CALIFORNIAN HAS JAPPHOBIA

Representative Hayes Goes East Breathing Racial Distrust Mingled With Fear.

PREDICTS WAR BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND JAPAN

Commercial Invasion as Serious as Armed Invasion—He Will Press to the Uttermost Anti-Japanese Propaganda in Congress—Japan and America Will Be at War as Soon as Both Are Prepared—Fulton and Bates of Oregon at White House.

Washington, Dec. 1.—With the declaration that the people of the Pacific coast believe Japan is endeavoring to gain supremacy of the Pacific and will not hesitate to make war upon the United States, Representative Hayes of California, has arrived determined to press the anti-Japanese propaganda. The entire California delegation is following his lead.

Hayes says there is no disposition on the part of California people to recede from their position. He says: "The depth of the feeling is not a matter of race prejudice. The people recognize the ideals of the Asiatic are different from those of ours. We are ready to fight for our homes if we must. Commercial invasion will not be accepted any more peacefully than armed invasion."

Hayes Cools Off Some. After submitting to an interview Hayes called at the White House and had a conference with the president which considerably altered his views. He said he would not press exclusion this season, as he did not wish to cause bloodshed. He declared, however, that war with Japan is inevitable and he expected it in 25 years.

Has Miller Talked Too Much? Washington, Dec. 1.—The state department has sent a clipping to Consul General Miller at Yokohama, now in San Francisco, which quotes him as saying Japan is ready for war with this country, and demanding an explanation.

Oregon Girls at the White House. Washington, Dec. 1.—Senator Fulton and Philip S. Bates, of Oregon, called at the White House this morning. Bates arranged with the president for a reception some day next spring for 33 of the prettiest girls in Oregon, who are coming to the Jamestown exposition to boom Oregon's resources. "Oregon has the largest apples in the world," said Senator Fulton, "and the sweetest peaches," said Bates.

TEDDY WASN'T AT SAN JUAN.

Retired Army Officer Says Roosevelt Did Not Lead Charge.

That President (then Colonel Roosevelt) did not lead the main charge up San Juan Hill as popularly supposed; that Colonel Roosevelt was away at Kettle Hill at the time of the charge; that he, Griggler General Noble, then acting major of the Tenth infantry, was senior officer in command of the historic charge; that there would be considerable disillusionment among the people of the United States if the facts of the campaign were known—such are the statements of Brigadier General C. H. Noble, retired commander of the forces at Fort Seward, Alaska, made this morning, says a Seattle dispatch. "Roosevelt did not lead that charge any more than you did," he said to his interviewer. "There has been a lot of foolish things written about that charge, but it was the Tenth who really captured San Juan. We did not see anything of Roosevelt."

Young said that Shea, national president of the teamsters, Hugh McGee, of the local teamsters, Robert Morean of the garment workers, J. McCarthy and the witness himself received the money. Each contributed 24 men who secured cash according to Young. The witness identified the 14 union teamsters who are defendants in this case.

PAID FOR ENTRYMEN IN DROVES

Defendants Claim Secret Service Men Intimidated Them.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 1.—Efforts made by the defendants in the land fraud cases this morning show that secret service men intimidated entrymen. The witnesses denied saying they did not intend to settle, but the defendants offered a lease at $50 per year and $300 when they proved up. They told them this leasing for grazing complied with the law demanding improvements.

Testimony showed the defendants paid the expenses of entrymen in droves to land offices.

NEW TIME CARD FOR O. R. & N.

GOES INTO EFFECT AT MIDNIGHT OF TONIGHT.

Radical Changes in the Printed Form or Arrangement—Most Important One Change Is for No. 1 on the Main Line; Next Important Is the Leaving Time of the Spokane Morning Passenger.

Tonight at midnight, time card No. 92, the latest schedule on the O. R. & N. system will go into effect and a number of important changes in the time of trains in this city will be made.

A radical change in the form of the time card has been made by the company, each division having a separate card for its use. Heretofore the Oregon and Washington divisions have been included in one card, making it inconvenient and confusing for new employees. Time card No. 92 is divided into two sections and Oregon employees will not be cumbered with the long list of trains on the Washington division and vice versa.

The most important change in the schedule is in the time of westbound train No. 1, which will arrive here at 11:05 a. m. instead of 8:50, as at present. Another change of importance is that of the leaving time of the Spokane train, which will be at 11:15 a. m. instead of 9 o'clock. The Walla Walla train arrives at 9:15 a. m., instead of 8:40, as at present.

Aside from these changes there will be little difference in the old and new schedules.

Following is the time of trains in Pendleton under the new schedule:

Westbound. No. 1, leave Pendleton 11:05 a. m. No. 5, leave Pendleton 12:15 a. m.

