"MUCK RAKE" IN LA GRANDE.

Municipality is Being Cleaned Out Morally.

La Grande is undergoing a municipal house cleaning almost as complete as the one carried on some time ago in St. Louis by Joe Folk, according to the statement of J. W. Knowles, an attorney of the Union county capital, who was in Portland yesterday on his way to Salem to argue a case before the Oregon supreme court, says the Oregon Daily Journal.

Two councilmen of La Grande are at present under indictment for an infringement of the county laws. The mayor was arrested a few days ago for violating the quarantine ordinances and the marshal was acquitted yesterday of a charge of using profane language while arresting a man for using profane language. Every one is happy over the marshal's vindication. Otherwise La Grande is quiet.

Mr. Knowles says the people of Union county want the choice of the voters ratified by the election of Bourne, and believe that with the latter and Fulton in the United States senate Oregon will have as able a representation in Washington as that of any other state.

SHEEP BUYER WILL RETURN.

John Towne Will Quitte the Business for Seattle Real Estate.

John Towne, the well known sheep buyer of Cut Bank, Mont., was in the city for a few hours yesterday morning. He was upon his way to Montana from Seattle, where he had passed several weeks lately.

"In our part of Montana we did not suffer much from the storm," he said, "because winds came up and blew the snow into drifts. As a result we had no trouble feeding, and letters I have received from my men show the losses to be light. But in the section around Miles City and near Glendive I understand the losses were terrible. The snow was deep and crusted before the big storm came on. On account of the crust it was impossible to clear the ground for feeding, even with snow plows, and the sheep died."

During the winter Mr. Towne has been speculating in Seattle real estate and thus far has met with good success. He says it is now his intention to dispose of his sheep next summer and try his fortune in Seattle, which he believes will be the most thriving city of the coast.

Owing to the uncertainty at this time, Mr. Towne says he does not care to contract sheep yet, but expects to return to Pendleton for that purpose in a month or six weeks.
