IDAHO'S CORN CROP

KENDRICK FARMERS HAVE PROFITABLE YEAR.

Over 2000 Hogs and 500 Cattle Fattened on Home Raised Corn This Year—Over 2200 Acres in That Vicinity Devoted to Bean Crop—Corn Land Worth $30 More Per Acre Than Straight Wheat Land.

"Ten years ago the utilization of the Potlatch soil each year without the routine of summer fallow and wild oats was considered a perplexing problem," said U. S. G. Evans, the well known Kendrick resident to the Lewiston Tribune. "However, by careful experimenting and judicious cultivation of the soil in a few years it was no longer a problem and beans would grow in plentiful quantities.

"Some farmers went even farther and made experiments with corn cultivation. Small patches of from two to five acres were set aside as corn fields. The corn proved to be of a very inferior quality and many grew discouraged because it was thought the season was too short and the climatic conditions unfavorable. This almost put an end to corn culture.

"But there are always enterprising spirits and despite crop failures a few of these farmers continued the experiment. Their persistency has been rewarded with well paying crops. The close of the present year shows that 2000 acres of corn was planted, carefully cultivated and harvested, producing an average yield of 40 bushels per acre. This corn with a few exceptions, was and is being fed to stock.

"The Potlatch country, directly tributary to Kendrick, has shipped over 2000 head of hogs and 500 head of cattle, all of which were fattened with this corn. This stock has netted the feeder over 1 cent per pound for all his corn and fodder and for all roughage during the winter.

"While the Potlatch farmer is fattening his hogs for the market, he is also harvesting his beans, which have proved most profitable. The bean acreage was placed at 2200 acres for the present year, averaging 1100 pounds per acre, and at the present price of 2 3/4 cents per pound a handsome profit was made after the cost of taxes, living expenses, labor, etc., had been deducted.

"This proposition of raising a cultivated crop on the soil in place of permitting the ground to lay idle for a whole year is one of the great advantages to the Potlatch farmer. His soil is better cultivated, the weeds and wild oats are kept down and the following grain crop is much better than when the ground is summer fallowed. This corn and bean district is small, not being over 200 miles square in extent, and is peculiarly adapted to these two products.

"This same land is worth $20 and $30 more per acre than land upon which small grain alone can be raised. A Potlatch farmer does not have to miss one crop in a lifetime in order to summer fallow the ground. Nearly every farmer on the various ridges tributary to the Potlatch river raises corn and beans as a cultivated summer fallow crop instead of permitting the soil to lay idle and not produce anything for two-fifths of the time they farm the land."

FAMOUS OLD STOCKMAN DEAD.

At One Time Owned 200,000 Cattle in the Yakima Valley.

Benjamin E. Snipes, one of the pioneers of the northwest, died at 11:30 today at his home in Seattle, aged about 77 years, says the Yakima Republic. He had been ill but a short time, according to information received here. The funeral will be held from his former residence in Seattle at 2:30 Friday and the body shipped to The Dalles, Ore., for burial.

"Ben" Snipes, as he was known by every old-timer in both states of Oregon and Washington, was a familiar character in his day. He was the cattle king of the coast for a number of years and was wealthy, but through misfortunes of many kinds he lost his wealth and his title to the honor of "cattle king."

For years he had droves of cattle in the Yakima valley from one end of it to the other. While he never lived here he was in business here for years. He came along in the early seventies with his droves of cattle and pastured them on the hills that were then covered with bunchgrass. Thousands of head roamed the lower valleys in the winter months and in the summer they grazed on the slopes of the mountains.

He at one time owned, with his partners, over 200,000 head of stock. Henry H. Allen of this place being one of his partners. During one severe winter along about 1884, or thereabouts, a large number of his cattle perished. This was the most severe winter ever felt in Yakima. The thermometer went down to 46 below zero and many old settlers still talk about those memorable days. It is reported that more than one-half the cattle in the valley perished from the cold. Snow lay on the ground for months and those that did not freeze starved to death.