Eastbound. No. 2, leave Pendleton at 5:40 p. m. No. 6, leave Pendleton at 4:55 a. m. To Spokane and Walla Walla. No. 8, to Spokane, leave here 11:15 a. m.

No. 7, from Spokane, arrive here 5:35 p. m.

No. 45, from Walla Walla, arrive here 9:15 a. m.

No. 46, for Walla Walla, leave 5:50 p. m.

Killed 15 Geese.

Frost and Bowman, the well known gun store proprietors, have just returned from a goose hunt in the vicinity of Holdman, where they killed 15 monster geese. Some of the largest geese ever brought to the city were in the lot killed. Geese are plentiful in that section.

KENTUCKY MOB SEIZES TOWN AND BURNS TWO STEMMERIES

Factional War Between Tobacco Growers; One Sell on Opportunity, the Other Hold Product.

State Fire Marshal Has Gone to the Scene, and the Situation Is Very Grave—Property Destroyed Belonged to a New York Company—Under the State Riot Act the Insurance Companies Will Lose Nothing—Agents of the Italian Government in a Measure Responsible for the Origin of the Trouble—Trouble Has Been Brewing for the Past Two Years.

Princeton, Dec. 1.—A mob rode into town this morning, fired two tobacco stemmeries, and started a fire in another part of town. Loss, $100,000. The mob numbered 300. They seized the town marshal, disarmed him, looted the factories and stood guard permitting no one to approach until the buildings were entirely enveloped and help useless. One took charge of the telephone office and allowed no word to go out.

It is believed the incendiarism was the result of a bitter war waged for the past two years between growers who sell at any price, and an association formed to raise prices.

The stemmeries belonged to the so-called trust—the Imperial Tobacco company of New York, which controlled the stemmery of John G. Orr, which was burned. The others destroyed belonged to James Seger.

Loss $170,000. Louisville, Ky., Dec. 1.—State Fire Marshal Ayers has gone to Princeton to investigate the fires. Loss, $170,000.

Held Up Illinois Central Train. Evansville, Ind., Dec. 1.—An Illinois Central freight train arrived this morning and said masked riders held them at Princeton, Ky., while they burned the tobacco stemmeries, and fired a volley after them when released. They thought the entire town had been fired when the train pulled out.

Riot Clauses Apply. Louisville, Ky., Dec. 1.—It is understood the insurance companies looking on the tobacco fires at Princeton on account of the invasion or riot clauses; but C. N. Snyder, secretary of the State Underwriters' association, says the companies had canceled all

FRISCO FUEL SHORTAGE

Less Than 2000 Tons on Hand in Bay City.

The San Francisco Examiner says of the coal shortage there: "San Francisco is threatened with a shortage of coal. It is estimated there are less than 2000 tons of domestic coal in this city now. The Titanic is due here Monday from Victoria, with 5000 tons, but that is only a drop in the bucket. Shellah will make port next Thursday with 5000 tons, but by that time the 6000 tons of the Titanic will have been used. In other words the 10,000 or 12,000 tons of coal due here next week will last San Francisco about a week, and unless vessels begin to arrive in the port loaded with coal the people may be reduced to extremities."

Many importers, interviewed on the subject, confirmed the possibility of a shortage in fuel, but express the hope that something will occur to relieve the local situation. One dealer said that although the coal supply is very short, there is no danger of a famine, and that arrivals aggregating 20,000 tons are expected here shortly. An advance of $2 per ton by the retailer to the consumer was made recently.

GOVERNOR GOES EAST.

Oregon's Executive to Plead for Open Rivers.

The Oregon Daily Journal says of Governor Chamberlain's trip to Washington: "To do what he can toward freeing Oregon's waterways, Governor Chamberlain will leave tomorrow for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the meeting of the National Rivers and Harbors congress and will later attempt to hold conference with the rivers and harbors appropriation committee of congress and prove to both the extreme need of generous federal assistance toward the completion of works now under way in this section of the country."

Governor Chamberlain will, both before the congress and the committee, represent the state as a whole, not one section alone, and will urge especially before the rivers and harbors committee the vital necessity for adequate appropriations, to keep the work alive on different government projects at the mouth of the Columbia, at Celilo, along the Willamette, at

MAN FOUND DEAD FROM BLOW ON HEAD

From the effects of a blow on the head which he received at Umatilla last Friday an unknown man died at the poor farm this morning. Who he is or where he is from is as deep a mystery as though he had been without identity.

