THE BOODLER'S METHODS.

In the October number of Mc Clure's C. P. Connelly tells about Senator Whiteside's famous fight for the integrity of Montana and how he led in the exposure of Clark's bribery of the legislature.

Senator Whiteside is one of the most striking figures that has appeared in the narrative abounding in drauntic characters.

Do you know what a lard stomach"is?

Indigestion promptly follows the use of lard as lard is made from hog-fat, and is greasy and indigestible. Some future day, when people are wiser and healthier, lard, for edible purposes, will be scarcely used; but, until then, we suppose people will continue to suffer from "lard stomachs."

DAILY EAST OREGONIAN, PENDLETON, OREGON, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1996.

The most perfect shortening in the world is Cottolene. It is a pure vegetable product, containing only pure, refined cotton seed oil and choice selected beef suet. It will make your food palatable, digestible, nourishing and healthful, which is more than any one can truthfully say of lard.

Cottolene is a clean product. Only the most modern and hygienic methods are em-

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, ployed in its manufacture. Its purity is your surety. The quality of Cottolene is always uniform and dependable.

Every good grocer sells Cottolene; and those who use it themselves, recommend it. It comes only in sealed, white pails, with a red label and band. In the center of the label is our trade mark-a steer's head in a cotton plant wreath. Do not accept a substitute. Cottolene is the original and only improvement upon lard as a shortening. It has no satisfactory substitute-except on paper.

Use one-third less. Cottolene, being richer than lard or cooking butter, one-third less is required. It is, therefore, economical.

Ryder is also charged with using the headstones for walks about his farm yard. During the 1896 campaign, and later on another speaking trip through Ohio, Mr. Bryan stopped at Bears Den and endeavored to locate the graves of his parents. He said he wa spositive they were buried at that place, though he was unable to identify the exact graves. He intended to emove the bodies at some future date. The cemetery was abandoned some ears ago, and finally was disposed of at private sale, with the understand-ing, Mary Herron says, that the land was to be left sacred to the dead. Ryder later got the land and now proposes to make it raise wheat.
