Near Lewiston, Idaho, Mrs. Albert Mizner, who is the mother of 10 children, the eldest only 14, attempted to beat her brains out by pounding her head with a conch shell. Her mind is affected from overwork. During the husband's absence at work she conceived the idea he had been killed.

Eleven hundred head of cattle are being cared for by the Northern Pacific at Ellensburg owing to the freight delay on their road. The cattle men and care takers are having the time of their lives caring for the stock, as each carload has to be unloaded, exercised, fed, watered and then placed back again to make room for the next batch.

ROADS OPPOSE COMMISSIONS

HARRIMAN FIGHTING IN OREGON AND NEVADA.

Legislatures of Two States Are Besieged With Railroad Lobbyists, Who Seek to Defeat Railroad Legislation—Effort in Nevada to Appoint Shippers by Minor Concessions.

The San Francisco Examiner in a recent issue, says of the railroad legislation issue in Oregon and Nevada:

Feeling confident that the legislature at Sacramento will not do it any harm, the Southern Pacific, through political agents, is watching, quietly and closely, certain combinations in the Oregon and Nevada legislatures, which it deems unfriendly and inimical. These agents were in town for two days. Having got their instructions, they are off to Salem and Carson to accomplish their respective jobs.

Harriman does not want the Oregon legislature to create a state railway commission and to pass a reciprocal demurrage law. Nor does he want the Nevada solons at Carson to create a state railway commission and reduce the maximum passenger and freight rates which are now respectively 10 cents a mile and 20 cents a ton per mile. The Hill people are lending him support in Oregon, where they have interests. Harrin has his men in Salem, assisting Hill's political emissaries. In Nevada, Harrin is going it alone, save for a little assistance the Brock syndicate of Philadelphia owner of the Tonopah-Goldfield railway, is giving his agent.

Would Prostrate Shippers. In Nevada, the Southern Pacific and Brock people have made a proposition to the leading shippers and gold mine owners to grant concessions to them and thus remove the cause of their present grievances, provided, all anti-railway legislation at Carson is shelved.

Strong pressure in this direction is being made and J. C. Stubbs has been called on to frame traffic and rate concessions that will enable the company and the Nevada shippers to meet on common and satisfactory ground. Stubbs is to have the proposition ready for submission early next week. It remains to be seen if the tactics will have the desired effect.

The fact that the Brock syndicate road is paying dividends on both its common and preferred stock, of 17 per cent annually, is one reason for the existing anti-railway feeling in that neck of the woods.

Neighbors Got Fooled.

"I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed; and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alive; but they got fooled, for thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It took just four one dollar bottles to completely cure the cough and restore me to good sound health," writes Mrs. Eva Uncapher, of Grovertown, Stark Co., Ind. This King of cough and cold cures, and bestler of throat and lungs, is guaranteed by Tallman & Co., druggists, 50c and $1.00 bottles. Trial bottle free.

LATERALS ARE PERMANENTLY ENJOINED

The remittitur of the decision of the supreme court in the case of Delgrave R. Atkinson vs. Washington Irrigation company has been received at the county clerk's office at Yakima, says the Republic of that place.

The supreme court upheld the decision of the lower court in issuing a permanent injunction against the Washington Irrigation company, prohibiting it from building or maintaining laterals across the plaintiff's land.

This decision is an important one for the people using water out of the Sunnyside canal, which was owned at the time the above suit was brought by the Washington Irrigation company, but which is now owned by the United States government.

The plaintiff owned and farmed land under the above named canal. Across his land the canal company had maintained laterals for the distribution of water to lands beyond that of Atkinson's. It is claimed by the latter that the company took up a large amount of his land and that, by having the flumes and laterals over his property he was compelled to maintain a number of small bridges across the same.

The company contended that as it had been using the laterals across the property for not less than 10 years, with undisputed right thereto, that its claim was established. As the laterals appeared to be a menace and a nuisance to Atkinson he went into the courts of the county and obtained an injunction preventing the canal company from using the same. This injunction was made permanent by the lower court and an appeal was taken to the supreme court with the result that the lower court was sustained.

The canal company, at the time the decision of the lower court was made, was given 30 days in which to commence condemnation proceedings for a right of way across the land of Atkinson, for the land that it claimed, but the company failed to take advantage of this decision of the court and later made the appeal. Now, the government owns the Sunnyside canal, and if it wants to use the above laterals across the Atkinson place it must go into court and commence condemnation proceedings and pay for the property used.
