last week a party of men whose identity is not positively known visited a secluded spot near Kilbride, burned a cabin and posted a notice to the occupants of the land that a lynching would result if they did not leave the place within 48 hours.

For some time horses have been disappearing in northern Grant county and the persons who have been searching found a number of their animals in the section known as Paradise and made the raid. For some time strangers have been found in the ranchers' pastures and when a rancher would approach one of them the stranger would make every effort to keep at a distance. Some of the parties who are in this questionable business, it is stated, live in Grant county, and others are not known here.

BAKER WANTS PAVING.

Paving Companies Pay Expenses of City Investigating Committee.

Thorough investigation of both bitulthic and asphalt pavements, which have been laid in the different cities of the Pacific northwest, is to be made by a committee of three representing Baker before further action is taken in the matter of improving Front street, says a Baker City dispatch. The committee appointed by the mayor to make the investigation consists of N. C. Haskell, William Polman and C. C. Helmer. The expenses of the committee while making the investigation are to be borne equally by the Warren Construction company, manufacturers of the bitulthic pavement, and the Barber Asphalt company.

After investigating the relative merits of the two pavements in Boise, Walla Walla, Portland, and the sound cities, the committee will make a report in writing to the council which will then act upon the Front street improvement.

Thrown Out and Neck Broken. Bill Peugh, a sheepherder, was thrown out of the Opera saloon at Prineville Tuesday night while drunk, by John Dell, ex-city marshal of Prineville, and the following morning Peugh died. Dell is now held in the county jail charged with murder awaiting a hearing in the courts, it being alleged that he clubbed the victim, inflicting fatal injuries. Bill Peugh is said to have been 70 years of age, while Dell is also a gray-haired man and one of the most widely known residents of the county. Dell is a veteran of the civil war and 65 years old. A post mortem examination disclosed that Peugh's neck was nearly dislocated.—Prineville Review.

Electricity for Long Creek. Long Creek is going to have electric lights. The dynamo and the wire have already been ordered. Furthermore, Long Creek will have mechanical power for running a feed mill or a sawmill, or for any of the various needs of a town the size of this.

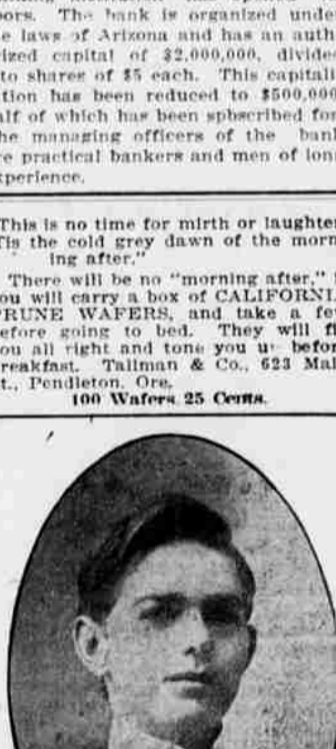

John Hughes has ordered a five-horse power gasoline engine and 2000 feet of covered wire with which he will install the electric light plant. The plant will be put on his residence property and Mr. Hughes intends to use the power for pumping water. He says that he can produce electricity cheaper than kerosene and that he believes the people of Long Creek will prefer the electric light. He will submit a proposition to the town council for lighting the streets.—Long Creek Ranger.
