UMATILLA COUNTY

Culinary Inquiry has a new feature for the following—beautiful interest and unique occurrence.

This year, the Umatilla Irrigation Project, which was formed from the interests of the people living in the Umatilla county, and more recently developed by the county attorneys of the state of Oregon, is now in full operation and is being accompanied by a giant undertaking in the form of a large municipal water system.

During the course of its development, the project received the hearty endorsement of thousands of citizens.

The project is being executed by a small group of people, but the interest it has generated is something extraordinary.

It is the aim of Umatilla County Cooperative to promote the interests of the people living in the county and to bring about an increased prosperity in the community.

THE EAST UMATILLA IRRIGATION PROJECT, REHABILITATION AND URBANIZATION

The East Umatilla Irrigation Project is located in the northeastern corner of Umatilla county, and covers an area of 10,000 acres, which will be reclaimed by means of extensive irrigation systems and other improvements.

The project is being administered by the East Umatilla Irrigation Project Board, which consists of five members, appointed by the Governor of Oregon.

The project is being financed by the sale of water rights and by the issuance of bonds.

The project will be completed during the year 1915, and it is expected that the water will be ready for use in 1916.

The project will be known as the East Umatilla Irrigation Project.

It is the aim of the project to support a large and prosperous community of farmers, and to make the area a model of successful farm production.