Last Friday the man was found at Umatilla by the marshal of that place. He had been hit over the head and was partly stunned from the effects of the blow. He refused to tell who he was, or who had hit him. On the following day he was brought to Pendleton for treatment. He was met at the depot by Sheriff Taylor who turned him over to Dr. W. G. Cole, county physician. While with the sheriff the man refused to tell his name, and for several days past he has been unable to talk.

In stature the deceased is small, and he is apparently about 35 years of age. He has auburn hair, a short stubby beard, small chin, large forehead and a rather large Roman nose.

In the absence of any information regarding the man's relatives he was buried this forenoon in the potter's field at Olney cemetery.

FORCE RAILROADS TO JOIN.

O. R. & N. and Northern Pacific Must Connect Tracks in Washington.

Walla Walla, Dec. 1.—Complaints in an action to be brought in the Franklin county court by the state to compel the O. R. & N. to make connections with the Northern Pacific railroad at Connell, in conformity with a recent order of the state railway commission, have been prepared by Assistant Attorney General Falkner and will probably be filed early next week.

The railroads were ordered to make track connections at Walla Walla, Connell, Ritzville and other points in eastern Washington, but refused on the grounds that the railway commission had no authority to issue such an order.

Connell is taken alone simply as a test case in order that the issues may not be confused. A writ of mandate will be asked for. By this procedure the state avoids the railway commission had no authority to issue such its constitutionality. The power of the state under the provision of the constitution will practically be the only question.

FOLSOM COTTAGE WAS DESTROYED

With it Burned the Household Effects of W. H. Harrison, Who Was in the House Shortly Previous—Fire Greatly Endangered Another Dwelling Nearby, Which Was Not Damaged, However—Building Valued at $1200.

By a fire which occurred about 3 o'clock last evening the home of W. H. Harrison, on Lillet street, between Alta and Court, was destroyed. How the blaze originated is not known. At the time Mr. Harrison was the only member of the family in town, his wife being on a visit in Texas. He had left the house shortly before and had come down town to eat supper.

The fire was discovered by neighbors and an alarm was given for hose company No. 4. It responded promptly, and though nothing could be done towards saving the burning structure, the firemen did good work in preventing the blaze from spreading to another house which closely adjoined the Harrison home. Only the charred frame of the burned house now remains.

The place that was burned belongs to William Folsom, ex-county recorder, and it was valued at about $1200. It was a one-story frame cottage. All of the furniture belonging to the Harrison family, was destroyed.

"Loud" Church Services.

Seattle, Dec. 1.—Thomas Junk, a minister on route to China, was arrested at a late hour last night by Patrolman Wright on a charge of conducting a boisterous house in the Church of the Apostolic Faith on Seventh avenue, between Pine and Olive streets. The leader of the church, Rev. Gurley, was arrested some time ago on a complaint made by a woman living near and on account of numerous complaints concerning the services held in the church.

WOOD SCARCE ON MOUNTAINS.

Large Force of Men and Teams Hauling Last of the Summer's Supply to the Railroad.

R. R. Collins, one of the pioneer wood dealers of Kamela, is in the city this afternoon on his way to visit his family at Freewater.

He says the supply of wood on the Blue mountains is very small and he doubts if it is sufficient to last Pendleton and Walla Walla until spring, even if it is all shipped out. A large force of men and teams is working at Meacham, Kamela and other wood points hauling wood from the timber to the railroad. The snow is about 10 inches deep at Kamela and sledging is very good and the wood men are hurrying their work to finish hauling while the snow lasts.

Mr. Collins has about 300 cords of wood in the timber near Kamela, which he will soon deliver at the railroad. There are now but 200 cords on the dump at that place. Cars are being loaded every day and the supply is vanishing rapidly.

FRATERNITIES MUST GO.

School Board of Chicago Will Abolish Student Societies.

The Chicago Record-Herald says of the school fraternity evil in that city: "The school board has directed the superintendent to enforce the existing rule against high school fraternities. The injunction that formerly tied its hands is no longer in force, and decisions in other states give ground for the belief that no such injunction will be permanently sustained by the courts."

The evils which result from these fraternities and their interference with school disciplines and school spirit have been sufficiently established. There remains in reality only the question as to how severe the measures should be which are taken for their suppression.

Unfortunately there is reason to doubt whether lenient measures or gradual steps are worth while. Too often the boys who belong to these societies regard their fraternity allegiance as higher than their school allegiance and break the pledges which they make to refrain from recruiting new members. The firm hand is the kindest in the end.

Vergennes, Vt., Dec. 1.—Four persons are known to be killed and several injured by a gravel train running into the rear end of a passenger train on the Rutland road this morning. The passenger train ignited and the flames added to the injuries. It is believed the bodies were cremated.
