NORTHWEST NEWS.

Nineteen acres adjoining Yakima has been sold in a body by W. L. Steinweg to Dr. Kane, for $13,000. It will be at once platted and sold off in town lots.

At Yakima, Tony Sebascio was held up by a footpad and robbed of $10. Although he did not resist the robber stabbed him in several places, though Sebascio was not seriously hurt.

Morris Williams, a 16-year-old boy, has been adjudged insane at Yakima and sent to the insane asylum. He had set fire to several buildings, one of which, his father's home, was destroyed.

A company has been organized at Union to erect and operate a new planing mill. Van Houten and Messenger, who were owners of the mill consumed by fire last fall, and E. O. Zeel, the sawmill man, are three of the promoters.

Clinton Rock, a farmer near Yakima, apparently well balanced and healthy, six weeks ago went suddenly insane and the constant care of his friends ever since has been necessary to keep him from suiciding. He has been sent to an asylum.

At Leed, Wash., 60 drunken Italians undertook to run the town. They started in by virtually mobbing the Hotel Lind. Citizens armed themselves and one Italian was shot and killed and 10 run in. The remainder escaped to their camps out of town.

The Southern Pacific company on April 1 convicted in the United States district court at Portland of violation of the federal safety appliance law. The company was charged with running cars into that city without all the necessary safety appliances.

Positive instructions have been issued by the Montana attorney general to enforce the new Griffen anti-gambling law throughout the state. It is the first time since the discovery of gold, in 1862, that nowhere in the state can a public game of faro, roulette, poker, dice, card games of all kinds and even slot machines be found.

For two weeks it was supposed there was not a case of smallpox at Wallace, Idaho, when three cases suddenly developed without any apparent reason. All were at once sent to isolation. The new cases are: S. Kelley, a Northern Pacific railroader; D. N. McCloud of the Hercules mill; Burke; H. G. McMullan, also of Burke.

LA FOLLETTE ON APRIL 15.
Wisconsin Senator Will Lecture Here This Month.

The Viroqua (Wis.) Censor says of Senator La Follette, who will lecture in this city on April 15:
During the three hours and twelve minutes Mr. La Follette spoke he held his auditors completely spell-pound. The Censor will attempt no review of this splendid speech. It is on all hands conceded that La Follette is a little giant intellectually and as an orator has not been equaled by any man who has ever visited this city. People were present from every section of the country. If La Follette ever visits Viroqua again it will be necessary to lease a quarter section of land to accommodate the crowd that will greet him.

PRISONERS LOOK WELL.

Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone "Getting Fat" on Idaho Grub.

The Boise Capital News of Monday says of the Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone case which will be tried in Boise on May 9:

The trial of W. D. Haywood, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, will begin in this city before Judge Wood Thursday morning, May 9, at 10 o'clock.

The spring term of district court for Ada county convened this morning with Judge Wood presiding. Although it was known that the Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone cases would be up and that the date of trial would be fixed there was no public interest shown. Outside of members of the bar there were but five or six persons in the court room.

It was after 11 o'clock—the docket having been called—when Judge Wood told the sheriff to bring the defendants, Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, into court. They were brought in from the county jail and were given seats among the attorneys at a table in front of the court. The men have each gained in weight and look 50 per cent better than they did upon their arrival here from Colorado. Moyer, who was quite feeble at that time, looks like he might tackle Jimmy Britt and not get the worst of a contest.

A VERY ATTRACTIVE SHOW.

Given by the Glassblowers, With Beautiful Novelties.

Lorow's glassblowers, who opened an engagement in the Matlock-Brownfield building last evening, gave a very creditable exhibition and one that was appreciated by a very large audience.

The lecture delivered on the blowing of glass, the solidity of water, the boiling of water by friction and the different uses and formations of glass, proved interesting as well as educational. Also the glass steam engine in motion, the old time Punch and Judy show and the moving pictures were attractive features, in connection with the glassblowing, which continued throughout the evening.

Academy Banquet This Week.

The annual banquet of Pendleton academy will be held on Friday evening, April 5, at the academy building. The students and faculty have made arrangements for a pleasant event. A number of toasts will be given and a musical and literary program will mark the pleasant features of the occasion.

High Priced Dairy Farm.

T. P. Fay & Co. have sold to the Stockholm Land Company for Louis Hendricks, the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 36, township 26, range 5, east, for $45,000, says the Seattle News. The tract includes forty acres and lies between Third and Eighth avenues northwest and between Eighty-nine and Ninety-third street. It was at one time used as a dairy farm and is well known as such.