Snipes was a native of the state of Tennessee. He crossed the plains in about 1863 and settled at The Dalles, which was his home till he moved to Seattle in 1896. All his cattle operations were conducted from The Dalles. He opened a bank in Ellensburg and one at Roslyn about 20 years ago with a Mr. Abraham as manager. The banks broke in 1892 or 1893, and hundreds of people in Kittitas county were financially ruined thereby. This was the greatest financial crash of the period on account of the number of people affected. Mr. Allen of this place was closely associated with him in the cattle business and he lost heavily by Snipes' failure.

Mr. Snipes leaves a wife but no children. The only child, a son, Benjamin, was drowned on the founder-

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Book of Swamp-Root, pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

Stevens county, Wash., needs a new jail badly, the present accommodating but five prisoners.

The snowstorm of December 15 and 16 left eight inches of snow at Tekon, Wash., and surrounding country.

A Northern Pacific passenger train ran into a bunch of five horses in Yakima canyon, and all the animals were killed.

At Spokane Giovanni Marra was shot and killed by his cousin, Domenico Diprato. The latter was badly stabbed during the affray and may die. Both were drunk at the time of the fight.

At a depth of 200 feet in the new city well at Garfield, Wash., wood was encountered by the drill and several pieces of pine brought up in a good state of preservation. It was imbedded in dry sand just beneath 180 feet of rock.

At Wallace, L. L. Sweet, Ben Skonard, "Blackjack Charlie" and a Missoula man whose name was not learned, sat down at 2 p. m. to a poker game which lasted for 15 consecutive hours. At the end of that time Sweet was $6000 to the good and the game broke up.

At Portland on December 16, B. O. Case bowled a perfect score (300) and also set a new record for the city for three consecutive games. Two perfect scores have been rolled in Portland this season besides Case's. They were rolled by C. J. McMenomy and J. T. Hamilton.

KELLY TO RUN AT JAMESTOWN.

Oregon's Foot Racer Will Uphold the State's Honor in 1907.

The Olympic club of San Francisco, announces that it will send a team to the great track meet of the A. A. U. at the Jamestown exposition at Norfolk, Va., next year. That announcement will seriously affect college athletics in the northwest and the program of the University of Oregon in particular.

Since Bert Kerrigan launched the scheme to send an all-northwest team to the meet, many promising athletes from Utah and California have cast longing eyes toward the northwest. Albert Munn, the great all-around athlete of the Oakland high school, and Smith, the half-miler of Lick high school, San Francisco, were both on the string for the University of Oregon. They want to be trained by "Bill" Hayward, who brought Dan Kelly out, and they want a chance to compete for world's honors in the exposition.

Kelly and Suedigar Will Meet.
One of the most interesting features of the meet at Norfolk next year will be the races between Dan Kelly, of the University of Oregon, and Ollie Suedigar, of the University of California. With nothing in the world to base their criticism upon, Trainer Walter Christie and Suedigar have attacked the world's record of 9.3-5 for the 100-yard dash made by Kelly at Spokane this year until one might easily be led to believe they are jealous.

No Paid Fire Department.
Baker City will at present have no paid fire department, says the Baker City Herald. The protest of taxpayers and leading citizens against the expenditure of thousands of dollars upon a system of fire protection that would in no way reduce the rates of insurance, according to the estimates of those who have studied the situation, has resulted in declaring the whole affair off and the council this evening will wipe that extra mill and a half from its budget of taxation.

Long Tennessee Fight.
For 20 years W. L. Rawls, of Bella Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. Young Jacks for Sale.
E. F. Swaggart, of Heppner, is in the city from the Eastern Oregon Jack farm, with a number of excellent young jacks for sale and will remain for several days in order to place these animals before the stockmen of this vicinity. The jacks are well bred, young and acclimated to eastern Oregon and an excellent grade of mules may be raised from them. This is an excellent opportunity for stockmen to secure good young animals at reasonable prices. The quality, prices, terms and conditions are all satisfactory and the stock shows for itself. Stockmen are cordially invited to inspect the animals now in this city.
