JAP OFFICER IN PENDLETON

ANATI TONAKI INVESTIGATED 'FRISCO SCHOOLS.

University Professor of Tokio Passed Through to Washington After Performing a Mission for His Government in San Francisco—Found That No Japanese Had Been Excluded From Public Schools.

Anti Tonaki, a diminutive Japanese, no larger in stature than Jimmy Hackett, but an intellectual giant, who has been in San Francisco investigating the alleged discriminations against Japanese in the public schools of the Bay City, passed through Pendleton last evening on No. 2, for Washington, D. C., where he will attend a portion of the present session of congress, the guest of the Japanese minister.

Tonaki was sent out by the Japanese government to make a thorough investigation of the charges of rank discrimination against his people in San Francisco, and has been in that city for the past month prosecuting his work. In speaking of the matter to the East Oregonian, at the O. R. & N. depot last evening, he said that the abuses charged against the San Francisco school board had been largely overdrawn. In most cases the Japanese who had been denied admission to San Francisco schools were adults from 25 to 35 years of age who desired to secure an English education for business reasons.

He said he had found but few Japanese children of school age who had been denied admission, and believed that the matter would be amicably settled, without prejudice, between the United States and his government.

He says there are perhaps 800 Japanese children in San Francisco and suburbs. Many of these are children of Japanese gardeners, farmers, laborers, business men and tradesmen, most of whom pay taxes and own homes. Against these children there is no objection from the school board, but the trouble in the schools was caused by adult Japanese entering the schools where young white children in the first and second grades attended. Parents and teachers objected to the adult Japanese mingling with the young children, but do not object seriously to Japanese children of the same age attending these primary grades with white children.

Tonaki is an educated gentleman of excellent address, fine appearance and manner and speaks English with scarcely a trace of foreign accent. He is a professor in the Tokio university and has traveled extensively for the Japanese government in professional and educational capacities.

Seattle Horse Show.

Seattle is to hold a big horse show about the middle of December. Entries have closed with about 75 fine horses on the list, says the Rural Spirit. Every seat in the boxes has been sold and the management is thinking of enlarging the seating capacity. W. H. Dobson of Marlon, Iowa, who recently brought out a carload of fancy drivers, will be an exhibitor. We admire the Seattle spirit in doing things. They are the kind of people that would try to raise dry-land alfalfa on the Duwamish flat if it would benefit Seattle any. We wish them success in their undertaking—they are entitled to it and they are the kind of people who usually bring success to any undertaking.

ALBA NEWS NOTES

SUDDEN WINTER HARD ON THE RANGE STOCK.

Plenty of Dry Feed, But Stock Are Uneasy—Eight to Ten Inches of Snow, and Zero Weather—Confusion Among the Locators of Homesteads—H. T. Connell Has Sold His Ranch—Coyotes Have the Mange, and Are Rustling Chickens.

Alba, Dec. 2.—The past two weeks has been a continuous cold spell of winter weather, making it hard on stock, coming on so suddenly and stopping the green grass.

Although there is plenty of feed, the stock has hardly got reconciled to winter quarters yet, being uneasy and want to run around.

There is between eight and 10 inches of snow, and the thermometer has registered here in some places as low as 10 degrees below zero.

Cattle are all being fed, but there are a good many horses pawing and rustling yet.

It is reported that all government land west and south of this neighborhood has been annexed to the stock reserve, and that the rush of timber locators has been stopped by the withdrawal from entry of all timber in this locality. Also that a man cannot now take a homestead unless he can prove that it is arable land.

This report has caused some little excitement among those that are rushing for Uncle Sam's domain.

H. T. Connell, who has lived here for 25 years, has sold his ranch, but will remain here until spring.

E. G. Brehm, of Weston, is here looking after his stock interests.

Coyotes are getting so thick that they are putting most of the people out of the chicken business. It is also a fact that a large number of them are afflicted with the scab or mange, as they can be seen running around nearly naked for the want of hair. It is to be hoped that the cold snap will send many of them to their happy hunting grounds.

Big Sales of Morrow Sheep.

The sheep market is opening up unusually early. Not for years, if ever before, have buyers made purchases for spring delivery as early as November, but that is the case in Morrow county this month. John Fleming has bought between 30,000 and 40,000 lambs, paying an advance of $1 a head, or one-third of the purchase price, and is in the market for as large or larger number than he has already contracted for.

Mr. Fleming is buying for Rea brothers, of St. Paul, and these large purchases this early in the season by this well known firm is an indication that the sheep market is not liable to drop with the opening of spring. Three dollars is a big price for lambs, but that figure is more liable to be raised than lowered before the season is over. The outlook now is certainly very encouraging to the sheepmen.—Heppner Times.

Passed Examination Successfully.

James Donohue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. After the second bottle I showed improvement, and five bottles cured me completely. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney Cure cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. Koeppen's drug store.

Did Not Buy Townsite.

Rumor, having its source in known quarters, and for ulterior purposes, had it that the Fremont Power company had purchased the Sumpter townsite. Manager Thomsen yesterday said that there was nothing in it as his company was in the power business, and not handling real estate, politics or any other thing.—Sumpter American.

Danger in Asking Advice.

When you have a cough or cold do not ask some one what is good for it, as there is danger in taking some unknown preparation. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs, colds and prevents pneumonia. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Koeppen's drug store.

Collision on the Sumpter Branch.

On last Wednesday afternoon the Sumpter Valley freight train, making the return, collided with a logging train that was backing up while they were just about a mile and a half east of the summit. James Lamont, a tie-contractor, who was in the caboose of the freight train, was considerably bruised and scratched in the accident, but none of the trainmen were injured, most of them jumping. The freight engine plowed into a flat car and cut it in twain. The engine was damaged considerably and partially thrown off the track. Where the collision occurred there is a very abrupt curve. The train crew each claim that they had been advised by the dispatcher that they had a clear track.—Sumpter American.

AND NOW FOR Christmas

The greatest holiday of the year is approaching and will soon be upon us. The true Christmas feeling is never experienced except by those who follow the time honored custom of gift making. In anticipation of the many calls that are sure to be made upon us within the next three or four weeks we have had an extra shipment of high grade pianos, especially selected for the Christmas trade. This shipment comprises such celebrated makers as Steinway, Knabe, Everett, Packard, Estey, A. B. Chase, Fischer, Emerson and others. Come in and select your Christmas gift now while the stock is fresh, and if necessary we can put the instrument of your choice on the reserve list to await your future order.

A Piano is the most acceptable gift

You could purchase, when the usefulness and pleasure throughout the balance of the year are taken into consideration.

Don't make the mistake of paying big money for an ordinary instrument, when the same money will buy the best.

The Emerson piano-player is the union of the Emerson piano with the Angelus, which combines all the superior qualities of the Emerson and the Angelus, making this beyond question the finest combination of player ever offered to the public.