MANCHURIA BECOMING A FLOUR MILLING CENTER

During a recent tour of northern Manchuria, Consul General Thomas Sammons, of Newchwang, found that the capacity of the 20 flour mills in that part of China had an output of upward of 55,000 pounds, or approximately 15,500 barrels per day. Mr. Sammons furnishes the following particulars of that flour trade:
At Harbin, where there were six large and six small flour mills, the output was estimated at 45,000 pounds (36 pounds to the pound) per day. This industry was established by Russian business men and is growing. It was found that the wheat crop surpasses that of the bean products in marketable value, and that as a result Chinese farmers were, in many instances, giving up the raising of beans and going into the wheat-producing business.
Cloth flour sacks are purchased by Manchurian flourmill operators in lots of from 50,000 to 100,000. The American cotton sack is used. These sacks are not, as a rule, printed in attractive colors, together with the name of the various brands, etc., as in this country. The brand and frequently the name of the miller is stamped on the sack by hand. Many of the mills are operated continuously by three shifts, each shift being on the basis of one Russian to four Chinamen.
The cost of wheat following the war ranged high, being 65 kopecks per pound, or about 1 gold cent per pound. The normal price was given as 50 kopecks per pound; total estimated cost per pound, 85 kopecks, 29 kopecks per pound being for labor. It was estimated that 65 per cent of wheat was saved in flour and that the balance sold for 50 per cent of the cost of the wheat—that is, at from 22 to 33 kopecks per pound. There was no waste. Everything is utilized. The wood used for fuel increasing steam power in the mills was considered excessively high, fuel being scarce.
The Russian mill hands were paid 60 and Chinese helpers 15 roubles per month, equivalent to approximately $30 and $9 gold. With two Russian and eight Chinese helpers to each eight-hour shift, one mill turned out in the neighborhood of 2600 pounds of 36 pounds each per day.

You Never Know the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Pendleton to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itches of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

Rudolph Martin, of 500 Mill street, Pendleton, Ore., says: "No one can realize the exasperating itching day and night arising from itching hemorrhoids, unless they have been in that condition, trying one remedy after another without getting relief. I finally got a box of Doan's Ointment at Pendleton Drug Co.'s store, and one application brought most grateful relief. Less than one box cured completely. The curative properties of Doan's Ointment are most wonderful."

GIRLS TO THE FAIR

FORTY OREGON LASSIES TO JAMESTOWN

J. C. Cooper of McMinnville, Organizing Company to Go to the Exposition—Girls Must Ride Horseback and Talk Esperanto.

With 40 brave and brawny Lascas astride their ponies, trailing gracefully looping lassoes on the ground or swaying them excitedly in midair, J. C. Cooper of McMinnville intends to go to the a'tra civilized east and win it by force, says the Oregon Sunday Journal.

Some of the finest specimens of young womanhood the state can furnish are being selected by him to represent Oregon and to demonstrate in person the powerful anodyne of her health giving air. They are to be taken to the Jamestown exposition and there will show by their prowess in drills their well developed muscles, their easy grace and their powers of endurance. And Mr. Cooper feels that no better advertisement can be accorded Oregon's salubrious atmosphere.

Girls' Requirements.

"I shall have only the finest specimens," he said, "and I will put them through such drills that they will be the sensation of the day. And I have had enough of army life myself and have been drilled under one of the finest German drill masters till I am confident that I can drill a company as well as anyone."

The girls have been selected with regard to general development; all must be able to sing, must be graceful and must be of uniform build.

The governor has agreed to commission all going with this company and the girls are to be enlisted in regular military fashion and given an honorable discharge at the end of the exposition period. They will be controlled by military regulations. Dr. William Horsefall of Marshfield will accompany them as physician for the company and Mrs. Horsefall as chaperon and musician. Professor J. Robinson, whose drill work is otherwise known here, will have charge of the musical end of the fancy drills.

Inquiries have already been received from many sources concerning the purpose of the expedition, and Major Woodruff, U. S. A., of New York, has written to know what they intend to advertise and offering his aid. An effort is being made to have the girls ride in their cowboy costumes before President Roosevelt.

Will Talk Esperanto.

The uniform which they will wear will be the accepted cow-girl dress, of buckskin colored cloth with leather fringes, cowboy hats with "Oregon" on the bands, gauntlet gloves, divided skirts, military boots and the full regalia.

"I am going to have them learn the new language, Esperanto," Mr. Cooper said, "and those that don't know any better than, will think they are talking Indian and those that do know better will think the west is up to date."

Bitten by a Spider.

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington of Esosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c. at Tullman & Co., druggists.
