IT IS SERIOUS. Some Pendleton People Fall to Realize the Seriousness. The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, The pains and aches of kidney hills Are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. A Pendleton citizen shows you how to avoid them.

F. J. Bacon, of 116 Stonewall Jackson street, Pendleton, Ore., says: "Whatever weight my name may carry in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, will, I trust, be the means of some other sufferer from kidney trouble finding the same gratifying results that I have from their use. Backache bothered me so that I could hardly move without sharp twinges of pain passing through me, and stooping or straightening up made my back feel as though it were breaking apart. The kidney secretions were unnatural and irregular. It took more than one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at the Pendleton Drug Co.'s store, to cure me, but I persisted in their use until I had taken six boxes, when not a symptom of the trouble remained. I have never heard anything but words of praise from anyone who has tried Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

One Man Killed. Another Wounded.

William C. Simmons, 25 years old, is in the Ada county jail charged with murder, as a result of a shooting affair in Highland valley, about 12 miles east of Boise, yesterday about noon. August Stanke was killed and Louis Jauring, his brother-in-law, was seriously wounded by Simmons during a neighborhood quarrel.

A feud has existed between Simmons and Jauring for a year or more. Several causes are assigned for the bad feeling, one of them being, according to Jauring's statement, Simmons' interference with his family affairs. The two men engaged in a bloody fight some months ago and it is said that the encounter, barely escaping with his life.

As to who was the aggressor in the encounter stories differ. According to the statement of Jauring, Simmons opened fire with his 44-caliber Winchester on Stanke. The latter carried a 38-caliber automatic revolver and he returned the fire, but failed to hit Simmons. After several shots had been exchanged Stanke was hit and dropped. Simmons then turned his gun on Jauring, who was not armed. Jauring says that he begged Simmons for mercy, but seeing that it was of no avail he retreated, but was brought down by a shot in the back.

Simmons' story of the affair is very different. He says that he started out Sunday morning for a hunt and that he came onto Stanke, Jauring and the Percys, while they were quarreling. He says that he saw Stanke draw his gun to shoot Walter Percy, so he fired the first shot. Then he says that Jauring started toward him, making threats and he fired twice, each time hitting Jauring.—Boise Capital News.

Killed by a Log.

John McKnight was instantly killed yesterday morning at the Page & Mott logging camp on Daggett creek. He was skidding logs down a steep incline when he slipped and fell in such a way that a heavy log rolled over him. He was 19 years old and came here last April with his brother. The two had been employed in the logging camp since that time. The remains were brought here and taken to Schreiber & Sidenfaden's undertaking parlors, where they were prepared for shipment, and sent out on the afternoon train to his former home at Elkins, North Carolina.—Boise Capital News.

Bridge Goes Out at Yakima.

At 11:30 this morning, while five men were standing on the Selah bridge which crosses the Naches river at its mouth just west of the Northern Pacific railroad bridge and north of the city, the structure went down with a crash. When the timbers began to crack the men started for the bank. By scrambling up the sides of the bank, clinging to rocks and brush, Ed Treat, Henry Loutz, Henry Manning and H. Mitchell, got off without being submerged. Frank Stever, however, was not so lucky. He was precipitated into the water and was carried down the river underneath the railroad bridge, where he was rescued.

The Selah bridge was one of the oldest in the country. It was a suspension bridge built of iron, and in the last few years has not been considered altogether safe.—Yakima Republic.

To Forestall a Coal Famine.

The Northern Pacific Railway company is now concentrating all its available forces east of the mountains in the making of repairs in the Yakima and Rocky Mountain divisions are at work between Toppenish and Cle Elum. One gang is working northward from Ellensburg and the other northward from Toppenish. The object of this is to reach the coal fields at Cle Elum and Roslyn.

The supply between here and Spokane is about exhausted and there is very little left to operate the construction engines with. No freight trains will be moved till the coal supply has been replenished. The coal at Toppenish is almost gone and there is but one car here belonging to the company. This is held in reserve for the local engines.—Yakima Republic.

Farmers Confiscated Coal.

The farmers of this vicinity confiscated a car of coal belonging to the O. R. & N. company here today. The car was set out here to be taken down the Connell branch for use at railroad depots along the line.

A number of farmers requested the agent to wire headquarters that unless the car was given to the Potlatch Lumber company here they would confiscate it.

At 1 o'clock no reply had been received, so they proceeded to load up their wagons, weighing the coal and tendering the price to the agent.

Many residents have not a pound of coal and are suffering.—La Crosse Clipper.

Progress of the Oxbow Project.

Manager and Promoter D. J. Winslow of the Oxbow tunnel power scheme left last night for La Grande on a short business trip. Before taking the O. R. & N. train he stated that he was going to negotiate for 17,000 poles, to be used in the construction of the transmission line and requires a double number of poles.

Work will begin on the big tunnel about February 1. In the meantime Mr. Winslow and associates will be very busy with preliminary work.—Baker City Democrat.
